1998 County And City Extra:

Atlanta Paradox David L. Sjoquist, 2000-05-25 Despite the rapid creation of jobs in the greater Atlanta region poverty in the city itself remains surprisingly high and Atlanta's economic boom has yet to play a significant role in narrowing the gap between the suburban rich and the city poor This book investigates the key factors underlying this paradox The authors show that the legacy of past residential segregation as well as the more recent phenomenon of urban sprawl both work against inner city blacks Many remain concentrated near traditional black neighborhoods south of the city center and face prohibitive commuting distances now that jobs have migrated to outlying northern suburbs The book also presents some promising signs Few whites still hold overt negative stereotypes of blacks and both whites and blacks would prefer to live in more integrated neighborhoods The emergence of a dynamic black middle class and the success of many black owned businesses in the area also give the authors reason to hope that racial inequality will not remain entrenched in a city where so much else has changed A Volume in the Multi City Study of Urban Inequality

Up in Here Mark Dostert, 2014-09-01 Raised in a comfortable Dallas suburb Mark Dostert crossed cultural and socioeconomic boundaries as a college student by volunteering as a counselor at the Cook County Juvenile Temporary Detention Center Chicago's infamous 500 cell juvenile jail known locally as the Audy Home Inmates there had been indicted on first degree murder rape and carjacking charges yet some enthusiastically met with him for weekly Bible based lessons and discussions Dostert formed friendly relationships with his students and envisioned becoming an even closer mentor to the legally troubled boys when he became an employee there after graduating from college The juveniles attitudes toward Dostert change however once he begins working as a Children's Attendant at the Audy Home clocking in for eight hours every day to enforce rules and maintain order on the cellblocks His colorblind altruistic volunteer world fractures into a full time emotionally charged reality of white and black and brown When the boys change he must change too Despite wanting to help them feel human in such a dehumanizing environment Dostert realizes he needs to make sure his kindness is not perceived as weakness Dostert learns to march the juveniles through the facility to school recreation activities and chapel He must strip search them interrupt their brawls root through their cells for drugs and handcrafted weapons and monitor group showers to thwart sexual extortion and the inscription of gang symbols in soap on walls and mirrors Week after week and month after month the job exposes hidden views not only of the juveniles and the system incarcerating them but of Children's Attendant Dostert himself From one man's struggle to reconcile his humanitarian intentions with his actual job responsibilities in what to him is a strange new world emerges a sincere effort to confront the realities of America's persisting racial tensions and institutionalized poverty Dostert's story is an honest and unflinching journey from thinking he has many of the answers for how to change this world to discovering how little he really knows about the world he is trying to change

De-Facing Power Clarissa Rile Hayward, 2000-09-14 A sophisticated new view of power as a network of social boundaries

Social Capital and Poor Communities Susan Saegert, J. Phillip

Thompson, Mark R. Warren, 2002-01-10 Neighborhood support groups have always played a key role in helping the poor survive but combating poverty requires more than simply meeting the needs of day to day subsistence Social Capital and Poor Communities shows the significant achievements that can be made through collective strategies which empower the poor to become active partners in revitalizing their neighborhoods Trust and cooperation among residents and local organizations such as churches small businesses and unions form the basis of social capital which provides access to resources that would otherwise be out of reach to poor families Social Capital and Poor Communities examines civic initiatives that have built affordable housing fostered small businesses promoted neighborhood safety and increased political participation At the core of each initiative lie local institutions church congregations parent teacher groups tenant associations and community improvement alliances The contributors explore how such groups build networks of leaders and followers and how the social power they cultivate can be successfully transferred from smaller goals to broader political advocacy For example community based groups often become platforms for leaders hoping to run for local office Church based groups and interfaith organizations can lobby for affordable housing job training programs and school improvement Social Capital and Poor Communities convincingly demonstrates why building social capital is so important in enabling the poor to seek greater access to financial resources and public services As the contributors make clear this task is neither automatic nor easy The book's frank discussions of both successes and failures illustrate the pitfalls conflicts of interest resistance from power elites and racial exclusion that can threaten even the most promising initiatives The impressive evidence in this volume offers valuable insights into how goal formation leadership and cooperation can be effectively cultivated resulting in a remarkable force for change and a rich public life even for those communities mired in seemingly hopeless poverty A Volume in the Ford Foundation Series on Asset Building Punishing the Poor Loïc

Wacquant, 2009-05-22 A sociologist explains how over the past two decades neoliberal societies have sought to control the poor through a combination of penal sanction and welfare supervision The Library Journal, 1999 Includes beginning Sept 15 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept May a special section School library journal ISSN 0000 0035 called Junior libraries 1954 May 1961 Also issued separately The Emergency Food Assistance Act of 1998 United States.
