2000 Everyday Hebrew Dialogues:

Dialogue Analysis 2000 Marina Bondi, Sorin Stati, 2011-08-30 The volume celebrates the tenth anniversary of the International Association for Dialogue Analysis in the year 2000 Part I discusses general methodological issues mostly within the framework of discourse and conversation analysis whereas Part II presents specific case studies The volume includes contributions that address both traditional areas of dialogue analysis such as politeness and more recent areas of interest such as argumentation or the analysis of dialogic interaction in specific contexts The Software Encyclopedia 2000

Bowker Editorial Staff, 2000-05 Bedouin Folktales from the North of Israel Yoel Shalom Perez, Judith Rosenhouse, 2022-09-06 Galilee has been a crossroads of cultures religions and languages for centuries as illustrated in these fascinating Bedouin folktales which offer excellent examples of the Arabic narrative tradition of the Middle East Bedouin Folktales from the North of Israel collects nearly 60 traditional folktales told mostly by women that have been carefully translated in the same colloquial style in which they were told These stories are grouped into themes of love and devotion ghouls and demons and animal stories The work also includes phonetic transcription and linguistic annotation Accompanying each folktale is a comprehensive ethnographic folkloristic and linguistic commentary placing the tales in context with details on Galilee Bedouin dialects and the tribes themselves A rich multifaceted collection Bedouin Folktales from the North of Israel is an invaluable resource for linguists folklorists anthropologists and any reader interested in a tradition of storytelling handed down through the centuries Gender, Religion and Education in a Chaotic Postmodern World Zehavit

Gross, Lynn Davies, Al-Khansaa Diab, 2012-12-04 The immense changes that the world is undergoing in terms of globalization and migration of peoples have had a profound effect on cultures and identities The question is whether this means shifts in religious identities for women and men in different contexts whether such shifts are seen as beneficial negative or insufficient or whether social change actually means new conservatism or even fundamentalisms Surrounding these questions is the role of education is in any change or new contradiction This unique book enhances an interdisciplinary discourse about the complex intersections between gender religion and education in the contemporary world Literature in the social sciences and humanities have expanded our understanding of women's involvement in almost every aspect of life yet the combined religious educational aspect is still an under studied and often under theorized field of research How people experience their religious identity in a new context or country is also a theme now needing more complex attention Questions of the body visibility and invisibility are receiving new treatments This book fills these gaps The book provides a strong comparative perspective with 15 countries or contexts represented The context of education and learning covers schools higher education non formal education religious institutions adult literacy curriculum and textbooks Overall the book reveals a great complexity and often contradiction in modern negotiations of religion and secularism by girls and boys women and men and a range of possibilities for change It provides a theoretical and practical resource for researchers religious and educational institutions policy makers and teachers psychoanalysis and psychotherapy address the phenomena of the psychoanalyst's personal life and psychology. In this edited book, each author describes pivotal childhood and adult life events and crises that have contributed to personality formation, personal and professional functioning, choices of theoretical positions and clinical technique. By expanding psychoanalytic study beyond clinical theory and technique to include a more careful examination of the psychoanalyst's life events and other subjective phenomena, readers will have an opportunity to focus on specific ways in which these events and crises affect the tenor of the therapist's presence in the consulting room and how these occurrences affect clinical choices. Chapters cover a broad range of topics including illness, adoption, sexual identity and experience, trauma, surviving the death of one's own analyst, working during 9/11, cross-cultural issues, growing up in a communist household, and other family dynamics. Throughout, Steven Kuchuck, ed., shows how contemporary psychoanalysis teaches that it is only by acknowledging the therapist's life experience and resulting psychological makeup that analysts can be most effective in helping their patients. However, to date, few articles and fewer books have been entirely devoted to this topic. Clinical Implications of the Psychoanalyst's Life Experience forges new ground in exploring these under-researched areas. It will be essential reading for practicing psychoanalysts, psychotherapists, psychologists, social workers, those working in other mental health fields, and graduate students alike. Religion, Race, Multiculturalism, and Everyday Life Christopher Williams, 2023-11-25

Religion, Race, Multiculturalism, and Everyday Life takes a spirited conceptualist look back into the history of our development. The book sets out to explore the ways in which a punditry of human equality continues to lock in unassailably assured logical postures enabled by the historically intertwined roles played by power and the passage of time towards the invention and sustenance of social truth. Religion, race, and multiculturalism have been written about many times and from a variety of academic discipline-specific perspectives. Nonetheless, these social issues remain ever relevant to any sincere bid to understand the inequalitarian aspects of modern society. Religion, Race, Multiculturalism, and Everyday Life was primarily written with serious students of philosophy, sociology, the humanities, and history in mind. The author contends that we should never be too afraid to explore contentious or difficult philosophical and social questions. A Companion to Food in the Ancient World John Wilkins, Robin Nadeau, 2015-06-29 A Companion to Food in the Ancient World presents a comprehensive overview of the cultural aspects relating to the production, preparation, and consumption of food and drink in antiquity. Provides an up-to-date overview of the study of food in the ancient world. Addresses all aspects of food production, distribution, preparation, and consumption during antiquity. Features original scholarship from some of the most influential North American and European specialists in Classical history, ancient history, and archaeology. Covers a wide geographical range from Britain to ancient Asia, including Egypt and Mesopotamia, Asia Minor, regions surrounding the Black Sea, and China. Considers the relationships of food in relation to ancient diet, nutrition, philosophy, gender, class, religion, and more.

Metalanguage in Interaction Yael Maschler, 2009 Metalanguage in Interaction is about the crystallization of metalanguage employed throughout interaction into the discourse markers which permeate talk Based on close analysis of naturally occurring Hebrew conversation it is a synchronic study of the grammaticization of discourse markers a phenomenon until now mostly studied from a diachronic perspective It constitutes the first monograph in the fields of Hebrew interactional linguistics and Hebrew discourse markers The book first presents what is unique to the present approach to discourse markers and gives them an operational definition Discourse markers are explored as a system illuminating their patterning in terms of function structure and the moments in interaction at which they are employed Next detailed analysis of four Hebrew discourse markers illuminates not only the functions and grammaticization patterns of these markers but also what they reveal about quintessential aspects of Israeli society identity and culture The conclusion discusses commonalities and differences in the grammaticization patterns of the four markers and relates the grammaticization of discourse markers from interaction to projectability in discourse

Gendering Modern Jewish Thought Andrea Dara Cooper, 2021-11-02 The idea of brotherhood has been an important philosophical concept for understanding community equality and justice In Gendering Modern Jewish Thought Andrea Dara Cooper offers a gendered reading that challenges the key figures of the all male fraternity of twentieth century Jewish philosophy to open up to the feminine Cooper offers a feminist lens which when applied to thinkers such as Franz Rosenzweig and Emmanuel Levinas reveals new ways of illuminating questions of relational ethics embodiment politics and positionality She shows that patriarchal kinship as models of erotic love brotherhood and paternity are not accidental in Jewish philosophy but serve as norms that have excluded women and non normative individuals Gendering Modern Jewish Thought suggests these fraternal models do real damage and must be brought to account in more broadly humanistic frameworks For Cooper a more responsible and ethical reading of Jewish philosophy comes forward when it is opened to the voices of mothers sisters and daughters

Multiple Alterities Elie Podeh, Samira Alayan, 2017-12-18 This book highlights and examines the role of the textbook in legitimising established political and social orders It analyses the way in which the other is presented in school textbooks focusing on a number of countries in the Middle East and North Africa MENA region and argues that the role of textbooks in developing and maintaining a national identity should be afforded greater critical attention Textbooks can help form national identities by developing a society's collective memory this might involve a historical narrative which may be self contradictory or even fabricated to a certain extent including myths symbols and collective memories that divide us from them and ultimately resulting a dichotomy between the Self and the Other As well as addressing a range of theoretical questions relating to the study of textbooks generally the volume also covers a broad spectrum of Middle Eastern states and societies with contributions from Turkey Iran Egypt Cyprus Lebanon Iraq Kurdistan Jordan Morocco Tunisia Israel and Palestine It will be essential reading for researchers and students working in the fields of Education Sociology and History particularly those with an interest in national identities in the MENA region
