200 Years Through 200 Stories A Tennessee Bicentennial Collection:

200 Years Through 200 Stories Anne Klebenow, 1996 This book published in commemoration of Tennessee's two hundred years of statehood brings together two hundred stories about the influential figures both the famous and the not so famous who have marched across the state's history This project began in 1986 when then Governor Lamar Alexander asked Alex Haley the celebrated author of Roots to produce a special volume for the state bicentennial at the University of Tennessee Although Haley died while the work was in progress the now completed book reflects his love of the human interest story as an effective way of capturing the drama and wonder of history Ranging from the frontier era through the late twentieth century and covering all parts of the state 200 Years through 200 Stories brings to life a host of colorful figures Nancy Ward Nan-yeh the Beloved Woman of the Cherokee who sought to promote harmony between her people and the early white settlers Davy Crockett the legendary frontiersman and political hero Confederate Captain Spencer Talley a participant in the bloody fighting at Stones River Hanson Caruthers a black slave who donned the Union blue and fought for his freedom Estes Kefauver the maverick U.S. senator who took on corporations organized crime and even President Truman and Alex Stewart a master Appalachian craftsman whose marvelous skills won him the Heritage Fellowship Award from the National Endowment for the Arts Their stories and those of the many others who fill this volume enable the reader to grasp the larger historical developments settlement and statehood Civil War and Reconstruction the rise of industry and technology that have shaped Tennessee's history and the lives of its people In addition to the two hundred stories focusing on individuals the book includes several overview essays that summarize pivotal events during the key phases of the state's history The result is a book that will delight anyone who loves Tennessee and its rich and varied heritage

James Robertson, Father of Tennessee and Founder of Nashville Bill Bays, 2013-12-12 This is the story of America's first western frontier when brave men and women crossed the Blue Ridge and Allegheny Mountains to find better lives for themselves and their families James Robertson led the first group of settlers over the mountains and founded the first white settlement in what would later become East Tennessee But they were not alone Centuries earlier the Cherokees came from the north conquered the local tribes and settled there In the year before the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776 British Indian agents began inciting the Cherokees Shawnees and other western tribes The frontiersmen mobilized their militias and eventually defeated the Cherokees Afterward James Robertson was appointed Indian Agent to keep the peace In 1779 Robertson entered into an agreement with Richard Henderson and John Donelson to settle the area around the French Lick which would later become Nashville After their arrival in 1780 Indian attacks soon commenced Using large scale attacks and small ambushes the protracted war against the settlers lasted for fifteen years Richard Henderson fled and John Donelson was killed James Robertsons determination and steadfast leadership was the glue that kept the infant settlement together George Washington appreciated Robertsons leadership and appointed him Brigadier General of the Western Militia Andrew Jacksons military training began as a private serving in General Robertsons militia Jackson learned well and years later replaced Robertson after his retirement Boone Clark Sevier Shelby Blount and Bledsoe were other western leaders who trusted James Robertson James Robertsons long military and civic career began before the American Revolution and ended after the Battle of Talladega during the War of 1812 He was a brave intelligent and patriotic leader who believed in Manifest Destiny and founded Nashville the nations westernmost settlement of that era

Across the Line Barry Jacobs,2022-11-01 In the 1960s college sports required more than athletic prowess from its African American players For many pioneering basketball players on 18 teams in the Atlantic and Southeastern conference playing ball meant braving sometimes menacing crowds during the tumultuous era of civil rights Perry Wallace feared he would be shot when he first stepped onto a court in his Vanderbilt uniform During one road game Georgia s Ronnie Hogue fended off a hostile crowd with a chair Craig Mobley had to flee the Clemson campus along with other black students C B Claiborne couldnt attend the Duke team banquet when it was held at an all white country club Wendell Hudson s mother cried with heartache when her son decided to play at the University of Alabama and Al Heartley locked himself in a campus dorm at North Carolina State for safety the night Martin Luther King Jr was assassinated Grounded in the civil rights struggles on campuses throughout the south the voices of players coaches opponents and fans reveal the long neglected story of race sports and social history Barry Jacobs has covered college basketball as well as news and other sports since 1976 for numerous publications among them the New York Times Washington Post GQ People Oceans the Saturday Evening Post and the Sporting News He is the author of four books including Coach K s Little Blue Book The World According to Dean and Three Paths to Glory For 14 years he wrote the Fan s Guide to ACC Basketball He also served as an elected county commissioner for 20 years and supervises Moorefields an historic site near Hillsborough NC

Two Continents, One Culture Elizabeth Hirschman,Stephen Brown,Pauline Maclaran,2006 This in depth analysis examines how and why Southern culture was forever changed when Scotch Irish immigrants flooded the Appalachian Mountains in the 1700s Geographical similarities between Southern Appalachia and the Highlands of Scotland and Ireland are discussed as well as the parallels and differences of the two cultures in four basic areas music and dance agricultural practices fighting and hunting techniques and technological innovativeness More than 300 years of the communities ideology is explored based on data culled from ethnographic observation interviews at various heritage sites historic accounts archived letters and other textual documentation
