The Browning of the New South Jennifer A. Jones, 2019-05-13 Studies of immigration to the United States have traditionally focused on a few key states and urban centers but recent shifts in nonwhite settlement mean that these studies no longer paint the whole picture Many Latino newcomers are flocking to places like the Southeast where typically few such immigrants have settled resulting in rapidly redrawn communities In this historic moment Jennifer Jones brings forth an ethnographic look at changing racial identities in one Southern city Winston Salem North Carolina This city turns out to be a natural experiment in race relations having quickly shifted in the past few decades from a neatly black and white community to a triracial one Jones tells the story of contemporary Winston Salem through the eyes of its new Latino residents revealing untold narratives of inclusion exclusion and interracial alliances The Browning of the New South reveals how one community's racial realignments mirror and anticipate the future of national politics
