Crafts Of China Crafts Of The World:

Crafts of China Michael Carter, 1977      Mapping the Chinese and Islamic Worlds Hyunhee Park, 2012-08-27 Long before Vasco da Gama rounded the Cape of Good Hope en route to India the peoples of Africa the Middle East and Asia engaged in vigorous cross cultural exchanges across the Indian Ocean This book focuses on the years 700 to 1500 a period when powerful dynasties governed both regions to document the relationship between the Islamic and Chinese worlds before the arrival of the Europeans Through a close analysis of the maps geographic accounts and travelogues compiled by both Chinese and Islamic writers the book traces the development of major contacts between people in China and the Islamic world and explores their interactions on matters as varied as diplomacy commerce mutual understanding world geography navigation shipbuilding and scientific exploration When the Mongols ruled both China and Iran in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries their geographic understanding of each other's society increased markedly This rich engaging and pioneering study offers glimpses into the worlds of Asian geographers and mapmakers whose accumulated wisdom underpinned the celebrated voyages of European explorers like Vasco da Gama      The Craft of a Chinese Commentator Rudolf G. Wagner, 2012-02-01 The Laozi has been translated into Western languages hundreds of times over the past two hundred years It has become the book of Chinese philosophy most widely appreciated for its philosophical depth and lyrical form Nevertheless very little attention has been paid to the way in which this book was read in China This book introduces the reader to a highly sophisticated Chinese way of reading this Taoist classic a way that differs greatly from the many translations of the Laozi available in the West The most famous among the Chinese commentators on the Laozi a man appreciated even by his opponents for the sheer brilliance of his analysis is Wang Bi 226-249 Born into a short period of intellectual ferment and freedom after the collapse of the Han dynasty this self-assured genius in the short twenty-three years of his life dashed off two of the most enduring works of Chinese philosophy a commentary on the Laozi and another on the Book of Changes By carefully reconstructing Wang Bi's Laozi text as well as his commentary this book explores Wang Bi's craft as a scholarly commentator who is also a philosopher in his own right By situating his work within the context of other competing commentaries and extracting their way of reading the Laozi this book shows how the Laozi has been approached in many different ways ranging from a philosophical underpinning for a particular theory of political rule to a guide to techniques of life prolongation Amidst his competitors however Wang Bi stands out through a literary and philosophical analysis of the Laozi that manages to use the Laozi to explain the Laozi rather than imposing an agenda on the text Through a critical adaptation of several hundred years of commentaries on the classics Wang Bi reaches a scholarly level in the art of understanding that is unmatched anywhere else in the world      Novel Craft Talia Schaffer, 2011-09-23 Domestic handicraft was an extraordinarily popular leisure activity in Victorian Britain especially amongst middle class women Craftswomen pasted shells onto boxes stitched fish scales onto silk scorched patterns into wood cast flower petals out of wax and made needlework portraits of the royal spaniels Yet despite its ubiquity little has been written about this curious hobby Providing a much needed history of this under studied phenomenon Talia Schaffer demonstrates the importance of domestic handicraft in Victorian literature and culture Novel Craft presents what Schaffer terms the craft paradigm a set of beliefs about representation production consumption value and beauty that were crucial to mid Victorian thought She uncovers how handicrafts expressed anxieties about modernity and offered an alternative to the conventional financial political and aesthetic ideas of the era Novel Craft reveals how this mindset evolves in four major Victorian novels Gaskell s Cranford Yonge s The Daisy Chain Dickens s Our Mutual Friend and Oliphant s Phoebe Junior Each chapter centers on a scene of craft production that expresses the novel s ideals and also interrogates the novel itself as a form of craft and each chapter highlights an influential craft genre paper crafts pressed flowers knitting and hair jewelry The book closes with a coda on the current resurgent crafts movement of Etsy com as a fresh version of a Victorian sensibility Featuring illustrations from two centuries of domestic handicraft Schaffer deftly combines cultural history and literary analyses to create a revealing portrait of a neglected part of nineteenth century life and highlights its continuing relevance in today s world of Martha Stewart women s magazine crafts and a rapidly expanding alt craft culture

Moll-Murata, 2025-10-01 This book full of quantitative evidence and limited circulation archives details manufacturing and the beginnings of industrialisation in China from 1644 to 1911 It thoroughly examines the interior organisation of public craft production and the complementary activities of the private sector It offers detailed knowledge of shipbuilding and printing Moreover it contributes to the research of labour history and the rise of capitalism in China through its examination of living conditions working conditions and wages Craft Production and Social Change in Northern China Anne P.

Underhill, 2012-12-06 This book offers an anthropological analysis of how craft production changed in relation to the development of complex societies in northern China It focuses on the production and use of food containers pottery and bronze vessels during the late prehistoric and early historic periods A major theme is how production and use of prestige vessels changed in relation to increase in degree of social inequality The research and writing of this book took place intermittently over a period of several years When I first outlined the book in 1994 I planned to offer a more limited and descriptive account of social change during the late prehistoric period In considering the human desire to display status with prestige goods my initial approach emphasized how the case of northern China was similar to other areas of the world I began to realize that in order to adequately explain how and why craft production changed in ancient China it was crucial to consider the belief systems that motivated production and use of food containers Similarly a striking characteristic of ancient China that I needed to include in the analysis was the preponderance of food containers rather than other goods that were buried with the deceased I decided to investigate the social and ritual uses of food beverages and containers during more than one period of Chinese history Some strong patterns could have emerged during the late prehistoric period

Becoming the World's Biggest Brewer Kenneth Bertrams, Julien Del Marmol, Sander Geerts, Eline Poelmans, 2020 Through first hand material originating from company and private archives as well as interviews with managers and key family actors this book presents a unique the history of Interbrew in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Critical Craft Clare M. Wilkinson-Weber, Alicia Ory DeNicola, 2020-05-26 From Oaxacan wood carvings to dessert kitchens in provincial France Critical Craft presents thirteen ethnographies which examine what defines and makes craft in a wide variety of practices from around the world Challenging the conventional understanding of craft as a survival a revival or something that resists capitalism the book turns instead to the designers DIY enthusiasts traditional artisans and technical programmers who consider their labor to be craft in order to comprehend how they make sense of it The authors ethnographic studies focus on the individuals and communities who claim a practice as their own bypassing the question of craft survival to ask how and why activities termed craft are mobilized and reproduced Moving beyond regional studies of heritage artisanship the authors suggest that ideas of craft are by definition part of a larger cosmopolitan dialogue of power and identity By paying careful attention to these sometimes conflicting voices this collection shows that there is great flexibility in terms of which activities are labelled craft In fact there are many related ideas of craft and these shape distinct engagements with materials people and the economy Case studies from countries including Mexico Nigeria India Taiwan the Philippines and France draw together evidence based on linguistics microsociology and participant observation to explore the shifting terrain on which those engaged in craft are operating What emerges is a fascinating picture which shows how claims about craft are an integral part of contemporary global change
