Creating Schools That Heal Real Life Solutions:

Creating Schools That Heal Lesley Koplow, 2015 Lesley Koplow's well-examined truths uncover an image of intimacy between teacher and child sorely needed in our schools. Her emotionally responsive teacher is the pivot for a classroom community that visibly supports and honors its members in the great variety of their lives. What stands in the way is the question Ms. Koplow courageously answers. Vivian Gussin Paley, author of In Mrs. Tulley's Room: A Childcare Portrait. In a world where children are beset by violence and stress, Lesley Koplow provides educators with clear, level-headed advice on how to construct therapeutic learning environments for all children. This is a book about integrating preventive mental health practice into public schools, preschool through grade 5. Koplow, a psychotherapist, discusses the mandate for violence prevention and offers an intervention framework for teachers, administrators, and school-based clinicians who want to improve the emotional climate in their school. This important and timely volume helps educators read the signs of distress or problematic social-emotional development as they are likely to manifest themselves in the school setting. Introduces a practice model that calls for strengthened teacher-child connections. Addresses in separate chapters the roles of the teacher, principal, and school-based clinician, providing guidance and effective strategies for each. Demonstrates that interventions can be done effectively by existing school personnel. Describes a project to facilitate teacher gathering of psycho-social history that can be used to inform constructive curricular practice. Poses compelling questions for policymakers, including concerns about the effect that the current focus on standards and test scores is having on the emotional tone of schools. Includes a chapter addressing what we've learned from the recent tragic events of September 11th in New York City. Emotionally Responsive Practice Lesley Koplow, 2021 In her new book, Lesley Koplow explores the Emotionally Responsive Practice (ERP) approach designed to support children and teachers' emotional well-being in the public school setting. ERP encourages school staff to look at children through the lens of child development as well as through the lens of their life experiences in order to help them resolve foundational social and emotional milestones. Unlike many SEL programs, ERP asks adults to consider the ways that educational philosophy and school climate impact emotional, social, and cognitive outcomes for young children. This timely resource offers teachers, school leaders, and school-based clinicians a vision and blueprint for engaging in relationship-based, trauma-informed practice in early childhood and elementary school grades. Developing Quality Care for Young Children Nettie Becker, Paul Becker, 2009 Ask yourself the questions posed in this book: whether you are searching for child care or wondering why our smallest and most important citizens don't have more quality early education programs available in a more equitable manner. This is a great teacher's guide for those entering the field and a great staff development idea for ECE centers. Denise Humphries, Preschool Principal, John F. Kennedy American School, Queretaro, Mexico. I cannot think of anything pertaining to high-quality child care programs that isn't covered in this book. The organization is clear, consistent, and easy to follow. Diane Salverson, Inclusion Specialist, Early Childhood Direction Center, Buffalo, NY. A guide to creating and sustaining a high quality successful early child care program With most families today needing at least two sources of income there is a critical need for quality affordable child care throughout our country This book discusses the qualities of an effective early child care program and the need to provide children with experiences that will prepare them for future emotional social and academic success By examining high quality early care within a real life setting this resource illustrates how to build a successful program handle the inevitable challenges and achieve and sustain positive results Using their experience in child development and child therapy the authors demonstrate how to Create environments that foster healthy relationships for children and adults Build on children s sense of wonder and joy for learning in preparation for later academic experiences Use families ethnic and cultural diversity as a teaching tool Maintain professional standards for administration and staff Developing Quality Care for Young Children is invaluable not only for early childhood educators administrators and trainers but also for anyone striving to make a difference in the lives of our youngest learners

Emotionally Responsive Teaching Travis Wright,2023 Learn how to navigate the challenging terrain of connecting with a child who is deeply afraid angry and or sad Framing this work as emotionally responsive teaching ERT this book expands current conceptualizations of trauma informed practice to encompass more broadly the relational demands of supporting young children with challenging life circumstances The author accomplishes this by 1 arguing that predominant discussions of trauma fail to consider the ways that traumatic responses may facilitate both risk and resilience in children s lives 2 describing the impact of traumatic experiences and exposure to chronic stress on children s development 3 articulating a framework for ERT and 4 providing readers with applied strategies for practicing ERT in their classrooms Throughout readers are encouraged to transform the systems of oppression that are being manifested through children s struggles in the classroom Book Features Provides models that guide teachers through the nuanced and sometimes overwhelming interactions they may have with children experiencing trauma Shares the author s own challenges and triumphs through case studies of pre K 3rd grade classrooms to illustrate the process of emotionally responsive teaching Builds on research from the fields of education psychology and counseling Integrates current work on trauma informed practice with the paradigm of culturally responsive pedagogy by framing trauma as often rooted in systems of inequity and oppression Squandering America's Future Susan Ochshorn,2015-07 Nothing provided Because Teaching Matters Marleen C.
