Creating The Cold War University The Transformation Of Stanford Hardcover:

Creating the Cold War University Rebecca S. Lowen, 1997-07-01 The cold war university is the academic component of the military industrial academic complex and its archetype according to Rebecca Lowen is Stanford University Her book challenges the conventional wisdom that the post World War II multiversity was created by military patrons on the one hand and academic scientists on the other and points instead to the crucial role played by university administrators in making their universities dependent upon military foundation and industrial patronage Contesting the view that the federal grant university originated with the outpouring of federal support for science after the war Lowen shows how the Depression had put financial pressure on universities and pushed administrators to seek new modes of funding She also details the ways that Stanford administrators transformed their institution to attract patronage With the end of the cold war and the tightening of federal budgets universities again face pressures not unlike those of the 1930s Lowen's analysis of how the university became dependent on the State is essential reading for anyone concerned about the future of higher education in the post cold war era Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1997-05 Program of the ... Annual Meeting Organization of American Historians. Meeting, 1997 War as Experience Christine Sylvester, 2013 This book is a major new contribution to our understanding of war and international relations IR Divided into two sections the first part surveys the state of war and war studies in international relations security studies and in feminist international relations The second part addresses a missing area of IR studies of war that feminism is well placed to fill in the emotional and physical aspects of war The author examines a wide variety of conflict situations such as the Israel Palestine dispute the Cold War Vietnam Nicaragua wars of liberation in Africa genocidal war in Rwanda humanitarian interventionist war in the Balkans the recent wars in Afghanistan and Iraq and the war on terror Drawing on the latest feminist thinking the author demonstrates how war is experienced as a body based politics and in so doing provides an innovative and challenging corrective to traditional theories of war in international relations This will be essential reading for all those with an interest in gender war and international relations

Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1997 Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1997-05 The German Question and the Origins of the Cold War Nicolas Lewkowicz, 2008 The book analyses the role of the German Question in the origins of the Cold War The work evaluates the transformation which occurred in Germany and the post war international order due to the inter Allied work on denazification The author analyses the Rationalist aspects of superpower interaction with particular emphasis on the legal and diplomatic framework which sustained not only the treatment of the German Question but also the general context of inter Allied relations The author also tackles the conflictual aspects of the treatment of the German Question by examining superpower interaction in relation to the enforcement of their structural interests The main argument of the book is that due to the interaction between the elements of intervention and coexistence the German Question constituted the most significant issue in the configuration of the post war international order Southeast European

Studies in a Globalizing World Christian Promitzer, Siegfried Gruber, Harald Heppner, 2014 Since the early 1990s Southeast European studies have undergone profound changes being shaped by the wars of Yugoslav succession and the ramifications of post socialism coupled with democratic deficiencies which characterize most of Southeast Europe The countries which it encompasses rest uneasily on the periphery of the developed variant of Western capitalism but they have nonetheless to contend with the challenges of adjusting to a market economy The imprint of these contexts on academic research has led to a discussion of the role of Southeast European studies It is the task of this volume to summarize and raise awareness of this discussion Series Studies on South East Europe Vol 16 Subject European Studies Sociology Politics
