Creating And Dominating New Markets:

Essentials of Strategy, 2006 The Business Literacy for HR Professionals series developed in cooperation with the Society for Human Resource Management helps HR professionals do exactly that Covering essential areas such as negotiation decision making change management finance and more these highly practical books help HR professionals in their goal to be true strategic partners who bring additional bottom line value to their organizations In an age of stiffening competition everyone in an organization must develop a strategic mind set by understanding the company s competitive strategy and helping the firm execute it This essential resource offers guidelines for creating the HR initiatives policies and departmental structures that ensure success Publisher s website Fast Second Constantinos C. Markides, Paul A. Geroski, 2004-09-24 Discover why being a fast second is often more financially rewarding than being at the cutting edge If you get there first you ll lead the pack right Not necessarily The skill sets of most established companies say strategy experts Constantinos Markides and Paul Geroski are far better suited to scaling up newly created markets pioneered by others in other words being fast seconds than to creating these markets from scratch In Fast Second they explore the characteristics of new markets describe the skills needed to create and compete in them and show how these skills match up with different types of companies Drawing on examples of successful fast second firms such as Microsoft Amazon Canon JVC Heinz and many others they illustrate how to determine which new markets have the potential to be successful and how to move into them before the competition does when to make a move into a new market how to scale up a market where to position a company in the market and whether to be a colonizer or a consolidator Order your copy today Category Creation Anthony Kennada, 2019-10-15 Lessons from HubSpot Salesforce Gainsight and Other Iconic Brands The Uber of this The Salesforce of that It s like Instagram but for There is no such thing as an original idea anymore right Actually it turns out that the world s most innovative companies have created so much more than just brand new products and technology They ve created entirely new market categories The challenge is that successfully building new categories requires a perfect storm of luck and timing Or does it Category Creation is the first and only book on the topic written by executives and marketers actively building new categories It explains how category creation has become the Holy Grail of marketing and more importantly how it can be planned and orchestrated It s not about luck You can use the same tactics that other category defining companies have used to delight customers employees and investors There s no better strategy that results in faster growth and higher valuations for the company on top Author Anthony Kennada former Chief Marketing Officer at Gainsight explains how he led Gainsight in creating the customer success category and shares success stories from fellow category creators like Salesforce HubSpot and others It requires much more than just having the best product You have to start and grow a conversation that doesn t yet exist positioning a newly discovered problem in addition to your company and product offerings The book explains the 7 key principles of category creation including the importance of creating a community of early adopters who will rally around the problem they all share especially if someone will lead them Identify the go and no go signals for category creation in your business Activate customers and influencers as brand ambassadors Grow a community by investing in live events and experiences Prove the impact of category creation investments on growth customer success and company culture Written for entrepreneurs marketers and executives from startups to large enterprises Category Creation is the exclusive playbook for building a category defining brand in the modern economy

Capitalizing Your Technology to Disrupt and Dominate Your Markets Aviv

Ben-Yosef,2023-06-21 Every business today has some technology as part of its strategy Inevitably it is becoming harder for many CEOs to effectively lead their R D efforts at the same time that their investment in tech keeps growing Even startup founders can find themselves flustered when trying to understand whether a particular issue is genuinely impossible to solve getting the team to provide reliable estimates and having their top tech leaders speak in plain words as opposed to jargon This book helps them bridge the culture gap between the C suite and R D covers frequent tech related decisions and issues and provides a way to unlock tech as an offensive weapon and a strategic differentiator To create an environment where technology is not merely an execution mechanism but acts as a fulcrum for strategic opportunities one must put a particular leadership team in place and equip them with digital literacy Based on the author s experience and discussions with hundreds of executives worldwide he short circuits common failure patterns and enables nontechnical senior leaders to act with more certainty and clarity regarding their tech efforts Startups and tech efforts initiated without enough understanding of the technical aspects often have to be scrapped and started from scratch within 18 months This can make or break certain endeavors and as the author has helped his clients avoid these problems the book will help the readers establish a sturdy foundation to work from This book covers clear guidelines for founders executives and senior leaders that are not tech savvy These include establishing a tech organization making the first key hires assessing the relevance and risk involved in different options and creating a healthy connection as opposed to a tech silo On top of that it will include lessons and case studies that stem from experience in the Startup Nation such as how to injectchutzpah into daily discussions and create an organization with habitual innovation
