Creation Of The Sacred Tracks Of Biology In Early Religions:

Creation of the Sacred Walter Burkert, 1998-01-13 Sacrifice is essential to all religions Could there be a natural even biological reason Why are sacrifice and numerous other religious rituals and concepts shared by so many different cultures In this extraordinary book one of the world's leading authorities on ancient religions explores the possibility of natural religion Transformations of the Inner Self in Ancient Religions Jan Assmann, Guy Stroumsa, 2018-11-13 This collection of papers from two workshops held in Heidelberg Germany in July 1996 and Jerusalem Israel in October 1997 is concerned with anthropological rather than theological aspects of the Near Eastern and Mediterranean religions ranging from the primary religions of the archaic period and their complex developments in Egypt and Mesopotamia to the soteriological movements and secondary religions that emerged in Late Antiquity The first part of the book focuses on Confession and Conversion while the second part is devoted to the topic of Guilt Sin and Rituals of Purification The primary purpose of this volume is to convey a sense of the dynamics and dialectical relationships between the various Near Eastern and Mediterranean religions from the archaic period to Late Antiquity Early Chinese Religion, Part One: Shang through Han (1250 BC-220 AD) (2 vols.) John Lagerwey, Marc Kalinowski, 2008-10-31 Together and for the first time in any language the 24 essays gathered in these volumes provide a composite picture of the history of religion in ancient China from the emergence of writing ca 1250 BC to the collapse of the first major imperial dynasty in 220 AD It is a multi faceted tale of changing gods and rituals that includes the emergence of a form of secular humanism that doubts the existence of the gods and the efficacy of ritual and of an imperial orthodoxy that founds its legitimacy on a distinction between licit and illicit sacrifices Written by specialists in a variety of disciplines the essays cover such subjects as divination and cosmology exorcism and medicine ethics and self cultivation mythology taboos sacrifice shamanism burial practices iconography and political philosophy Produced under the aegis of the Centre de recherche sur les civilisations chinoise japonaise et tib taine UMR 8155 and the cole Pratique des Hautes tudes Paris Origins of Religion, Cognition and Culture Armin W. Geertz, 2014-09-11 Attempts to understand the origins of humanity have raised fundamental questions about the complex relationship between cognition and culture Central to the debates on origins is the role of religion religious ritual and religious experience What came first individual religious ecstatic experiences collective observances of transition situations fear of death ritual competence magical coercion mirror neurons or temporal lobe religiosity Cognitive scientists are now providing us with important insights on phylogenetic and ontogenetic processes Together with insights from the humanities and social sciences on the origins development and maintenance of complex semiotic social and cultural systems a general picture of what is particularly human about humans could emerge Reflections on the preconditions for symbolic and linguistic competence and practice are now within our grasp Origins of Religion Cognition and Culture puts culture centre stage in the cognitive science of religion Liberation Philosophy: From the Buddha to Omar Khayyam Mostafa Vaziri, 2019-09-30 The critical narrative of this interdisciplinary book offers a first time look at the interrelationship between biology mythology and philosophy in human development Its daring premise follows the trajectory of human thought starting with the biological roots of fear and the original need for religion truth seeking and myth making The narrative then innovatively links a number of maverick philosophical teachings over the centuries from pre Buddhist times to the Buddha from Epicurus and Pyrrho to Lucretius and eventually to the seminal poetry of Omar Khayyam These emergent philosophies exemplified liberation from the grasp of mythical and religious thinking and instead espoused an empirical and joyful mind The narrative concludes with a look at the emancipating philosophical movement that resulted in the European Enlightenment and it suggests that the philosophical teachings explored in the book may offer the potential for a second broader Enlightenment Some Wine and Honey for Simon A.

Vandevelde, 2000 According to a common understanding of economics economists attempt to understand and explain societal reality in the light of individual self interest For them a gift is no exception to this except for the slight and misleading veil of altruism which covers a purely egoistic motivation On the other hand theologians philosophers and ethicists use a more normative concept of man Man realises his best potential through deeds of selfless sacrifice that remain unknown to everyone In reality however people are either entirely egoistic nor altruistic Marcel Mauss model of the gift is interesting because it seems to escape the classical or rather modern egoism altruism dichotomy Gifts are not primarily motivated by the well being of myself or the other but rather by the desire to bring about or maintain a certain kind of social relation between giver and receiver Altruistic as well as egoistic motivations are an integral part of that relation The role of gifts in the constitution of social relations and social cohesion explains why most kinds of gifts are reciprocal and even obligatory In this book anthropologists sociologists and economists as well as philosophers focus on the question of the relevance of Mauss work on the gift for the understanding of actual social phenomena Animals as Religious Subjects Celia

Deane-Drummond, Rebecca Artinian-Kaiser, David L. Clough, 2013-08-15 This book examines one of the most pressing cultural concerns that surfaced in the last decade the question of the place and significance of the animal This collection of essays represents the outcome of various conversations regarding the animal studies and shows multidisciplinary at its very best namely a rigorous approach within one discipline in conversation with others around a common theme The contributors discuss the most relevant disciplines regarding this conversation namely philosophy anthropology religious studies theology history of religions archaeology and cultural studies The first section Thinking about Animals explores philosophical anthropological and religious perspectives raising general questions about the human perception of animals and its crucial cultural significance The second section explores the intriguing topic of the way animals have been used historically as religious symbols and in religious rituals The third section re examines some Christian theological and biblical approaches to animals in the light of current concerns The final section extends the implications of traditional views about other animals to more specific ethical theories and practices

Vicious Jon T. Coleman, 2008-10-01 Over a continent and three centuries American livestock owners destroyed wolves to protect the beasts that supplied them with food clothing mobility and wealth The brutality of the campaign soon exceeded wolves misdeeds Wolves menaced property not people but storytellers often depicted the animals as ravenous threats to human safety Subjects of nightmares and legends wolves fell prey not only to Americans thirst for land and resources but also to their deeper anxieties about the untamed frontier Now Americans study and protect wolves and jail hunters who shoot them without authorization Wolves have become the poster beasts of the great American wilderness and the federal government has paid millions of dollars to reintroduce them to scenic habitats like Yellowstone National Park Why did Americans hate wolves for centuries And given the ferocity of this loathing why are Americans now so protective of the animals In this ambitious history of wolves in America and of the humans who have hated and then loved them Jon Coleman investigates a fraught relationship between two species and uncovers striking similarities deadly differences and all too frequently tragic misunderstanding

What Is Religion? Thomas A. Idinopulos, Brian Courtney Wilson, 1998 Of Religion BRIAN C WILSON Natural Reflections Barbara Herrnstein Smith, 2010-01-19 In this important and original book eminent scholar Barbara Herenstein Smith describes assesses and reflects upon a set of contemporary intellectual projects involving science religion and human cognition One which Smith calls the New Naturalism is the effort to explain religion on the basis of cognitive science Another which she calls the New Natural Theology is the attempt to reconcile natural scientific accounts of the world with traditional religious belief These two projects she suggests are in many ways mirror images or natural reflections Of each other Examining these and related efforts from the perspective of a constructivist pragmatist epistemology Smith argues that crucial aspects of belief religious and other that remain elusive or invisible under dominant rationalist and computational models are illuminated by views of human cognition that stress its dynamic embodied and interactive features She also demonstrates how constructivist understandings of the formation and stabilization of knowledge scientific and other alert us to similarities in the springs of science and religion that are elsewhere seen largely in terms of difference and contrast In Natural Reflections Smith develops a sophisticated approach to issues often framed only polemically Recognizing science and religion as complex distinct domains of human practice she also insists on their significant historical connections and cognitive continuities and offers important new modes of engagement with each of them Jacket

Spiritual Information Charles L. Harper, 2005-06 Spiritual Information is a collection of one hundred essays that explore a portion of the vast interdisciplinary approaches to the study of science and religion Individually and together the essays show how the study of ourselves our planet and the universe helps us understand our place as spiritual beings within God s universe The book is a tribute to Sir John Templeton and his pioneering commitment toward new research that results in one hundredfold more spiritual information than humankind has ever possessed before It begins with essays that reflect on Sir John s principal domains of interest and expertise free enterprise based finance and accelerating spiritual progress Themes of the sections are Science Religion Dialogue Cosmology Physics and Astronomy Mathematics Musicology and Speculation Biological Evolution the Human Being Social Evolution the Human Mind and Heart Religion and Health The Nature of the Divine Theology and Philosophy Faith Traditions Sir John s leadership has enabled us to edge ever closer to the frontier where knowledge meets wisdom at the threshold of ultimate reality notes the editor in the preface to this volume As Spiritual Information presents an overview of how far we have come in the science and religion dialogue it also opens windows to the vast possibilities for additional research and further advances in spiritual information

Perspectives on Method and Theory in the Study of Religion Armin Geertz, Russel McCutcheon, 2000-04-20 This volume collects select papers on methodology in the study of religion that were originally presented at the XVIIth Congress of the International Association for the History of Religions held in Mexico City in 1995 Granted the status of adjunct proceedings for the Congress the collection opens with the editors detailed survey of the longstanding importance of discussions on methodology within the IAHR The twenty one essays which follow examine religion and the history of the study of religion within a variety of theoretical contexts The essays are organized in terms of three general sub divisions general issues in methodology from the impact of both postmodernism and reflexive anthropology on the study of religion to the politics of religious studies as practiced in different national settings reflections on the categories commonly employed by scholars working in the field e g religion syncretism gender New Religious Movements sacred power experience etc and finally the collection ends with a review symposium on one of the more sophisticated recent treatments of the problem of defining religion Benson Saler's Conceptualizing Religion Brill 1993 Despite carrying out their work in a variety of settings from Denmark and Finland to Britain Switzerland Germany Canada the USA and Mexico the authors all model a similar approach to studying religion as but one instance of human culture Attractive Performances Frits Naerebout, 2023-07-17 This book is not another history of the dance in ancient Greece but wants to lay the groundwork on which such a history should properly be built The three preliminary studies offered here are first an extensive historiography of the subject which seeks to illuminate where we stand at present in reference to the large amount of work done on ancient Greek dance for the past 500 years Secondly an exercise in source criticism embracing both texts and imagery in order to establish the limits to which we can push any investigation and thirdly an attempt at model building to provide an explicit theoretical framework for future research This is the first time that some of the approaches of the new dance scholarship which has arisen during the past few decades have been systematically applied to the dancing of the ancient world The Scriptural Universe of Ancient Christianity Guy G.

 Stroumsa, 2016-11-14 Perhaps more than any other cause the passage of texts from scroll to codex in late antiquity converted the Roman Empire from paganism to Christianity and enabled the worldwide spread of Christian faith Guy Stroumsa describes how canonical scripture was established and how its interpretation replaced blood sacrifice in religious ritual

The Biological Evolution of Religious Mind and Behavior Eckart Voland, Wulf Schiefenhövel, 2009-08-12 In a Darwinian world religious behavior just like other behaviors is likely to have undergone a process of natural selection in which it was rewarded in the evolutionary currency of reproductive success This book aims to provide a better understanding of the social scenarios in which selection pressure led to religious practices becoming an evolved human trait i.e. an adaptive answer to the conditions of living and surviving that prevailed among our prehistoric ancestors This aim is pursued by a team of expert authors from a range of disciplines Their contributions examine the relevant physiological emotional cognitive and social processes The resulting understanding of the functional interplay of these processes gives valuable insights into the biological roots and benefits of religion
