The Global Environmental Protection Act of 1988 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Environment and Public Works. Subcommittee on Hazardous Wastes and Toxic Substances,1988      The IMF, World Bank and Policy Reform Alberto Paloni,Maurizio Zanardi,2012-10-12 The debate on whether or not the International Monetary Fund and World Bank and their intervention strategies are a positive force for change in the developing world continues to rage Featuring both macroeconomic and microeconomic approaches this book brings together an international team of contributors and centres upon three broad themes the ideology of the IMF and World Bank poverty reduction conditionality In exploring these themes this book will be a valuable reference for postgraduate students and professionals in the fields of development studies and political economy      Tourism, Poverty and Development Andrew Holden,2013-07-18 This book provides a holistic explicit and detailed introduction to the relationship of poverty and tourism development within the context of developing countries The book is divided into three distinct sections progressing from an evaluation of the key concepts the causal factors of poverty and how tourism is being implemented in policy and practice to reduce poverty to the relationship of tourism and poverty in the future The theoretical framework inherent to the text is inter disciplinary incorporating tourism geography politics economics environmental studies development studies sociology and history literature to provide the reader with a range of perspectives from which to explore the key issues of the tourism and poverty relationship It integrates examples and original case studies from varying geographical developing regions including Latin American Asia and Africa to show practical insights into tourism s role in poverty alleviation To encourage reflection on the main themes addressed and critical thinking Think points discussion questions and links to further reading are included in each chapter      The Dynamics of Socio-Economic Development Adam Szirmai,2005-01-20 Why are poor countries poor and rich countries rich How are wealth and poverty related to changes in nutrition health life expectancy education population growth and politics This modern non technical 2005 introduction to development studies explores the dynamics of socio economic development and stagnation in developing countries Taking a quantitative and comparative approach to contemporary debates within their broader context Szirmai examines historical institutional demographic sociological political and cultural factors Key chapters focus on economic growth technological change industrialisation agricultural development and consider social dimensions such as population growth health and education Each chapter contains comparative statistics on trends from a sample of twenty nine developing countries This rich statistical database allows students to strengthen their understanding of comparative development experiences Assuming no prior knowledge of economics the book is suited for use in inter disciplinary development studies programmes as well as economics courses and will also interest practitioners pursuing careers in developing countries      Political Ecology David Bell,Leesa Fawcett,Roger Keil,Peter Penz,2005-08-18 This collection addresses environmental issues from a contemporary political economy perspective The papers explore issues such as the link between culture and nature the impact of humanity on the environment technology's role and communications     The Placemaker's Guide to Building Community Nabeel Hamdi, 2010 From the author of Small Change comes this engaging guide to placemaking packed with practical skills and tools that architects planners urban designers and other built environment specialists need in order to engage effectively with development work in any context Drawing on four decades of practical and teaching experience the author offers fresh insight into the complexities faced by practitioners when working to improve the communities lives and livelihoods of people the world over The book shows how these complexities are a context for rather than a barrier to creative work The book also critiques the single vision top down approach to design and planning Using examples of successful professional practice across Europe the US Africa Latin America and post tsunami Asia the author demonstrates how good policy can derive from good practices when reasoned backwards as well as how plans can emerge in practice without a preponderance of planning Reasoning backwards is shown to be a more effective and inclusive way of planning forwards with significant improvements to the quality of process and place The book also offers a variety of methods and tools for analyzing the issues engaging with communities and other stakeholders for design and settlement planning and for improving the skills of all involved in placemaking Ultimately the book serves as an inspiring guide and a distillation of decades of practical wisdom and experience The resulting practical handbook is for all those involved in doing learning and teaching placemaking and urban development world wide publisher     The Environment and Christian Ethics Michael S. Northcott, 1996-09-28 This book is about the extent origins and causes of the environmental crisis Dr Northcott argues that Christianity has lost the biblical awareness of the interconnectedness of all life He shows how Christian theologians and believers might recover a more ecologically friendly belief system and life style The author provides an important corrective to secular approaches to environmental ethics including utilitarian individualism animal rights theories and deep ecology     A Companion to Ethics Peter Singer, 2013-06-05 In this volume some of today's most distinguished philosophers survey the whole field of ethics from its origins through the great ethical traditions to theories of how we ought to live arguments about specific ethical issues and the nature of ethics itself The book can be read straight through from beginning to end yet the inclusion of a multi layered index coupled with a descriptive outline of contents and bibliographies of relevant literature means that the volume also serves as a work of reference both for those coming afresh to the study of ethics and for readers already familiar with the subject     Capitalist Imperialism, Crisis and the State J. Willoughby, 2013-07-04 How valid is the Marxian theory of imperialism This book traces the historical development of the theory of imperialism the internationalisation of capital and theories of capitalist nation state formation     The Nostalgic Drum Femi Osofisan, 2001 A collection of essays by Femi Osofisan the internationally respected Nigerian dramatist and poet who is widely hailed as one of Africa's leading writers of the generation following on from Wole Soyinka and Chinua Achebe With acerbic wit and with idealistic fervour Osofisan speaks in these essays about the place of literature and drama and those who consume it in the troubled post colonial continent that is Africa The result is a passionate and original insight not only into the work of his contemporaries but also into the adventure of the Africa of the past Law and Poverty Lucy Williams,Asbjørn Kjønsstad,Peter Robson,2003-12 This work exposes how law is central to the causes and structure of poverty and explores new possibilities for using the law to alleviate poverty It covers international human rights conventions constitutional and statutory provisions and social insurance and social assistance law UK Aid Policy and Practice 1974-90 Christopher C. Erswell,2001 This thesis provides a detailed analysis of UK Aid policy over the period 1974 90 Its focus is primarily upon the extent to which official aid was concerned with poverty alleviation This theme permitted a comparison to be made between the records of the Labour administration of 1974 79 and the Conservative administration of 1979 90 A quantitative comparison is made of the two aid programmes The philosophical moral and ideological aspects of the British aid programme are explored Two themes in particular are studied in depth aid and gender and aid and the environment The Ecology of the New Testament Mark Bredin,2012-01-05 Mark Bredin opens contemporary ecological concerns to the teachings of Jesus He shows how the New Testament gives us the moral bearings we need to respond to disturbing global trends such as the loss of biodiversity deforestation and the shortage of food and clean water The Anti-Politics Machine James Ferguson,1990-06-14 Attributes Canadian withdrawal from the Thaba Tseka rural development project largely to problems accompanying the expansion of state power etatization Includes an introductory literature survey on development planning and evaluation in general Anti-Politics Machine James Ferguson,1994-02-01 Development it is generally assumed is good and necessary and in its name the West has intervened implementing all manner of projects in the impoverished regions of the world When these projects fail as they do with astonishing regularity they nonetheless produce a host of regular and unacknowledged effects including the expansion of bureaucratic state power and the translation of the political realities of poverty and powerlessness into technical problems awaiting solution by development agencies and experts It is the political intelligibility of these effects along with the process that produces them that this book seeks to illuminate through a detailed case study of the workings of the development industry in one country Lesotho and in one development project Using an anthropological approach grounded in the work of Foucault James Ferguson analyzes the institutional framework within which such projects are crafted and the nature of development discourse revealing how it is that despite all the expertise that goes into formulating development projects they nonetheless often demonstrate a startling ignorance of the historical and political realities of the locale they are intended to help In a close examination of the attempted implementation of the Thaba Tseka project in Lesotho Ferguson shows how such a misguided approach plays out how in fact the development apparatus in Lesotho acts as an anti politics machine everywhere whisking political realities out of sight and all the while performing almost unnoticed its own pre eminently political operation of strengthening the state presence in the local region James Ferguson is an associate professor of anthropology at the University of California at Irvine

Low-cost Housing in Barbados Mark R. Watson, Robert B. Potter, 2001 The Barbados Tenancies Programme provides an example of what can take place when the state elects to intervene in low income housing This work offers an empirical study of the plantation tenancies since the upgrading programme began in the 1980s examining different aspects of 150 tenancies

Politics and Society in the Developing World Peter Calvert, Susan Calvert, 2014-06-03 In a world seemingly surfing a wave of unprecedented affluence it is sobering to be reminded that only thirty out of nearly two hundred countries can really be classified as advanced industrialized countries Eighty per cent of the world's population lives in the developing world This popular concise introduction scrutinises the developing world its varied political institutions and the key social economic and environmental issues at the heart of contemporary debates Wide ranging and clearly written Politics and Society in the Developing World begins by providing a brisk survey of the major theoretical and methodological interpretations of the social impact of development It then details the factors which determine the parameters of the developing world before moving on to examine its infrastructure and the crises currently facing it The book also covers the social and economic contexts of developing societies the international arena and its impact on the developing world state building and the tension between dictatorship and democratization The book focuses on four policy areas aid trade tourism and the environment The Language of Foreign Affairs, 1987-10 The Brandt Commission and the Multinationals Bo Stråth, 2023-02-11 Set against the backdrop of dramatic world order transformations across the 1970s and 1980s this book examines the competing planetary perspectives of the Brandt Commission and the multinationals arguing that the missed opportunities of these decades created a path for contemporary political and economic crises At the Global South's request for a New International Economic Order the Brandt Commission chaired by Willy Brandt was appointed in 1977 The commission with a goal to formulate arguments on how to close the gap between the North and South developed a planetary perspective grounded in economic redistribution ecological considerations and disarmament The multinationals at that time a new kind of business corporation repressed Brandt's vision by seeking freedom from political monitoring This book discusses the ways that global corporations created facts that changed the world and the preconditions of politics It moves beyond existing research that considers the competition merely a theoretical clash between Keynesianism and neoliberalism Featuring a thorough analysis of the decades trends and a new interview with Shridath Ramphal the Commission's unofficial vice chair this is a timely volume for students and researchers of international relations political science and contemporary history Land Tenure, Agricultural Economics and Rural Development University of Wisconsin--Madison. Land Tenure Center. Library, 1987
