breakdown of traditional economies and including craft production to consumption systems. Meanwhile there is a call to action from different factions to protect, revive and reinvent craft because the inherent sustainability of the systems that underpin it are essential for the sustainability of India and her people. Against this backdrop, this book examines the current landscape of craft in India, its production and marketing in different parts of India, the incorporation of innovation and technology, the push for sustainability and equitability in the handicraft ecosystem, and promising government policies that have proved beneficial for craftspeople. It also discusses various challenges that artisans, micro entrepreneurs and marketers face working in the space. With contributions from leading experts in the field of design, activism, policy, education, cultural heritage and entrepreneurship, this volume provides a comprehensive and in-depth picture of the history, economics and future of craft and its relationship with sustainability. An authoritative resource on Indian craft, this handbook will be useful for scholars and researchers of sustainable development, development studies, architecture, design, heritage studies, cultural studies, political economy and public policy.

Lockwood de Forest Roberta A. Mayer, Lockwood De Forest, 2008. This is the first scholarly book on de Forest. It explores his career in the decorative arts by examining cultural context, material culture, biography and patronage. Lockwood de Forest (1850-1932) is best known as an artistic decorator with a flair for designs based on the arts and crafts of the Middle East and India. He began his career in partnership with Louis Comfort Tiffany. By 1883, de Forest had his own business and successfully introduced the East Indian craft revival to the United States. His interior designs and furnishings were embraced by some of the wealthiest families of the Gilded Age. His family home at 7 East Tenth Street in New York City served as a designer showcase and was compared to Arab Hall, a pinnacle of exotic design that was part of Frederic Lord Leighton's home and studio in Holland Park, London. Complemented by sixty color plates and 132 black and white illustrations. Publisher description.
