Creating Freedom Material Culture And African American Identity At A Louisiana:

Creating Freedom Laurie A. Wilkie, 2000-10-01 Historians conception of plantation life in the American South both post and antebellum derives almost exclusively from the written record hence mainly from the white owners perspectives In Creating Freedom historical archaeologist Laurie Wilkie pulls the half opened curtain wider by seeking out the experiences of the majority of people who made their home on plantations the African American laborers Specifically Wilkie examines the lives of four black families who lived at Oakley Plantation in south Louisiana's West Feliciana Parish over the course of one hundred years Using an innovative blend of archaeological evidence and oral interviews as well as written documents she builds a composite of their daily existence that is at once riveting and humanizing in its detail and invaluable in its broader applications Creating Freedom is in part Wilkie's attempt to understand how African Americans at Oakley Plantation and by extension most southern blacks endured the violence and oppression of slavery Reconstruction and Jim Crow It is through their material culture enhanced by a range of other data that she descries the complex but uplifting process by which they retained their ties to a cultural past while renegotiating their identity as free persons Creating Freedom Laurie A. Wilkie, 2000 Using a blend of archaeological evidence and oral interviews as well as written documents she builds a composite of their daily existence that is at once riveting and humanizing in its detail and invaluable in its broader applications Jacket The Archaeology of Northern Slavery and Freedom James A. Delle, 2019-06-05 Although African slavery in the United States is generally associated with the South the institution also existed in northern states as late as the 1840s especially in large urban centers such as Philadelphia and New York Contrariwise freed African Americans in the region established rural communities all their own and actively resisted the institution as a whole The newest volume proposed for inclusion in the American Experience in Archaeological Perspective series written by one of the leading scholars in the field of African Diaspora archaeology is a synthetic analysis of recently published work on the subject although no monograph exists on northern slavery This volume provides a new perspective on the intricate connection between slavery and freedom in the United States As Delle argues scholars cannot understand slavery in the absence of freedom Feminist Archaeology Whitney Battle-Baptiste, 2017-07-05 Black feminist thought has developed in various parts of the academy for over three decades but has made only minor inroads into archaeological theory and practice Whitney Battle Baptiste outlines the basic tenets of Black feminist thought and research for archaeologists and shows how it can be used to improve contemporary historical archaeology She demonstrates this using Andrew Jackson's Hermitage the WEB Du Bois Homesite in Massachusetts and the Lucy Foster house in Andover which represented the first archaeological excavation of an African American home Her call for an archaeology more sensitive to questions of race and gender is an important development for the field Loopholes and Retreats John Cullen Gruesser, Hanna Wallinger, 2009 The essays in this volume explore the loopholes and retreats employed and exploited by African American polemicists poets novelists slave narrators playwrights short story writers essayists editors educators historians clubwomen and autobiographers during the nineteenth century These exciting contributions use historicist comparative transnational literary historical cultural studies and Foucauldian perspectives to examine how apparent weakness was turned into strength defensiveness into offensiveness and the machinery of oppression into the keys to liberation The Archaeology of Liberty in an American Capital Mark Leone,2005-12-29 The Archaeology of Liberty in an American Capital is the work of a mature scholar reporting on one of the most important large scale and long range projects in contemporary American archaeology Randall McGuire author of The Archaeology of Inequality Many would argue the Mark Leone is the most distinguished practitioner of historical archaeology in the United States and one of the most prominent in the world Thomas C Patterson coeditor of Making Alternative Histories

The Archaeology of Race and Class at Timbuctoo Christopher P. Barton, 2023-03-28 Examining the historic Black community of Timbuctoo New Jersey this book illuminates the intersectionality of life at the village and the ways Black residents resisted the marginalizing structures of race and class Archaeology of Domestic Landscapes of the Enslaved in the Caribbean James A. Delle, Elizabeth C. Clay, 2022-08-02 While previous research on household archaeology in the colonial Caribbean has drawn heavily on artifact analysis this volume provides the first in depth examination of the architecture of slave housing during this period It examines the considerations that went into constructing and inhabiting living spaces for the enslaved and reveals the diversity of people and practices in these settings Contributors present case studies using written descriptions period illustrations and standing architecture in addition to archaeological evidence to illustrate the wide variety of built environments for enslaved populations in places including Jamaica the Bahamas and the islands of the Lesser Antilles They investigate how the enslaved defined their social positions and identities through house yard and garden space they explore what daily life was like for slaves on military compounds they compare the spatial arrangements of slave villages on plantations based on type of labor and they show how the style of traditional laborer houses became a form of vernacular architecture still in use today This volume expands our understanding of the wide range of enslaved experiences across British French Dutch and Danish colonies Contributors Elizabeth C Clay James A Delle Todd M Ahlman Marco Meniketti Kenneth Kelly Hayden Bassett James A Delle Kristen R Fellows Allan D Meyers Elizabeth C Clay Alicia Odewale Meredith D Hardy Zachary J M Beier Mark W Hauser A volume in the Florida Museum of Natural History Ripley P Bullen Series Publication of the paperback edition made possible by a Sustaining the Humanities through the American Rescue Plan grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities At Home with Apartheid Rebecca Ginsburg, 2011-08-30 Despite their peaceful bucolic appearance the tree lined streets of South African suburbia were no refuge from the racial tensions and indignities of apartheid s most repressive years In At Home with Apartheid Rebecca Ginsburg provides an intimate examination of the cultural landscapes of Johannesburg's middle and upper middle class neighborhoods during the height of apartheid c 1960 1975 and incorporates recent scholarship on gender the home and family More subtly but no less significantly than factory floors squatter camps prisons and courtrooms the homes of white South Africans were sites of important contests between white privilege and black aspiration Subtle negotiations within the domestic sphere between white mostly female householders and their black domestic workers also primarily women played out over and around this space These seemingly mundane private conflicts were part of larger contemporary struggles between whites and blacks over territory and power Ginsburg gives special attention to the distinct social and racial geographies produced by the workers detached living quarters designed by builders and architects as landscape complements to the main houses Ranch houses Italianate villas modernist cubes and Victorian bungalows filled Johannesburg's suburbs What distinguished these neighborhoods from their precedents in the United States or the United Kingdom was the presence of the ubiquitous back rooms and of the African women who inhabited them in these otherwise exclusively white areas The author conducted more than seventy five personal interviews for this book an approach that sets it apart from other architectural histories In addition to these oral accounts Ginsburg draws from plans drawings and onsite analysis of the physical properties themselves While the issues addressed span the disciplines of South African and architectural history feminist studies material culture studies and psychology the book s strong narrative powerful oral histories and compelling subject matter bring the neighborhoods and residents it examines vividly to life Wounds of Returning Jessica Adams, 2012-09-01 From Storyville brothels and narratives of turn of the century New Orleans to plantation tours Bette Davis films Elvis memorials Willa Cather s fiction and the annual prison rodeo held at the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola Jessica Adams considers spatial and ideological evolutions of southern plantations after slavery In Wounds of Returning Adams shows that the slave past returns to inhabit plantation landscapes that have been radically transformed by tourism consumer culture and modern modes of punishment even those landscapes from which slavery has supposedly been banished completely Adams explores how the commodification of black bodies during slavery did not disappear with abolition rather the same principle was transformed into modern consumer capitalism As Adams demonstrates however counternarratives and unexpected cultural hybrids erupt out of attempts to re create the plantation as an uncomplicated scene of racial relationships or a signifier of national unity Peeling back the layers of plantation landscapes Adams reveals connections between seemingly disparate features of modern culture suggesting that they remain haunted by the force of the unnatural equation of people as property The Slave in the Swamp William Tynes Cowa, 2013-09-13 First Published in 2005 In 19th century plantation literature the runaway slave in the swamp was a recurring bogey man whose presence challenged myths of the plantation system By escaping to the swamps with its wild and threatening connotations the runaway gained an invisibility that was more threatening to the institution than open rebellion In part the proslavery plantation novel served to transform that image of the free slave in the swamp from its untouchable abstract state to a form that could be possessed understood and controlled Essentially writers defending the institution would conjure forth the rebellious image in order to dispel it safely Tobacco, Pipes, and Race in

Colonial Virginia Anna S Agbe-Davies, 2016-06-03 Tobacco Pipes and Race in Colonial Virginia investigates the economic and social power that surrounded the production and use of tobacco pipes in colonial Virginia and the difficulty of correlating objects with cultural identities A common artifact in colonial period sites previous publications on this subject have focused on the decorations on the pipes or which ethnic group produced and used the pipes European African or Indian This book weaves together new interpretations analytical techniques classification schemes historical background and archaeological methods and theory Special attention is paid to the subfield of African diaspora research to display the complexities of understanding this class of material culture This fascinating study is accessible to the undergraduate reader as well as to graduate students and scholars African American Foodways Anne Bower, 2009 Moving beyond catfish and collard greens to the soul of African American cooking Challenging Colonial Narratives Matthew A. Beaudoin, 2019-04-30 Challenging Colonial Narratives demonstrates that the traditional colonial dichotomy may reflect an artifice of the colonial discourse rather than the lived reality of the past Matthew A Beaudoin makes a striking case that comparative research can unsettle many deeply held assumptions and offer a rapprochement of the conventional scholarly separation of colonial and historical archaeology To create a conceptual bridge between disparate dialogues Beaudoin examines multigenerational nineteenth century Mohawk and settler sites in southern Ontario Canada He demonstrates that few obvious differences exist and calls for more nuanced interpretive frameworks Using conventional categories methodologies and interpretative processes from Indigenous and settler archaeologies Beaudoin encourages archaeologists and scholars to focus on the different or similar aspects among sites to better understand the nineteenth century life of contemporaneous Indigenous and settler peoples Beaudoin posits that the archaeological record represents people s navigation through the social and political constraints of their time Their actions he maintains were undertaken within the understood present the remembered past and perceived future possibilities Deconstructing existing paradigms in colonial and postcolonial theories Matthew A Beaudoin establishes a new dynamic discourse on identity formation and politics within the power relations created by colonization that will be useful to archaeologists in the academy as well as in cultural resource management Louisiana Women Shannon Frystak, Mary Farmer-Kaiser, 2016-03-15 Louisiana Women Their Lives and Times volume 2 highlights the significant historical contributions of some of Louisiana's most noteworthy and also overlooked women from the eighteenth century to the present This volume underscores the cultural social and political distinctiveness of the state as well as showcases the actions and activities of women who greatly affected the history of Louisiana in profound and interesting ways These essays on women at the forefront of Louisiana and national events include information about Sarah Morgan Janet Mary Riley Lindy Claiborne Boggs Lucy Alston Pirrie Appoline Patout Mary Ann Patout and Ida Patout Burns Lulu White Neda Jurisich Eva Vujnovich and Mary Jane Munsterman Tesvich Carmelite Cammie Garrett Henry Alice Dunbar Nelson Coralie Guarino Davis Lucinda Williams Rebecca Wells Phoebe Bryant Hunter Cora Allen Sarah Towles Reed and Georgia M Johnson Contributors
