Creation Christ And Culture Studies In Honour Of T F Torrance:

Creation, Christ and Culture Richard W.A. McKinney, 2016-10-06 With contributions from eminent theologians from different countries confessions disciplines and interests this volume celebrates the immense breadth and influence of T F Torrance Contributors include R E Clements Matthew Black R S Barbour Alasdair Heron Dietrich Ritschl Robert W Jenson D M MacKinnon Allan D Galloway Jürgen Moltmann Noel Dermot O Donoghue Stanley L Jaki Thomas A Langford J Houston Enda McDonagh John McIntyre Eberhard Jüngel Richard W A McKinney S W Sykes John Heywood Thomas Lesslie Newbigin

Christ as Creator Sean M. McDonough, 2009-11-26 This book examines the New Testament teaching that Christ was the one through whom God made the world While scholars usually interpret this doctrine as arising from the equation of Jesus and the Wisdom of God Sean McDonough argues that it had its roots in the church's memories of Jesus' miracles These memories coupled with the experience of spiritual renewal in the early church established Jesus as the definitive agent of God's new creation in the New Testament writings and the teachings of the Early Church Following the logic that the end is like the beginning Christ was taken to be the agent of primal creation This insight was developed in light of Old Testament creation texts viewed from within a messianic matrix of interpretation God gives his Word his Spirit and his Wisdom to his Messiah from the very beginning and the Messiah the radiance of God's glory establishes the cosmos in accordance with God's purposes Creation is the beginning of messianic dominion he rules the world he made McDonough carefully substantiates his thesis through a detailed exegesis of the relevant New Testament texts in the context of related texts in Judaism and Greco Roman philosophy He concludes with a survey of the doctrine of Christ as Creator in the work of six theologians Justin Martyr Irenaeus Athanasius Karl Barth Jürgen Moltmann and Wolfhart Pannenberg

Realism and Christian Faith

Andrew Moore, 2003-03-27 The question of realism that is whether God exists independently of human beings is central to much contemporary theology and church life It is also an important topic in the philosophy of religion This book discusses the relationship between realism and Christian faith in a thorough and systematic way and uses the resources of both philosophy and theology to argue for a Christocentric narrative realism Many previous defences of realism have attempted to model Christian belief on scientific theory but Moore argues that this comparison is misleading and inadequate on both theological and philosophical grounds In dialogue with speech act theory and critiques of realism by both non realists and Wittgensteinians a new account of the meaningfulness of Christian language is proposed Moore uses this to develop a regulative conception of realism according to which God's independent reality is shown principally in Christ and then through Christian practices and the lives of Christians

Participation in God

Andrew Davison, 2019-08 Offers a substantial discussion of a central theme in Christian theology that everything comes from and depends upon God

Preaching the Atonement Peter Stevenson, Stephen Wright, 2005-12-01 Preaching the Atonement explores some classic texts which throw light on the atonement Each chapter focuses on a key Biblical passage offering a theological commentary which will help both preachers and church members gain a deeper understanding The Trinity: A Guide for the Perplexed Paul M. Collins, 2008-12-19 Trinity is a core area of Christian belief This Guide For The Perplexed offers a complete overview of the theological history of the concept of the trinity as well as new insights Union with God Audy Santoso, 2021-08-09 If salvation makes a person to become God then how do we understand the word God Audy Santoso assesses Robert Jenson's notion of deification on three main areas the concept of God Christ and self along with their ramifications In this comparative study Jenson's revisionary metaphysics in his theology opens up an insightful perspective in reading John Calvin's theology Discussion on the Supper shows the intricate relation of what these theologians hope for with the practice of our lives in God The author makes a comparative assessment and integration between the seemingly opposite metaphysics of Jenson and Calvin while keeping the Creator creature distinction of Reformed theology intact Jenson says that the end is music but the author affirms a better way without negating Jenson's A Cosmic Leap of Faith Vincent A. Pizzuto, 2006 Among the array of christologies embodied within New Testament literature the so called hymn of Colossians 1:15-20 offers a unique and invaluable contribution to contemporary theological and inter religious discourse This is because it conveys what is arguably the highest christological affirmation within the canon Pizzuto contends that the hymn is a creative and faith filled composition by the same deutero Pauline author of the Colossians epistle itself and demonstrates that there is an inextricable relationship between the chiasmic structure of Col 1:15-20 and a proper understanding of its provenance authorship and theology Although the hymn echoes theological motifs consistent with Second Temple Judaism and loosely reflects a number of syncretistic influences it is fundamentally the novelty of the Christ event the historical impact of Jesus of Nazareth that has been most influential in determining the christological categories of Col 1:15-20 and its larger epistolary framework Pizzuto thus defends the overall integrity of the hymn against those who would assert that it reflects a pre Christian or pre Colossians origin He concludes that Col 1:15-20 represents something of a leap beyond Pauline christology into a new and unequivocal conviction of the cosmic implications of the Cross Arius Rowan Williams, 2002-01-24 Arius is widely considered to be Rowan Williams's magnum opus Long out of print and never before available in paperback it has been newly revised This expanded and updated edition marks a major publishing event Arianism has been called the archetypal Christian heresy because it denies the divinity of Christ In his masterly examination of Arianism Rowan Williams argues that Arius himself was actually a dedicated theological conservative whose concern was to defend the free and personal character of the Christian God His heresy grew out of an attempt to unite traditional biblical language with radical philosophical ideas and techniques and was from the start involved with issues of authority in the church Thus the crisis of the early fourth century was not only about the doctrine of God but also about the relations between emperors bishops and charismatic teachers in the church's decision making In the course of his discussion Williams raises the vital wider questions of how heresy is defined and how certain kinds of traditionalism transform themselves into heresy Augmented with a new appendix in which Williams interacts with significant scholarship since 1987 this book provides fascinating reading for anyone interested in church history and the development of Christian doctrine Ecology in Jurgen Moltmann's Theology Celia E. Deane-Drummond, 2016-09-01 This book offers a critical and constructive analysis of the contribution of Jurgen Moltmann to the field of ecotheology Moltmann is one of the foremost and influential contemporary theologians of our time but his specific contribution to ecotheology has received relatively scant attention in the secondary literature The author deals sensitively with the relevant scientific aspects necessary in order to develop an adequate theology of the natural world She also offers a careful and constructive analysis of the specific systematic theologies of creation humanity eschatology and Trinity that are woven into Moltmann's rich interpretation of the relationship between God and creation Relationality and the Concept of God Henry Jansen, 2025-02-10 Classical theism the dominant tradition in Christian theology has stressed the metaphysical concept of God i e God's ontological transcendence and independence from the world In this century however this concept of God has increasingly met with criticism On the basis of the Bible and new philosophical considerations it is argued that a relational concept of God better answers the fundamental concerns of the Christian faith In this book the author investigates the questions of whether one can conceive of God apart from the metaphysical attributes and whether reflection on the biblical depiction of God leads necessarily to a relational concept of God The author explores the questions by examining the relational concepts of God found in two contemporary German theologians J rgen Moltmann and Wolfhart Pannenberg and uses the divine attribute of immutability as a focus for the discussion He argues that the relational concept of God presupposes another metaphysical conception of God which raises problems as serious as those in classical theism and that the Bible itself because of its nature as a narrative text is ambiguous in many respects as far as God is concerned A truly Christian doctrine of God must take both the metaphysical and relational aspects of God into account Trinitarian Personhood Bill Ury, 2002-02-01 The concept of the person is a crucial yet elusive component in the development of Western thought Few concepts are as replete with definitional difficulty Equally important is the application of a proper definition to all major Christian doctrinal commonplaces This work recognizing the insufficiency of modern theology to offer a cogent concept of person proposes a thorough historical and theological evaluation of Trinitarian personhood presented in three critical paradigm shifts by which one can measure the development of the idea of true personhood presented The three watershed eras of discernment of divine personhood presented are seen here as first the Cappadocian position of the mutual indwelling perichoresis of the divine persons is contrasted with Augustine's view of the place of relations in defining divine persons Second the ideas of Richard of St Victor whose caritas consummata and its relational implications met the nemesis of the Thomistic category of subsistent relations And last as an example of this important discussion in modernity the German Heribert M hlen's dynamic phenomenological approach to Triune personhood is offered as a means of countering the implicit modalisms of Barth and Rahner If the personhood of God is in essence Being in Another then Christianity must apply that ontology to all sectors of reality to be fully Christian The Future Inheritance of Land in the Pauline Epistles Miguel G. Echevarria, 2019-01-25 The Apostle Paul's vision of eternity is centered on the inheritance theme Although Paul rarely unpacks this concept he employs the inheritance in a manner that encompasses the hope of a renewed cosmos promised to Abraham and his descendants Thus the apostle does not redefine a theme grounded in the Old Testament and Second Temple literature as if it now referred to heaven or some other spiritualized existence He expects what every pious Jew expected the tangible fulfillment of the promise when at last God's people will dwell in a land where they will experience rest under the rule of Messiah What Paul clarifies is that those who are in Christ are the beneficiaries of the inheritance Although believers do not currently possess what has been promised to them they have the hope that the Spirit will lead them on a new exodus through the wilderness of the present sinful age until they inherit the coming world Death be Not Proud Mark Corner, 2011 Might people one day live for ever Would they want to What sense can be made of ideas commonly referred to in terms of an afterlife What about notions of Heaven and Hell of Purgatory and reincarnation And in what sort of state are human beings expected to be during this afterlife immortal souls or resurrected bodies and does either notion make sense What about the fact that any afterlife concerns not just the fate of individuals but of society communion of saints and even the physical universe itself This book tries to survey some of the existing arguments about life after death with chapters on material from Christian tradition particularly the New Testament and the Early Church and from the philosophy of religion It then attempts to reach its own conclusions drawing on Kant and Barth in order to suggest that death is to be overcome rather than survived The Book of Enoch or I Enoch Black, 2023-06-26 Messiah and Exaltation Andrew Chester, 2007 Andrew Chester focuses on Jewish messianic hope intermediary figures and visionary traditions of human transformation particularly in the Second Temple period and analyzes their significance for the origin and development of New Testament Christology He brings together five previously published essays on these themes these include two long chapters one on Jewish messianic and mediatorial traditions in relation to Pauline Christology the other on messianism and eschatology in early Judaism and Christianity plus one on messiah and Temple in Sibylline Oracles 3 5 Two further essays on the significance of Torah in the messianic age and on resurrection transformation and early Christology have been extensively revised There are also three substantial new chapters all of which engage closely with recent scholarly debate The first on the origin of Christology argues for the significance of Jewish visionary traditions of human transformation for understanding how high Christology came about at such an early stage within the New Testament The second discusses the complex questions of the definition scope and nature of Jewish messianism especially in relation to the Hebrew Bible and the more recently available Qumran evidence and their significance for the New Testament The third is concerned with what Paul means by the law of Christ and the wider issues raised by this Heaven In Ordinarie Noel O'Donoghue, 2000-12-27 A unique study of those human dimensions such as belonging loneliness and pathos often overlooked in theology and philosophy Luke-Acts Crispin H. T. Fletcher-Louis,1997 Trinitarian Doxology Kevin J. Navarro,2023-01-26

Liturgical theology tends towards the anthropocentric focussing primarily on the behaviour of the worshippers The theology of Thomas F and James B Torrance however provides an alternative approach a Trinitarian and Christocentric study of liturgy which decentralises the worshippers position in liturgy and focusses instead on Christ the One who is worshipped In Trinitarian Doxology Kevin J Navarro examines the Torrances theology explicating and illuminating their work whilst simultaneously providing critical analysis which provides a lens for deeper understanding Restoration James Scott,2021-10-01 The restoration of Israel is one of those subjects which although crucial to our understanding of early Judaism has not received the focused attention it needs and deserves These seminal essays written by an international group of eminent scholars introduce the reader to the subject of restoration in a roughly chronological approach beginning with the formative period the Old Testament followed by the Greco Roman period formative Judaism and early Christianity These essays endeavor not merely to survey what is currently known about the subject from various vantage points but rather to extend what is knowable in each case This volume will stimulate much interest in the subject of restoration and will shape the future course of the scholarly discussion
