Alliance Politics and Economics David C. Mowery, 1987 International Joint Ventures: Economic and Organizational Perspectives Kalyan Chatterjee, Barbara Gray, 2013-03-09 International Joint Ventures Economic and Organizational Perspectives is the result of a symposium on International Joint Ventures and Strategic Alliances held by the Center for Research in Conflict and Negotiation at Pennsylvania State University The book gives a cross disciplinary treatment of the economic and managerial issues affecting joint venture formation operation and performance including subjects ranging from the impact of international trade policy to cross cultural communication on joint venture operations The volume enriches our understanding of each discipline from the vantage point of the other building a more complete understanding of joint ventures as a mode of entry into domestic and international markets Two categories of question are analyzed issues of importance to the joint potential and actual participants in a joint venture and issues related to the social effects of joint ventures from the point of view of society as a whole or its agent the regulator The questions are addressed using simple theoretical models and conceptual discussions as well as empirical analyses Audience Executives policy makers and scholars of economics decision analysis political science and management The Future of the Defence Firm: New Challenges, New Directions A. Latham, N. Hooper, 2013-03-09 This book is the result of a collaborative research project involving the Centre for Defence and Security Studies at the University of Manitoba Canada and the Centre for Defence Economics at the University of York in England Perhaps not surprisingly given its transatlantic origins its lineage is somewhat involved In Canada its origins can be traced to two earlier research projects on the political economy of arms production undertaken by members of what has since become the Centre for Defence and Security Studies The first of these carried out in collaboration with Toronto's York University and financially supported by the Centre for Studies in Defence Resources Management at the National Defence College in Kingston Ontario was entitled The Implications of Europe 1992 For Canadian Defence and Defence Industrial Interests The second undertaken in conjunction with both York University and Nova Scotia's Dalhousie University was supported by the now defunct Canadian Institute for International Peace and Security and dealt with NATO and Defence and the Canadian Economy Workshops were held in connection with both these studies which brought together academic governmental and industry experts in the field of defence production Strategic Alliances and Process Redesign Alexander Gerybadze, 2011-07-11 No detailed description available for Strategic Alliances and Process Redesign

Breakthrough innovations in aircraft and the intellectual property system 1900-1975 World Intellectual Property Organization, David C. Mowery, 2015 Modern commercial aircraft are complex products that incorporate innovations in technologies ranging from advanced materials to software and electronics Although commercial aircraft assuredly qualify as a transformative innovation in fact today's commercial aircraft are the result of a process of incremental innovation and improvement that dates back more than a century A great many of these improvements and incremental innovations originated from government supported R D programs sponsored by the military services or government research laboratories The adoption of commercial aircraft innovations within many industrial economies including the United States also has been influenced by government regulation of air transportation This paper provides a historical characterization of the innovation and record of technical progress in US commercial aircraft during the 1900 1975 period It identifies the sources of support for innovation and technological adoption and examines the origins and impacts of breakthrough innovations on the overall evolution of the global commercial aircraft industry The paper also assesses the role of patents in these important innovations

The Politics of International Economic Relations Jeffrey A. Hart, Joan Edelman Spero, 2013-06-17 The first and definitive book of its kind Joan Spero's The Politics of International Economic Relations has been fully updated to reflect the sweeping changes in the international arena With the expertise of co author Jeffrey Hart the fifth edition strengthens the coverage of political and economic relations since the end of the Cold War economic polarization in developing nations and the roots of economic decline in centrally planned economies A new chapter on industrial policy and competitiveness debates further illustrates the changing dynamics of International Political Economy Ideal as a supplement to the International Relations course or as the core text in International Political Economy Spero and Hart's The Politics of International Economic Relations continues to give students the breadth and depth of scholarship needed to understand the politics of world economy

The Changing Structure of the Global Large Civil Aircraft Industry and Market, 1998 Trends and Challenges in Aerospace Offsets National Research Council, Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy, 1999-04-03 The granting of offsets to promote exports of major aircraft systems has been a source of significant controversy Critics believe that offsets undermine the U S manufacturing base lead to the transfer of commercial technology possibly affecting national security and result in the loss of high wage jobs Defenders of the practice argue that offsets are a fact of commercial life and can result in net U S job gains In an effort to focus the offsets debate on analytical issues the White House National Economic Council asked the National Research Council to convene expert academicians representatives from the aerospace industry and top government officials to discuss the impact of offsets on the U S economy To ensure a rigorous discussion encompassing all points of view the conference included a series of papers outlining the positions of key participants This resulting volume offers a comprehensive and up to date analysis of the impact of aerospace offsets

Technology Policy in Interdependent Economies David C. Mowery, 2012-12-06 Economic policy debates have devoted increasing attention to the design and implementation of policies to aid the growth of high technology firms and industries. In the United States, this focus on technology policy has been influenced by similar debates and policy experiments in other industrial economies, notably Japan and Western Europe. The domestic U.S. debate over support for technology development and national competitiveness has been hampered by two major conceptual flaws: the demand for immediate economic results from basic research and considering national technology policies independent of developments in the international economy. This volume addresses these deficiencies in the analysis of technology policy by examining a number of issues faced by managers and public officials in industrial and industrializing economies that are now linked closely through international flows of goods, capital, and technology. The book lays out an analytical framework for the study of national policies towards technology and science. In addition, the book addresses the complex issues raised by interdependence among the public and private institutions governing the creation, commercialization, and adoption of new technology in different national economies. Finally, the book reviews the development of two global high technology industries: aerospace and semiconductor components.
