Series, 1993 Clonality in the Anthropocene: Adaptation, Evolution, and Functioning of Clonal Plants from Individuals to Ecosystems Yong-Jian Wang, Jianping Tao, Asad Shabbir, Wei Xue, Fei-Hai Yu, Fang-Li Luo, 2024-09-02 The Anthropocene with the ongoing global changes in climate land use acidity and content of toxins represents the greatest recent challenges for plants Clonal plants mainly reproduce vegetatively asexually and offspring remain attached to the parent at least until establishment Despite limited gene recombination and genetic diversity clonal plants are widely distributed and play significant roles in various ecosystems worldwide Clonal traits such as resource sharing and signaling between connected ramets selective positioning of ramets reallocation of stored energy nutrients between connected ramets initiation of meristem banks in response to clonal integration and trade offs between clonal and sexual reproduction might help clonal plants adapt to different environmental conditions The expression fitness effects and evolution of clonal traits can be influenced by environmental changes which can be efficiently inherited and affects offspring performance i e clonal parental effect These adaptations may contribute to the survival competition invasiveness and spread of clonal species in response to global climate change in the Anthropocene from individuals to ecosystems Understanding the capacity of clonal species to survive and adjust to changing environments is requisite but limited Specifically the unique traits of clonal plants have been underestimated and their contribution to population community and ecosystem dynamics is unclear The roles of clonality in ecosystem functioning e g carbon storage carbon nitrogen and phosphorus cycling water and soil conservation and water purification need to be further explored The contribution of clonal growth in plant invasiveness and community invisibility also needs to be addressed Hence there is an urgent need for more in depth studies investigating the adaptation and evolution mechanisms functioning and approaches of plant clonality to global change and invasiveness at different levels

Handbook of the Politics of Labour, Work and Employment Gregor Gall, 2019 Providing a thorough overview of the political nature and dynamics of the world of work labour and employment this timely Handbook draws together an interdisciplinary range of top contributors to explore the interdependent relationship between politics and labour work and employment The Handbook explores the purpose roles rights and powers of employers and management workers and unions states and governments in the age of globalised neo liberalism

Agricultural transformation: trends in farm size, crop diversification and mechanization in Nicaragua and Peru Srinivasan, S.V., Saborío, M., Morales Opazo, C., 2022-09-02 Structural change is a process in which the amount of labour capital and land dedicated to agriculture and other sectors changes over time In this study we focus on the cases of Peru and Nicaragua using their two most recently administered agricultural censuses The agricultural censuses permit us to identify dimensions and information available to study the process of structural change in Latin America over the last 20 years The study includes a comparative analysis and policy recommendations based on the two most recent agricultural censuses administered in Nicaragua 2001 and 2011 and Peru 1994 and 2012 Processing and analysing information from these censuses contribute to identifying dimensions and information available to study the process of structural change in Latin America over the last 20 years Evidence based policymaking is increasingly more at the core of the United Nations and member countries activity In the case of FAO this type of study is crucial to build the knowledge body on which projects and activities are carried forward The Hand in Hand HiH initiative is a key example in this context as it aims at quantitatively identifying high impact and high agricultural potential areas in which to invest within developing countries As Nicaragua and Peru are HiH s target countries this study will show very useful to learn about their recent experiences in agricultural transformations Sustainable Poverty Reduction in Less-favoured Areas Ruerd Ruben, J. Pender, Arie Kuyvenhoven, 2007-01-01 Less favored areas with limited agricultural potential or difficult access conditions support 40 percent of the world s rural population suffering from chronic poverty While agricultural innovations and rural development programs have begun to be implemented within developing countries they do not address the specific obstacles faced by this large population Instead a targeted approach is needed to identify different resource management strategies for particular types of households and communities as well as creating balanced investments aimed at sustainable intensification of rural livelihoods Such efforts have been the focus of the research program on Regional Food Security Policies for Natural Resource Management and Sustainable Economies RESPONSE Through the study of less favored areas in Africa Latin America and South and East Asia development pathways allowing for the careful adjustment of resource use strategies at the field farm household and village level are explored

Survival Strategies of Poor Women in Urban Africa C. O'Reilly, A. Gordon, 1995 Urban poverty is increasing alongside growing urban populations in sub Saharan Africa Women constitute a significant proportion of the urban poor but their role is often neglected by development projects This publication highlights the range of strategies that women have devised for themselves in order to cope with difficult economic circumstances in present day Zambia Natural resources figure prominently in urban women s activities not only as a source of food and fuel but as a source of income through trading activities Ways in which women s livelihoods can be improved are also discussed
