Alphaemitting Particles In Lungs:

Alpha-emitting Particles in Lungs National Council on Radiation Protection and Measurements,1975 In recognition of the fact that the potential for release of particulate plutonium and transplutonium alpha emitting elements from nuclear power generation facilities poses questions concerning spatial distribution of dose and the resultant biological effects the NCRP initiated a new NCRP activity concerned with alpha emitting particles in lungs It was not intended that a complete review of the subject would be prepared On the other hand the study was not to be directed exclusively to recently promulgated controversial proposals relating to standards for alpha emitting particles in the lung Rather the new effort was intended to be a limited scope study aimed at the development of a statement on the question of whether the current practice of averaging over the lungs the absorbed dose from particulate alpha emitting radionuclides is a defensible procedure in the practice of radiation protection and whether exposure limits derived on this basis are more or less conservative than those that might result from a precise consideration of the spatial distribution of the dose From Preface page iii Health
