Holub, 2013-06-19 First published in 2002 Modes and categories inherited from the past no longer seem to fit the reality experienced by a new generation New Accents is intended as a positive response to the initiative offered by such a situation Each volume in the series will seek to encourage rather than resist the process of change to stretch rather than reinforce the boundaries that currently define literature and its academic study Reception theory is a term that is likely to sound strange to speakers of English who have not encountered it previously In the largest sense it is a reaction to social intellectual and literary developments in West Germany during the late 1960s

Rewriting English Janet Batsleer, Tony Davies, Rebecca O'Rourke, Chris Weedon, 2013-10-08 First Published in 2002 It is easy to see that we are living in a time of rapid and radical social change It is much less easy to grasp the fact that such change will inevitably affect the nature of those disciplines that both reflect our society and help to shape it Yet this is nowhere more apparent than in the central field of what may in general terms be called literary studies New Accents is intended as a positive response to the initiative offered by such a situation Each volume in the series will seek to encourage rather than resist the process of change To stretch rather than reinforce the boundaries that currently define literature and its academic study

Adult Comics Roger Sabin, 2013-10-11 In a society where a comic equates with knockabout amusement for children the sudden pre eminence of adult comics on everything from political satire to erotic fantasy has predictably attracted an enormous amount of attention Adult comics are part of the cultural landscape in a way that would have been unimaginable a decade ago In this first survey of its kind Roger Sabin traces the history of comics for older readers from the end of the nineteenth century to the present He takes in the pioneering titles pre First World War the underground comix of the 1960s and 1970s fandom in the 1970s and 1980s and the boom of the 1980s and 1990s including graphic novels and Viz Covering comics from the United States Europe and Japan Adult Comics addresses such issues as the graphic novel in context cultural overspill and the role of women By taking a broad sweep Sabin demonstrates that the widely held notion that comics grew up in the late 1980s is a mistaken one largely invented by the media Adult Comics An Introduction is intended primarily for student use but is written with the comic enthusiast very much in mind

Dialogue and Difference Peter Brooker, Peter Humm, 2013-10-08 First Published in 2002 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Return Of Reader Elizabeth Freund, 2013-10-08 First Published in 2002 It is easy to see that we are living in a time of rapid and radical social change It is much less easy to grasp the fact that such change will inevitably affect the nature of those disciplines that both reflect our society and help to shape it Yet this is nowhere more apparent than in the central field of what may in general terms be called literary studies New Accents is intended as a positive response to the initiative offered by such a situation Each volume in the series will seek to encourage rather than resist the process of change To stretch rather than reinforce the boundaries that currently define literature and its academic study

Post-Colonial Shakespeares Ania Loomba, Martin Orkin, 2013-10-28 First published in 2002 This collection of new essays explores the multiple possibilities for the study of Shakespeare in an emerging post colonial period Post Colonial Shakespeares examines the extent to which our assumption about such key terms as colonization race and nation derive from early modern English culture It also looks at how such terms are themselves affected by what were established subsequently as colonial forms of knowledge The volume features original work by some of the leading critics within the field of Shakespearean studies It is the most authoritative collection on this topic to date and represents an exciting step forward for post colonial studies

Rethinking Feminism in Early Modern Studies Ania Loomba, Melissa E Sanchez, 2016-07-12 Winner of the Society for the Study of Early Modern Women s Collaborative Book Prize 2017 Rethinking Feminism in Early Modern Studies is a volume of essays by leading scholars in the field of early modern studies on the history present state and future possibilities of feminist criticism and theory It responds to current anxieties that feminist criticism is in a state of decline by attending to debates and differences that have emerged in light of ongoing scholarly discussions of race affect sexuality and transnationalism work that compels us continually to reassess our definitions of women and gender Rethinking Feminism demonstrates how studies of early modern literature history and culture can contribute to a reimagination of feminist aims methods and objects of study at this historical juncture While the scholars contributing to Rethinking Feminism have very different interests and methods they are united in their conviction that early modern studies must be in dialogue with and indeed contribute to larger theoretical and political debates about gender race and sexuality and to the relationship between these areas To this end the essays not only analyze literary texts and cultural practices to shed light on early modern ideology and politics but also address metacritical questions of methodology and theory Taken together they show how a consciousness of the complexity of the past allows us to rethink the genealogies and historical stakes of current scholarly norms and debates

Structuralism and Semiotics Terence Hawkes,2003-07-17 Published in 1977 as the first volume in the New Accents series Structuralism and Semiotics made crucial debates in critical theory accessible to those with no prior knowledge of the field Since then a generation of readers has used the book as an entry not only into structuralism and semiotics but into the wide range of cultural and critical theories underpinned by these approaches It remains the clearest introduction to some of the most important topics in modern critical theory A new afterword and fresh suggestions for further reading complete this new edition York Notes Companions: Shakespeare and Renaissance Drama Hugh Mackay,2014-08-28 The Early Modern Theatre of Cruelty and its Doubles Amanda Di Ponio,2018-08-21 This book examines the influence of the early modern period on Antonin Artaud s seminal work The Theatre and Its Double arguing that Elizabethan and Jacobean drama and their early modern context are an integral part of the Theatre of Cruelty and essential to its very understanding The chapters draw links between the early modern theatrical obsession with plague and regeneration and how it is mirrored in Artaud s concept of cruelty in the theatre As a discussion of the influence of Shakespeare and his contemporaries on Artaud and the reciprocal influence of Artaud on contemporary interpretations of early modern drama this book is an original addition to both the fields of early modern theatre studies and modern drama MOVING MIRROR OF THEORY:

RECALIBRATING LITERARY INTERPRETATION FROM FORMALISM TO HISTORY Dr. HITESH B JOSHI,2025-10-13 The Moving Mirror of Theory Recalibrating Literary Interpretation from Formalism to History An Evolving Theoretical Lens is neither a passive chronicle nor a nostalgic survey it is an audacious re inscription of the critical enterprise itself The work traces with deliberate precision the tectonic shifts by which literary interpretation has been wrested from the sanctified autonomy of the text and thrust into the volatile matrices of history ideology and power Commencing in the crystalline bastions of Formalism and New Criticism where the literary artifact was venerated as a self enclosed aesthetic mechanism

the book charts the subsequent insurgencies that refused such hermetic purity Structuralism Post Structuralism Marxist hermeneutics Feminist insurgencies Postcolonial re readings and the restless energies of New Historicism are not merely enumerated but interrogated as interlocking vectors in a ceaseless dialectic of meaning making Here theory is figured as a moving mirror never static never innocent always refracting the literary text through the inflections of its own historical moment Recalibration becomes both a method and a necessity an ongoing attunement of critical lenses to the shifting constellations of culture politics and epistemology The result is a book that does not simply instruct how to read it compels the reader to reimagine what reading can signify in a world where literature is at once artifact agent and archive of human becoming For scholars students and reflective practitioners of criticism it offers not closure but an invitation to inhabit with rigor and imagination the evolving horizons of interpretation itself
