Site and Composition Enis Aldallal, Husam AlWaer, Soumyen Bandyopadhyay, 2016-06-10 Site and Composition examines design strategies and tactics in site making It is concerned with the need for a renewed understanding of the site in the twenty first century and the need for a critical position regarding the continued tendency to view the site as an isolated fragment severed from its wider context The book argues revisiting the traditional instruments or means of both siting and composition in Architecture to explore their true potential in achieving connections between site and context Through the various examples studied here it is suggested that such instrumental means have the potential for achieving greater poetic outcomes The book focuses on the works of twentieth century architects of wide ranging persuasion Peter Eisenman Le Corbusier Frank Lloyd Wright Alvaro Siza Herzog and de Meuron and Charles Correa for example who have strived in quite different ways to achieve deeper engagement with the physical qualities of place and context Departing from a reconsideration of the fragment Site and Composition emphasises the role of the positive fragment in achieving both historical continuity and renewed wholeness The potential of both planimetric and sectional compositional methods are explored emphasising the importance of reciprocity between inside and outside between fragment and the whole as well as materiality Written in a clear and accessible manner this book makes vital reading for both researchers and students of architecture and urbanism

The Architecture of Light Mary Ann Steane, 2012-11-12 Reviewing the use of natural light by architects in the era of electricity this book aims to show that natural light not only remains a potential source of order in architecture but that natural lighting strategies impose a usefully creative discipline on design Considering an approach to environmental context that sees light as a critical aspect of place this book explores current attitudes to natural light by offering a series of in depth studies of recent projects and the particular lighting issues they have addressed It gives a more nuanced appraisal of these lighting strategies by setting them within their broader topographic climatic and cultural contexts

Disclosing Horizons Nicholas Temple, 2006-11-22 This study examines the influence of perspective on architecture highlighting how critical historical changes in the representation and perception of space continue to inform the way architects design Since its earliest developments perspective was conceived as an exemplary form of representation that served as an ideal model of how everyday existence could be measured and ultimately judged Temple argues that underlying the symbolic and epistemological meanings of perspective there prevails a deeply embedded redemptive view of the world that is deemed perfectible Temple explores this idea through a genealogical investigation of the cultural and philosophical contexts of perspective throughout history highlighting how these developments influenced architectural thought This broad historical enquiry is accompanied by a series of case studies of modern or contemporary buildings each demonstrating a particular affinity with the accompanying historical model of perspective

The Worlds of John Wick Caitlin G. More than Buildings Sérgio Padrão Fernandes, João Silva Leite, Carlos Dias Coelho, 2025-02-03 More than Buildings studies the buildings typology in Portuguese cities and their relationship with the program the way in which it responds to a function the territory where it is integrated and with time and the way in which built forms evolve The book is structured around a set of key theoretical texts that highlight the potential of knowledge about typology and its specific formal characteristics in the production of new architectural objects In this sense the book has a didactic value based on the theoretical synthesis it produces which allows it to expose certain spatial and formal attributes of the typologies and thus constitute a reference for new processes of architectural production The method of analysis and decomposition of the case studies presented in each chapter provide a useful reading and interpretation key for different readers The typology should be understood as a reference in the act of designing demonstrating how to understand the elementary formal and spatial principles For the municipal authorities or other political decision makers the book will enable them to interpret the value of typology and its relevance in the production of cities This data could be useful for example in planning actions that aim at preserving or converting urban areas of architectural value The book will be relevant to readers within an academic framework and in the professional field engaged in work around architecture cities planning and conservation

Architectural and Urban Subsymmetries Jin-Ho Park, 2022-09-24 This book focuses on symmetries in the analysis and synthesis of architectural designs Crucial in the history of architecture principles of symmetry provided the means to achieve balance and harmony of spatial composition in architecture Less well known is the importance of symmetry principles in the analysis of the distinct constituents in a contemporary architectural design which may at first glance appear disorganized or even random The revelation of different hierarchical levels wherein various types of symmetry or subsymmetry are superimposed provides a key for deciphering the underlying structure of spatial logic The interaction between local and global subsymmetries is of particular interest Operating with symmetry concepts in this manner offers architects designers and students an explicit method for understanding the symmetrical logics of sophisticated designs and gaining insights into new designs This book has two complementary objectives to explore the fundamental principles of architectural composition founded on the algebraic structure of symmetry groups in mathematics and to apply the principles in the analysis and synthesis of architectural and urban designs By viewing and decomposing architectural and urban designs in this manner the hidden spatial logic and underlying order in a design become transparent
