Folly Joseph Conrad,2018-11-09 Almayer s Folly published in 1895 is Joseph Conrad s first novel Set in the late 19th century it centres on the life of the Dutch trader Kaspar Almayer in the Borneo jungle and his relationship to his mixed heritage daughter Nina PlotAlmayer s Folly is about a poor businessman who dreams of finding a hidden gold mine and becoming very wealthy He is a white European married to a native Malayan they have one daughter named Nina He fails to find the goldmine and comes home saddened Previously he had heard that the British were to conquer the Pantai River and he had built a large lavish house near where he resided at the time in order to welcome the invaders However the conquest never took place and the house remained unfinished Some passing Dutch seamen had called the house Almayer s Folly Now Almayer continually goes out for long trips but eventually he stops doing so and stays home with his hopeless daydreams of riches and splendor His native wife loathes him for this One day a Malayan prince Dain Maroola came to see Almayer about trading and while there he falls in love with Nina Mrs Almayer kept arranging meetings for Nina and Dain She wanted them to marry so her daughter could stay native because she was highly distrustful of the white men and their ways Dain left but vowed to return to help Almayer find the gold mine When he does return he goes straight to Lakamba a Malayan rajah and told him that he found the gold mine and that some Dutchmen had captured his ship The rajah tells him to kill Almayer before the Dutch arrive because he is not needed to find the gold now The following morning an unidentifiable native corpse is found floating in the river wearing an ankle bracelet very similar to Dain s Almayer was distraught because Dain was his only chance at finding the secret mine The corpse was actually of his slave who had died when a canoe overturned Mrs Almayer suggested that Dain put his anklet and ring on the body Mrs Almayer planned to smuggle Dain away from the Dutch so he would not be arrested She snuck Nina away from her father who was drinking with the Dutch When he awoke from his drunken stupor a native slave girl told him where Nina had run away to and Almayer tracked her to Dain s hiding place Nina refused to go back to avoid the slurs of all the white society During all this arguing the slave girl had informed the Dutch of Dain's whereabouts Almayr said that he could never forgive Nina but would help them escape by taking them to the mouth of the river where a canoe would rescue them from the Dutch. After they had escaped Almayr erased the lover's footprints and went back to his house. Mrs Almayr ran away to the rajah for protection taking all Dain's dowry with her. All alone Almayr broke all his furniture in his home office, piled it in the center of the room and burned it along with his entire house to the ground. He spent the rest of his days in His Folly where he began smoking opium to forget his daughter. He eventually died there.

Joseph Conrad, born Józef Teodor Konrad Korzeniowski, 3 December 1857 – 3 August 1924, was a Polish-British writer regarded as one of the greatest novelists to write in the English language. Though he did not speak English fluently until his twenties, he was a master prose stylist who brought a non-English sensibility into English literature.

note 1 Conrad wrote stories and novels, many with a nautical setting that depict trials of the human spirit in the midst of what he saw as an impassive, inscrutable universe.

Almayr's Folly Joseph Conrad, 2020-05-15 Kaspar Mäkan

The well-known shrill voice startled Almayr from his dream of splendid future into the unpleasant realities of the present hour. An unpleasant voice too. He had heard it for many years and with every year he liked it less. No matter, there would be an end to all this soon. He shuffled uneasily but took no further notice of the call. Leaning with both his elbows on the balustrade of the verandah, he went on looking fixedly at the great river that flowed indifferent and hurried before his eyes. He liked to look at it about the time of sunset, perhaps because at that time the sinking sun would spread a glowing gold tinge on the waters of the Pantai and Almayr's thoughts were often busy with gold. Gold he had failed to secure; the others had secured dishonestly, of course, or gold he meant to secure yet through his own honest exertions for himself and Nina. He absorbed himself in his dream of wealth and power away from this coast where he had dwelt for so many years, forgetting the bitterness of toil and strife in the vision of a great and splendid reward. They would live in Europe, he and his daughter. They would be rich and respected. Nobody would think of her mixed blood in the presence of her great beauty and of his immense wealth. Witnessing her triumphs, he would grow young again; he would forget the twenty-five years of heart-breaking struggle on this coast where he felt like a prisoner. All this was nearly within his reach. Let only Dain return. And return soon, he must, in his own interest, for his own share. He was now more than a week late. Perhaps he would return to night. Such were Almayr's thoughts as standing on the verandah of his new but already decaying house that last failure of his life, he looked on the broad river. There was no tinge of gold on it this evening for it had been swollen by the rains and rolled an angry and muddy flood under his inattentive eyes, carrying small drift wood and big dead logs and whole uprooted trees with branches and foliage amongst which the water swirled and roared angrily.
