Ostwalt,2012-11-29 The Scandinavian Nordic countries of Denmark Norway Sweden and Finland experienced the effects of the German invasion in April 1940 in very different ways Collaboration resistance and co belligerency were only some of the short term consequences Each country s historiography has undergone enormous changes in the seventy years since the invasion and this collection by leading historians examines the immediate effects of Hitler s aggression as well as the long term legacies for each country s self image and national identity The Scandinavian countries war experience fundamentally changed how each nation functioned in the post war world by altering political structures the dynamics of their societies the inter relationships between the countries and the popular view of the wartime political and social responses to totalitarian threats Hitler was no respecter of the rights of the Scandinavian nations but he and his associates dealt surprisingly differently with each of them In the post war period this has caused problems of interpretation for political and cultural historians alike Drawing on the latest research this volume will be a welcome addition to the comparative histories of Scandinavia and the Second World War Counting Religion in Britain, 1970-2020 Clive D. Field,2021-12-09 Counting

Religion in Britain 1970 2020 the fourth volume in the author s chronological history of British secularization sheds significant new light on the nature scale and timing of religious change in Britain during the past half century with particular reference to quantitative sources Adopting a key performance indicators approach twenty one facets of personal religious belonging behaving and believing are examined offering a much wider range of lenses through which the health of religion can be viewed and appraised than most contemporary scholarship Summative analysis of these indicators by means of a secularization dashboard leads to a reaffirmation of the validity of secularization in its descriptive sense as the dominant narrative and direction of travel since 1970 while acknowledging that it is an incomplete process and without endorsing all aspects of the paradigmatic expression of secularization as a by product of modernization Complexifying Religion

Andrei-Razvan Coltea,2023-07-31 This book provides an original and challenging perspective of religions as abstract complex adaptive systems using an interdisciplinary approach to try to understand what religions are and how they function two fundamental issues which despite an intense struggle from several fields have not yet been resolved What is the source of religious belief How do religions work and what are they made of Why is religion so important for us that it has survived centuries of scientific progress and secularization Why are people religious even outside religion The book addresses these questions using an interdisciplinary approach that seeks to untangle the Gordian knot of defining religion In short they can be considered entropy reducing technologies What differentiates them from other meaning producing systems is their configuration which employs specific building blocks as tools for mitigating entropy which are also subsystems and combine in various ways to build a unique configuration rituals myths taboos supernatural agents authority identity superstitions moral obligations afterlife beliefs and the sacred As a reaction to perturbances or pressure systems can collapse Inspired by Nicholas Nassim Taleb it is in this book referred to as fragility the negative reaction of systems to random events and four parameters can be used to evaluate it in religious systems monotonicity the inability to learn from past mistakes coupling linking with other systems such as political or economic centralization and stress starvation Several case studies are provided in order to test the theoretical claims made in this book based on the author s field research in Romania Japan North Korea and Mongolia and offering details that could be of interest to casual readers students and researchers of religion

Religion in the Anthropocene Celia Deane-Drummond, Sigurd Bergmann, Markus Vogt, 2018-01-01 Religion in the Anthropocene charts a new direction in humanities scholarship through serious engagement with the geopolitical concept of the Anthropocene Drawing on religious studies theology social science history philosophy and what can be broadly termed as environmental humanities this collection represents a groundbreaking critical analysis of diverse narratives on the Anthropocene The contributors to this volume recognize that the Anthropocene began as a geological concept the age of the humans but that its implications are much wider than this Does the Anthropocene idea challenge the possibility of a sacred Nature or is it a secularized theological anthropology more properly dealt with through traditional concepts from Roman Catholic social teaching on human ecology Not all contributors to this volume agree about the answers to these and many more different questions Readers will be challenged provoked and stimulated by this book

Faith and Freedom David Neville, Philip Matthews, 2003 Australian Christians like Christians in many societies live in a pluralistic culture This makes the issues of faith freedom and their interrelationship all the more critical In a pluralist context Christian faith and freedom must be expressed and embodied in a coherent rather than discordant way The authors of these reflections on key ethical concerns represent the Anabaptist Anglican Baptist Lutheran Methodist Presbyterian Roman Catholic and Uniting Church traditions yet there is a harmony within this plurality of theological and ecclesiological voices Contributors include John Howard Yoder Charles Birch Stanley Hauerwas and Thorwald Lorenzen

Redemption And Dialogue William R. Burrows, 2009-11-01 Redemption and Dialogue makes available for the first time both of these vital Catholic statements one on mission and evangelization and the other on dialogue with other faiths It contains authoritative commentaries on both Redemptoris Missio and Dialogue and Proclamation as well as shorter critiques by an international group of Catholic and Protestant scholars Part I the full text of John Paul II s encyclical Redemptoris Missio is followed by a meticulous discussion of the document and its development by Marcello Zago O M I Part II then presents the full text of Dialogue and Proclamation and commentary by Jacques Dupuis S J Part III provides the international assessment by Catholic and Protestant scholars of the strengths weaknesses and challenges of these documents By providing the complete text of both documents and the fruits of the international discussion they spark Redemptoris and Dialogue provides a fascinating treatment of both documents their meanings for the church and their significance for all concerned with issues in mission theology and interfaith dialogue

Conversion of a Continent Timothy J. Steigenga, Edward L. Cleary, 2007 A massive religious transformation has unfolded over the past forty years in Latin America and the Caribbean In a region where the Catholic Church could once claim a near monopoly of adherents religious pluralism has fundamentally altered the social and religious landscape Conversion of a Continent brings together twelve original essays that document and explore competing explanations for how and why conversion has occurred Contributors draw on various insights from social movement theory to religious studies to help outline its impact on national attitudes and activities gender relations identity politics and reverse waves of missions from Latin America aimed at the American immigrant community Unlike other studies on religious conversion this volume pays close attention to who converts under what circumstances the meaning of conversion to the individual and how the change affects converts beliefs and actions The thematic focus makes this volume important to students and scholars in both religious studies and Latin American studies
