Alvan Clark & Sons Deborah Jean Warner,1968 ALVAN CLARK AND SONS ARTISTS IN OPTICS DEBORAH JEAN. WARNER,2018 Alvan Clark & Sons: Artists in Optics Deborah Jean Warner,1968 Three instrument makers Alvan Clark and his sons George Bassett and Alvan Graham figured importantly in the great expansion of astronomical facilities which occurred during the second half of the 19th century Almost every American observatory built during this period and some observatories abroad housed an equatorial refracting telescope and often auxiliary apparatus as well made by the Clarks Their optical work recognized as unexcelled anywhere in the world was the first significant American contribution to astronomical instrument making While American telescopes had been made before none compared with those of European manufacture by the end of the 19th century partly because of the example set by Alvan Clark Sons several other Americans were making fine astronomical instruments Alvan Clark and Sons Artists in Optics (Classic Reprint) Deborah Jean Warner,2017-09-17 Excerpt from Alvan Clark and Sons Artists in Optics Clarks made the objectives for the largest refracting telescopes in the world and the fifth of their efforts their 40 inch lens at the Yerkes Observatory has never been surpassed Their optical work which was recognized as unexcelled anywhere in the world was the first significant American contribution to astronomical instrument making American telescopes had been made before but none compared to those of European manufacture by the end of the 19th century however partly because of the example set by Alvan Clark Sons several other Americans were making fine astronomical instruments About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works A History of the Photographic Lens Rudolf Kingslake,1989-11-22 The lens is generally the most expensive and least understood part of any camera In this book Rudolf Kingslake traces the historical development of the various types of lenses from Daguerre's invention of photography in 1839 through lenses commonly used today From an early lens still being manufactured for use in low cost cameras to designs made possible through such innovations as lens coating rare earth glasses and computer aided lens design and testing the author details each major advance in design and fabrication The book explains how and why each new lens type was developed and why most of them have since been abandoned This authoritative history of lens technology also includes brief biographies of several outstanding lens designers and manufacturers of the past Henry Ives Cobb's Chicago Edward W. Wolner,2011-06-30 When championing the commercial buildings and homes that made the Windy City famous one can't help but mention the brilliant names of their architects Daniel Burnham Louis Sullivan and Frank Lloyd

Wright among others But few people are aware of Henry Ives Cobb 1859 1931 the man responsible for an extraordinarily rich chapter in the city's turn of the century building boom and fewer still realize Cobb's lasting importance as a designer of the private and public institutions that continue to enrich Chicago's exceptional architectural heritage Henry Ives Cobb's Chicago is the first book about this distinguished architect and the magnificent buildings he created including the Newberry Library the Chicago Historical Society the Chicago Athletic Association the Fisheries Building for the 1893 World's Fair and the Chicago Federal Building Cobb filled a huge institutional void with his inventive Romanesque and Gothic buildings something that the other architect giants occupied largely with residential and commercial work did not do Edward W Wolner argues that these constructions and the enterprises they housed including the first buildings and master plan for the University of Chicago signaled that the city had come of age that its leaders were finally pursuing the highest ambitions in the realms of culture and intellect Assembling a cast of colorful characters from a free wheeling age gone by and including over 140 images of Cobb's most creative buildings Henry Ives Cobb's Chicago is a rare achievement a dynamic portrait of an architect whose institutional designs decisively changed the city's identity during its most critical phase of development

Rosse Many great discoveries were also made with smaller instruments when placed in the capable hands of the Struve dynasty F W Bessel Angelo Secchi and S W Burnham to name but a few Nor were all great observers of professional ilk The book explores the contributions made by the clerical astronomers William Rutter Dawes Thomas William Webb T E R Philips and T H E C Espin as well as the lonely vigils of E E Barnard William F Denning and Charles Grover And in the 20th century the work of Percival Lowell Leslie Peltier Eugene M Antoniadi Clyde Tombaugh Walter Scott Houston David H Levy and Sir Patrick Moore is fully explored Generously illustrated throughout this treasure trove of astronomical history shows how each observer s work led to seminal developments in science and providing key insights into how we go about exploring the heavens today Bulletin United States National Museum,1971 The Long Space Age Alexander C. MacDonald,2017-01-01 A NASA insider highlights the current and historic roles of private enterprise in humanity s pursuit of spaceflight Care of Astronomical Telescopes and Accessories M. Barlow Pepin,2006-03-30 Commercially made astronomical telescopes are better and less expensive than ever before and their optical and mechanical performance can be superb When a good quality telescope fails to perform as well as it might the reason is quite probably that it needs a little care and attention Here is a complete guide for anyone who wants to understand more than just the basics of astronomical telescopes and accessories and how to maintain them in the peak of condition The latest on safely adjusting cleaning and maintaining your equipment is combined with thoroughly updated methods from the old masters Here too are details of choosing new and used optics and accessories along with enhancements you can make to extend their versatility and useful lifetime This book is for you Really Looking after an astronomical telescope isn t only for the experts although there are some things that only an expert should attempt and every serious amateur astronomer will find invaluable information here gleaned from Barlow Pepin s many years experience working with optical instruments History of Astronomy John Lankford,2013-03-07 This Encyclopedia traces the history of the oldest science from the ancient world to the space age in over 300 entries by leading experts Politics and Culture of the Civil War Era Robert Walter Johannsen,2006 Robert W Johannsen professor emeritus of the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign is one of the leading Jacksonian and Civil War era historians of his generation Works such as his Stephen A Douglas and To the Halls of the Montezumas have cemented his place in period scholarship He also has mentored literally dozens of professional historians In his honor eleven of his students have gathered to contribute new essays on the period s history On display here are cutting edge examinations of thought and culture in the late Jacksonian era new considerations of Manifest Destiny and fascinating interpretations of the lives of the two political giants of the period Stephen A Douglas and Abraham Lincoln Democratic Party politics and Civil War era religion also come into play Instruments of Science Robert Bud,Deborah Jean Warner,1998 With over 300 entries from the ancient abacus to X ray diffraction as represented by a ca 1900 photo of an X ray machine as well as the latest research into filmless x ray systems this tour of the history of scientific instruments in multiple disciplines provides context and a bibliography for each entry Newer conceptions of instrument include organisms widely used in research e.g. the mouse, drosophila and E. coli Bandw. photographs and diagrams showcase more traditional instruments from The Science Museum London and the Smithsonian's National Museum of American History Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland, OR The Observatory, 1997 Classic Telescopes Neil English, 2012-08-30 Classic telescopes are of interest to amateur astronomers for a variety of reasons There are the dedicated collectors but there are also many amateurs who love the nostalgia they inspire These telescopes feel different from any contemporary telescope and perhaps have a unique ability to reconnect the owner to a bygone age of craftsmanship This book takes a look at traditional telescopes built by the great instrument makers of the 18th and 19th centuries particularly the dynastic telescope makers including Dollond, Alvan Clark, Thomas Cooke, Sons and Carl Zeiss Also included are lesser luminaries such as John Brashear, John Calver, William Wray, Henry Fitz and William Henry Moseley Classic Telescopes covers the key features of the telescopes designed by these manufacturers and shows how a heady combination of market trends, instrument condition and pedigree will dictate their prices at auction Classic Telescopes also shows the reader how to find real bargains Interviews with top classic telescope collectors and users provide the best tips of prospecting for a genuine acquisition Alvan Clark and Sons, Artists in Optics Deborah Jean Warner, 1968 Mapping the Spectrum Klaus Hentschel, 2002 Ever since the boom of spectrum analysis in the 1860s spectroscopy has become one of the most fruitful research technologies in analytic chemistry, physics, astronomy and other sciences This book is the first in-depth study of the ways in which various types of spectra, especially the sun's Fraunhofer lines, have been recorded, displayed and interpreted The book assesses the virtues and pitfalls of various types of depictions including hand sketches, woodcuts, engravings, lithographs and from the late 1870s onwards, photomechanical reproductions The material of a 19th-century engraver or lithographer, the daily research practice of a spectroscopist in the laboratory or a student's use of spectrum posters in the classroom, all are looked at and documented here For pioneers of photography such as John Herschel or Hermann Wilhelm Vogel, the spectrum even served as a prime test object for gauging the color sensitivity of their processes This is a broad contextual portrayal of the visual culture of spectroscopy in the 19th and early 20th centuries The illustrations are not confined to spectra; they show instruments, laboratories, people at work and plates of printing manuals The result is a multifaceted description focusing on the period from Fraunhofer up to the beginning of Bohr's quantum theory A great deal of new and fascinating material from two dozen archives has been included A must for anyone interested in the history of modern science or in research practice using visual representations
