Extraordinary Bodies Rosemarie Garland Thomson, 2017-03-07 Extraordinary Bodies is a cornerstone text of disability studies establishing the field upon its publication in 1997. Framing disability as a minority discourse rather than a medical one, the book added depth to oppressive narratives and revealed novel liberatory ones. Through her incisive readings of such texts as Harriet Beecher Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin and Rebecca Harding Davis's Life in the Iron Mills, Rosemarie Garland Thomson exposed the social forces driving representations of disability. She encouraged new ways of looking at texts and their depiction of the body and stretched the limits of what counted as a text, considering freak shows and other pop culture artifacts as reflections of community rites and fears. Garland Thomson also elevated the status of African American novels by Toni Morrison and Audre Lorde. Extraordinary Bodies laid the groundwork for an appreciation of disability culture and an inclusive new approach to the study of social marginalization. Disabled American Veterans ... Disabled American Veterans, 2016 Disability Studies and the Inclusive Classroom Susan Baglieri, Arthur Shapiro, 2012. This work's mission is to integrate the fields of disability studies and inclusive education. It focuses on the broad foundational topics that comprise disability studies: culture, language, history, etc., and moves into the more practical topics normally associated with inclusive education. Children's Books in Print, 2007, 2006 Employment, Disability, and the Americans with Disabilities Act Peter David Blanck, 2000. The Americans with Disabilities Act was heralded by its congressional sponsors as an emancipation proclamation for people with disabilities and as the most important civil rights legislation passed in a generation. This book offers an assessment of what has actually occurred since the ADA's enactment in 1990. In empirically based articles, contributors from the fields of law, health policy, government, and business reveal the unsoundness of charges from the right that the ADA will bankrupt industry and assumptions on the left that the ADA will prove ineffective in helping people with disabilities enter and remain in the workforce. Media, Performative Identity, and the New American Freak Show Jessica L. Williams, 2017-10-04. This book traces how the American freak show has re-emerged in new visual forms in the 21st century. It explores the ways in which moving image media transmits and contextualizes, reinterprets, and appropriates the freak show model into a new American freak show. It investigates how new freak representations introduce narratives about sex, gender, and cultural perceptions of people with disabilities. The chapters examine such representations found in horror films, including a prolonged look at Freaks (1932) and The Texas Chainsaw Massacre (1974), documentaries such as Murderball (2005) and TLC's Push Girls (2012), 2013 disability pornography, including the pornographic documentary Sick: The Life and Death of Bob Flanagan, Supermasochist (1997), and the music icons Marilyn Manson and Lady Gaga in their portrayals of disability and freakishness. Through this book, we learn that the visual culture that has emerged takes the place of the traditional freak show but opens new channels of interpretation and identification through its use of mediated images as well as the altered freak norm relationship that it has fostered. In its illumination of the relationship between normal and freakish bodies through different media this book will appeal to students and academics interested in disability studies gender studies film theory critical race theory and cultural studies Gender Equality Linda C. McClain, Joanna L. Grossman, 2009-07-31 Citizenship is the common language for expressing aspirations to democratic and egalitarian ideals of inclusion participation and civic membership However there continues to be a significant gap between formal commitments to gender equality and equal citizenship in the laws and constitutions of many countries as well as in international human rights documents and the reality of women s lives This volume presents a collection of original works that examine this persisting inequality through the lens of citizenship Distinguished scholars in law political science and women s studies investigate the many dimensions of women s equal citizenship including constitutional citizenship democratic citizenship social citizenship sexual and reproductive citizenship and global citizenship Gender Equality takes stock of the progress toward and remaining impediments to securing equal citizenship for women develops strategies for pursuing that goal and identifies new questions that will shape further inquiries Diversity in Music Education Teresa Stewart-Meli, Victor Antonio Lozada, 2025-07-24 This key resource helps music educators develop a thorough understanding of important issues working with certain diverse student populations and provides pedagogical tools to help educators serve these students Teresa Stewart Meli and Victor Antonio Lozada discuss the theoretical foundations and contexts of diversity in the classroom before delving into the wealth of pedagogical strategies and tools instructors can employ to cater to individual needs of students They specifically address emergent bi multilingual students students with physical variations neurodiverse students and gifted and talented students as well as those with intersectional identities The book serves as a first step in understanding how to leverage students individual strengths and selves for music education in a variety of settings including general music classrooms performing ensembles and private studios It provides a valuable starting point for both pre service and in service teachers alike who wish to create a more inclusive music education Proceedings of the Disabled American Veterans ... National Convention Disabled American Veterans, Disabled American Veterans. National Convention, 2003 Civil Disabilities Nancy J. Hirschmann, Beth Linker, 2014-12-24 An estimated one billion people around the globe live with a disability this number grows exponentially when family members friends and care providers are included Various countries and international organizations have attempted to guard against discrimination and secure basic human rights for those whose lives are affected by disability Yet despite such attempts many disabled persons in the United States and throughout the world still face exclusion from full citizenship and membership in their respective societies They are regularly denied employment housing health care access to buildings and the right to move freely in public spaces At base such discrimination reflects a tacit yet pervasive assumption that disabled persons do not belong in society Civil Disabilities challenges such norms and practices urging a reconceptualization of disability and citizenship to secure a rightful place for disabled persons in society Essays from leading scholars in a diversity of fields offer critical perspectives on current citizenship studies which still largely assume an ableist world Placing historians in conversation with anthropologists sociologists with literary critics and musicologists with political scientists this interdisciplinary volume presents a compelling case for reimagining citizenship that is more consistent inclusive and just in both theory and practice By placing disability front and center in academic and civic discourse Civil Disabilities tests the very notion of citizenship and transforms our understanding of disability and belonging Contributors Emily Abel Douglas C Baynton Susan Burch Allison C Carey Faye Ginsburg Nancy J Hirschmann Hannah Joyner Catherine Kudlick Beth Linker Alex Lubet Rayna Rapp Susan Schweik Tobin Siebers Lorella Terzi Proceedings of The Disabled American Veterans 2007 National Convention, August 11-14, 2007, 110-1 House Document 110-77 ,2008 2000 National Convention Proceedings of the Disabled American Veterans Disabled American Veterans.
