Fritz, 2011-10-14 On June 22 1941 Germany launched the greatest land assault in history on the Soviet Union an attack that Adolf Hitler deemed crucial to ensure German economic and political survival As the key theater of the war for the Germans the eastern front consumed enormous levels of resources and accounted for 75 percent of all German casualties Despite the significance of this campaign to Germany and to the war as a whole few English language publications of the last thirty five years have addressed these pivotal events In Ostkrieg Hitler's War of Extermination in the East Stephen G Fritz bridges the gap in scholarship by incorporating historical research from the last several decades into an accessible comprehensive and coherent narrative His analysis of the Russo German War from a German perspective covers all aspects of the eastern front demonstrating the interrelation of military events economic policy resource exploitation and racial policy that first motivated the invasion This in depth account challenges accepted notions about World War II and promotes greater understanding of a topic that has been neglected by historians

Following the wildly fluctuating fortunes of the opposing sides there was a real risk that Rommels Afrika Korps and his Italian allies would break through and seize Cairo with catastrophic strategic and political implications for the Allies That this never happened is of course well known but as this highly readable yet authoritative work reveals there were moments of extreme peril and anxiety Churchills bold nay desperate decisions concerning key appointments Montgomerys stubborn refusal to be rushed Rommels chronic logistic problems and critical air superiority are all examined in expert detail The authors description of the actual fighting is brought to life by personal accounts as well as his complete grasp of the plan and tactics involved The result seventy five years on is a delightfully fresh and fascinating account of one of the iconic battles not just of the War but in military history WORLD WAR TWO 1942 MARTIN.
