1998 County And City Extra:

Atlanta Paradox David L. Sjoquist, 2000-05-25 Despite the rapid creation of jobs in the greater Atlanta region poverty in the city itself remains surprisingly high and Atlanta's economic boom has yet to play a significant role in narrowing the gap between the suburban rich and the city poor This book investigates the key factors underlying this paradox The authors show that the legacy of past residential segregation as well as the more recent phenomenon of urban sprawl both work against inner city blacks Many remain concentrated near traditional black neighborhoods south of the city center and face prohibitive commuting distances now that jobs have migrated to outlying northern suburbs The book also presents some promising signs Few whites still hold overt negative stereotypes of blacks and both whites and blacks would prefer to live in more integrated neighborhoods The emergence of a dynamic black middle class and the success of many black owned businesses in the area also give the authors reason to hope that racial inequality will not remain entrenched in a city where so much else has changed A Volume in the Multi City Study of Urban Inequality Up in Here Mark Dostert, 2014-09-01 Raised in a comfortable Dallas suburb Mark Dostert crossed cultural and socioeconomic boundaries as a college student by volunteering as a counselor at the Cook County Juvenile Temporary Detention Center Chicago's infamous 500 cell juvenile jail known locally as the Audy Home Inmates there had been indicted on first degree murder rape and carjacking charges yet some enthusiastically met with him for weekly Bible based lessons and discussions Dostert formed friendly relationships with his students and envisioned becoming an even closer mentor to the legally troubled boys when he became an employee there after graduating from college The juveniles attitudes toward Dostert change however once he begins working as a Children's Attendant at the Audy Home clocking in for eight hours every day to enforce rules and maintain order on the cellblocks His colorblind altruistic volunteer world fractures into a full time emotionally charged reality of white and black and brown When the boys change he must change too Despite wanting to help them feel human in such a dehumanizing environment Dostert realizes he needs to make sure his kindness is not perceived as weakness Dostert learns to march the juveniles through the facility to school recreation activities and chapel He must strip search them interrupt their brawls root through their cells for drugs and handcrafted weapons and monitor group showers to thwart sexual extortion and the inscription of gang symbols in soap on walls and mirrors Week after week and month after month the job exposes hidden views not only of the juveniles and the system incarcerating them but of Children's Attendant Dostert himself From one man's struggle to reconcile his humanitarian intentions with his actual job responsibilities in what to him is a strange new world emerges a sincere effort to confront the realities of America's persisting racial tensions and institutionalized poverty Dostert's story is an honest and unflinching journey from thinking he has many of the answers for how to change this world to discovering how little he really knows about the world he is trying to change De-Facing Power Clarissa Rile Hayward, 2000-09-14 A sophisticated new view of power as a network of social boundaries Social Capital and Poor Communities Susan Saegert, J. Phillip

Thompson, Mark R. Warren, 2002-01-10 Neighborhood support groups have always played a key role in helping the poor survive but combating poverty requires more than simply meeting the needs of day to day subsistence Social Capital and Poor Communities shows the significant achievements that can be made through collective strategies which empower the poor to become active partners in revitalizing their neighborhoods Trust and cooperation among residents and local organizations such as churches small businesses and unions form the basis of social capital which provides access to resources that would otherwise be out of reach to poor families Social Capital and Poor Communities examines civic initiatives that have built affordable housing fostered small businesses promoted neighborhood safety and increased political participation At the core of each initiative lie local institutions church congregations parent teacher groups tenant associations and community improvement alliances The contributors explore how such groups build networks of leaders and followers and how the social power they cultivate can be successfully transferred from smaller goals to broader political advocacy For example community based groups often become platforms for leaders hoping to run for local office Church based groups and interfaith organizations can lobby for affordable housing job training programs and school improvement Social Capital and Poor Communities convincingly demonstrates why building social capital is so important in enabling the poor to seek greater access to financial resources and public services As the contributors make clear this task is neither automatic nor easy The book's frank discussions of both successes and failures illustrate the pitfalls conflicts of interest resistance from power elites and racial exclusion that can threaten even the most promising initiatives The impressive evidence in this volume offers valuable insights into how goal formation leadership and cooperation can be effectively cultivated resulting in a remarkable force for change and a rich public life even for those communities mired in seemingly hopeless poverty A Volume in the Ford Foundation Series on Asset Building Punishing the Poor Loïc Wacquant, 2009-05-22 A sociologist explains how over the past two decades neoliberal societies have sought to control the poor through a combination of penal sanction and welfare supervision The Library Journal, 1999 Includes beginning Sept 15 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept May a special section School library journal ISSN 0000 0035 called Junior libraries 1954 May 1961 Also issued separately Meeting Flow Objectives for the San Joaquin River Agreement, 1999 Meeting Flow Objectives for the San Joaquin River Agreement 1999-2010, 1999 Cumulative List of Organizations Described in Section 170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, 1995 The Emergency Food Assistance Act of 1998 United States. Subcommittee on Department Operations, Nutrition, and Foreign Agriculture, 1998 Library Journal, 1999 Pulse Check, 2000 Governing from Below Jefferey M. Sellers, 2002-03-04 Throughout the world more policy making and the politics that shape it take place in the urban regions where most people live This book draws on eleven case studies of similar but disparate urban regions in France Germany and the United States from the 1960s to the 1990s It documents the growth of this urban governance and develops a pioneering analysis of its causes and consequences It traces the origins to the expansion and devolution of policy making to local business mobilization and institutional interests in high tech and service activities and the incorporation of local social movements Nation states shape the possibilities for this urban governance but operate increasingly as infrastructures for local initiatives Where urban governance has succeeded in combining environmental quality and social inclusion with local prosperity local officials have built on supportive infrastructures from higher levels the local economy civil society and favourable positions in the global economy

The Age of Direct Citizen Participation Nancy C. Roberts, 2015-01-28 Citizen involvement is considered the cornerstone of democratic theory and practice Citizens today have the knowledge and ability to participate more fully in the political technical and administrative decisions that affect them On the other hand direct citizen participation is often viewed with skepticism even wariness Many argue that citizens do not have the time preparation or interest to be directly involved in public affairs and suggest instead that representative democracy or indirect citizen participation is the most effective form of government Some of the very best writings on this key topic which is at the root of the entire reinventing government movement can be found in the journals that ASPA publishes or sponsors In this collection Nancy Roberts has brought together the emerging classics on the ongoing debate over citizen involvement Her detailed introductory essay and section openers frame the key issues provide historical context and fill in any gaps not directly covered by the articles More than just an anthology The Age of Direct Citizen Participation provides a unique and useful framework for understanding this important subject It is an ideal resource for any Public Administration course involving citizen engagement and performance management

Media and Social Inequality John Pollock, 2014-06-11 This book is among the first to systematically explore the impact of community inequality on reporting political and social change Although most journalism scholars are still fascinated by the impact of media on society Media and Social Inequality explores the reverse perspective the impact of society on media Using a community structure approach and rejecting the perspective that studies of media and audiences can be reduced to the individual level of psychological phenomena all contributions examine connections between community level macro characteristics and variations in the coverage of critical issues This innovative book differs from previous community structure volumes in two ways First contributions explore a far wider range of community characteristics by employing creative methodologies modern archives and databases that facilitate larger more diverse samples multilevel and longitudinal analyses composite measures of both content and editorial judgment new technologies and social network analysis Second a traditional emphasis on media as instruments of political and social control is replaced by media as potential mirrors of social change exploring bottom up measures of vulnerability concentrated disadvantage and ethnic diversity pluralism The volume contains two original chapters one on nationwide US coverage of the Occupy movement in the expanded introduction and another on nationwide US coverage of universal health care This book was originally published as a special issue of Mass Communication and Society Water Transfer Program for the San Joaquin River Exchange Contractors Water Authority, 2005-2014 ,2004 A View from the Terraces - Part Two - 1998-99 to 2014-15 Steve Wilson,2015-11-10 Part two of a recollection of more than fifty years of watching professional sport across Britain and Europe The memories in this volume cover hundreds of games of Football Rugby League Cricket and Ice Hockey
