NATO and Warsaw Pact Armoured Fighting Vehicles of the Cold War

Michael Green, 2025-08-05 This authoritative and superbly illustrated book covers the full range of AFVs in service with NATO and WP armies over the four decades of the Cold War. While tanks were the most recognized armored vehicles during the Cold War, NATO and Warsaw Pact WP armies fielded a wide array of armored fighting vehicles (AFVs). These included armored cars, armored personnel carriers (APCs), anti-aircraft vehicles, and self-propelled artillery. Over the Cold War years, nations both progressively developed series of AFVs and introduced entirely new ranges, APCs vital to all frontline units evolved from machine-gun armed battlefield taxis such as the US M113 and Soviet BTR-60 series into sophisticated infantry fighting vehicles. The Soviet BMP-1, US Bradley M2/M3, West German Marder and British Warrior and CVR series were classic examples of the latter with numerous variants. The Soviet BRDM-2 series was the most numerous armored car. The British Army fielded the Saladin, Ferret, and Fox, and the German Army introduced the eight-wheeled Luchs and tracked SPz 11-2. Early anti-aircraft vehicles such as the American M42 with two 40mm Bofors were superseded by the formidable Soviet ZSU-23/4 Shilka and the West German Gepard with radar-guided guns. This authoritative and superbly illustrated book covers the full range of AFVs in service with NATO and WP armies over the four decades of the Cold War. It will be an invaluable addition to the libraries of the expert and layman alike.
