• Book overview:

The book is designed to provide a conceptual framework for management accounting. It is important for student as well as the practitioner in management accounting to be aware not only of the new multidisciplinary scope of the field but also of the conceptual foundations which justify this extended scope. Contrasting with verity of management accounting books which do not introduce or integrate all these foundations and are generally restricted to an exposition of cost accounting techniques, in fact the book both asserts that the management accounting professional needs a grounding in various disciplines and justifies the adaptation of their techniques to managerial problem solving. The book reviewed some summaries of prior studies in the field of cost and managerial curriculum.

However, five conceptual foundations envisioned for management accounting are presented:

- 1- Accounting foundations.
- 2- Decisional foundations.
- 3- Organizational foundations.
- 4- Behavioral foundations, and
- 5- Strategic foundations.

A recurrent theme in each of these chapters is that a failure to grasp any of these conceptual foundations of management accounting may result in deficiencies in the management accounting system and inadequacies in the provision of the diverse services required by both the small and the complex organizations of today.

Handbook of cost and management accounting Zahirul Hoque,2010-05-28 In order to survive in the changing business environment organisations should rethink their strategic philosophy and the role of management accounting The primary focus of this book is on techniques and concepts of cost and management accounting for strategic business decisions It focuses on both conventional and contemporary issues The book will serve as a reference source for practicing accountants senior executives and managers working in human resources operations and accounting divisions As the principal focus of this book is on conceptual foundations it would also be ideal for courses in graduate programs such as master's degree MBA or Executive MBA Research, Methods and Analysis in Social Sciences and Humanities-2024 Aysel ÖZTÜRKÇÜ AKÇAY,2024-10-16 Planning the Development of Builders, Leaders and Managers for 21st-Century Business: Curriculum Review at Columbia Business School N. Capon,2012-12-06 Business and management education has an important impact on business practice throughout the world To a very large extent possession of the MBA degree is a passport into the upper reaches of management and CEOs of many major corporations have earned an MBA It is a reasonable inference that the education received by these leaders and managers during their MBA experience has an important impact on the way that businesses throughout the world are led and managed and that major corporate decisions are made The heart of the MBA education is the curriculum and curriculum design is perhaps the most important strategic function for a business school faculty to undertake In order to understand the many issues concerning this contemporary curriculum review this book examines three related contextual domains First it details the long term growth of business and management education Second it examines the major theoretical and empirical literatures on organizational evolution and decision making paying special attention to decision making in institutions of higher education Finally the book describes the previous major curriculum review at Columbia Business School in the late 1950s and the subsequent changes that formed the curriculum that was changed in 1992 This book demonstrates what can be achieved by an institution that sets high standards for its business education and assists faculty and administrators in other schools of business and management as they contemplate revision of their curricula In addition it provides a prime example of curriculum design effort in one of the leading institutions worldwide Finally it will be of interest to scholars in several different fields notably higher education curriculum review organizational decision making and long run organizational evolution

The Marketing / Accounting Interface Robin Roslender, Richard M.S. Wilson, 2013-09-13 When marketing managers and financial managers join forces within any business the result can often be poor communication on financial criteria and goals The risk of this situation occurring is inevitably present when those with different professional backgrounds and roles are working in accordance with their own norms In his seminal 1956 paper on general systems theory the economist Kenneth Boulding referred to the phenomenon of specialised ears and generalised deafness which can be seen to exist when marketing managers are financially illiterate or when financial managers lack the necessary insights to design implement and operate accounting systems which are useful to marketing managers in carrying out their roles It is increasingly difficult to attach credence to the idea of marketing managers who lack financial skills or financial managers who fail to relate to the context in which marketing managers operate Understanding the marketing accounting interface is therefore important in generating emergent properties from the interaction of marketers and accountants whereby the whole is greater than the sum of the parts The chapters in this volume seek to address this challenge This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Marketing Management
