Hinduism as a Missionary Religion Arvind Sharma, 2012-01-02 Is Hinduism a missionary religion Merely posing this question is a novel and provocative act Popular and scholarly perception both ancient and modern puts Hinduism in the non missionary category In this intriguing book Arvind Sharma re opens the question Examining the historical evidence from the major Hindu eras the Vedic classical medieval and modern periods Sharma s investigation challenges the categories used in current scholarly discourse and finds them inadequate emphasizing the need to distinguish between a missionary religion and a proselytizing one A distinction rarely made it is nevertheless an illuminating and fruitful one that resonates with insights from the comparative study of religion Ultimately concluding that Hinduism is a missionary religion but not a proselytizing one Sharma s work provides us with new insights both on Hinduism and the consideration of religion itself

Does God Exist? Hans Kung, 2006-09-22 Does God exist Who is God And can we ultimately trust in any reality These questions have been among the greatest subjects of human speculation since history began but not until modern times has the reality of God been so strongly called into doubt In this monumental study written for men and women of all faiths and of none Hans K ng the most renowned and controversial theologian in the world today first traces the rise of

Religionswissenschaft und das Christentum Hjelde,2018-09-24 What are religious studies What is theology And what is their relationship to each other In the light of such theoretical and methodological questions this historical inquiry asks what characterizes the study of Christianity within comparative religion as distinguished from that of Christian theology In the three main sections of the book representative texts from the history of comparative religion including Schleiermacher and some other theological forerunners in the 19th century are analyzed from a methodological and a material point of view On this basis an answer is sought to the following questions What has been the place of the study of Christianity within this discipline On which methodological principles has it been based And what kind of picture of Christianity has it presented

Comparing Religions Thomas Athanasius Idinopulos,Brian C. Wilson,James Constantine Hanges,2018-08-14 Given the fact that today s university students are far more culturally sophisticated than ever before Comparing Religions Possibilities and Perils brings together a distinguished group of professors of religion with years of teaching experience to address the central question of how comparison of religions should be pursued in today s classroom Covering topics such as recent theoretical approaches to comparison case studies of comparing religions in the classroom and the impact of postcolonialism and postmodernism on the modernist assumptions of comparativism the volume seeks to problematize and interrogate the field especially as it relates to emerging models of pedagogy at the university level Comparing Religions will be of especial interest to those who teach in religious studies departments or who teach courses on religion in departments of anthropology sociology and history The Divine Verdict John Gwyn Griffiths,1991 The theme of divine judgement has often been treated but usually with a concentration on one it its two main aspects either that which is seen in the present life and in history or that which is believed to occur only after death This new study seeks to combine the two aspects It also tries to cover the whole spectrum of the ancient religions Special attention is given to Israel Greece and Egypt Israel s neighbours are also considered and there are discussions of Judaism Christianity and Zoroastrianism In several areas notably in Egypt and Israel it is shown that punishment in this life is sometimes presented as a fate that man brings upon himself rather than as one imposed by God though always against a moral background derived from religion The origins of judgement after death in the Judaeo Christian tradition are examined in some detail and elements are traced to Egyptian Zoroastrian and Judaic sources

The Invention of World Religions Tomoko Masuzawa, 2005-05-15 The idea of world religions expresses a vague commitment to multiculturalism Not merely a descriptive concept world religions is actually a particular ethos a pluralist ideology a logic of classification and a form of knowledge that has shaped the study of religion and infiltrated ordinary language In this ambitious study Tomoko Masuzawa examines the emergence of world religions in modern European thought Devoting particular attention to the relation between the comparative study of language and the nascent science of religion she demonstrates how new classifications of language and race caused Buddhism and Islam to gain special significance as these religions came to be seen in opposing terms Aryan on one hand and Semitic on the other Masuzawa also explores the complex relation of world religions to Protestant theology from the hierarchical ordering of religions typical of the Christian supremacists of the nineteenth century to the aspirations of early twentieth century theologian Ernst Troeltsch who embraced the pluralist logic of world religions and by so doing sought to reclaim the universalist destiny of European modernity

Comparative Religion Kedar Nath Tiwari, 2014-01-01 It provides a study of the prevailing religions of the world By prevailing it means living and living religions we mean such religions which are still observed and followed by a considerable number of people Such religions include Hinduism Buddhism Jainism Zoroastrianism Judaism Christianity Islam and Sikhism Some may have doubts in accepting Zoroastrianism as a living religion and their doubts may not be taken as totally unfounded For hardly a few people and those also mostly in a corner of India observe this religion at present But still there is justification for taking this religion as living at least on the following two grounds 1 It is still being observed as a religion by some people howsoever small their number may be and 2 As a religion it exhibits certain such important features which are worth considering and which have exerted considerable influence upon some of the great living religions like Judaism Christianity and Islam Towards the end in the Appendix the author has also included for our brief study of some of the ancient Asian religions like Taoism Confucianism etc These religions cannot of course be regarded as living religions but still in our opinion they merit at least some of our attention due to the respect and regard they once commanded and the indelible impression they have left upon the minds of the people of the countries in which they once flourished The subject of Comparative Religion as a scientific study of the various features of the different religions of the world in a comparative perspective is relatively a late development It is hardly for a hundred years or so that the name Comparative Religion has gained currency and studies in this direction have been taken up in right earnest Such a study requires an impartial neutral and tolerant outlook and if at all there is any leaning or sympathy for any religion it must be for religions other than one is own Here the whole question regarding the methodology of a comparative study of religions may come up We may see that at least two things seem necessary though not sufficient for collecting relevant materials which will make our study faithful and authentic 1 A thorough study of the basic text or texts along with the related works belonging to a particular religion and 2 An extensive dialogue with the followers of a particular religion along with a personal survey both intensive and extensive of the various religious practices carried on by them The first one is easy to carry out Perhaps most of the writers on comparative religion adopt this way But adopting the second one in a serious and sincere spirit is not an easy task and therefore very few or hardly any adopt this method for studying religions The aim of a study like this is partly to acquaint readers with the main aspects and features of the living religions of the world and partly to suggest the points of agreement and difference among the different religions

Religious Studies and Comparative Methodology

Arvind Sharma, 2012-02-01 Comparison is at the heart of religious studies as a discipline and foundational to the field's methodology In this book Arvind Sharma introduces the term reciprocal illumination to describe the mutual enlightenment that can occur when a comparison is made between one tradition and another one method and another or between a tradition and a method Developing the concept of reciprocal illumination through historical phenomenological and psychological methods Sharma demonstrates how to use comparison while avoiding the pitfall of treating it as merely raw material for higher order generalizations

What is Religion?

Robert Crawford, 2003-09-02 We all know what religion is or do we Confronted with religious pluralism and cultural diversity it manifests itself in many forms What is Religion serves not only as an introduction to the different belief systems flourishing throughout the modern world but asks us to consider how the very boundaries of faith might be drawn now and in the future How might religion interact with political ends or permeate culture society and everyday life Is the post secular world in thrall to religions of its own kind materialism humanism medicine science And what logic separates common sense or academic knowledge from the immutable but unstable boundaries of faith Which is the more certain What does it mean to believe Combining clear accounts of contemporary global religious practice with an incisive philosophical interrogation of the dynamics and aims of belief What is Religion offers a fresh and wide ranging introduction to the perennial human questions of ritual faith ethics and salvation

Robert George Crawford, 2002 What is Religion serves not only as an introduction to the different belief systems flourishing throughout the modern world but asks us to consider how the very boundaries of faith might be drawn now and in the future

Meeting of Religions and the Trinity Gavin D'Costa, 2000-06-29 One of the most discussed topics of our time is Christianity's relation to other religions In this important new book one of Britain's leading contemporary theologians develops a sharp and penetrating critique of the pluralist position In the tradition of Alasdair MacIntyre and John Milbank D Costa shows that too often it masks a secularizing agenda traceable to the worst aspects of Enlightenment modernity Even by its own criteria pluralism does not succeed D Costa demonstrates this by exploring the meeting of the religions in its leading exponents from Christianity Judaism Hinduism and Buddhism He discovers the influence of Western modernist thought or else a veiled exclusivism not only in Hick Knitter Cohn Sherbok and Panikkar but even in Radhakrishnan and the Dalai Lama He then goes on to establish an alternative Trinitarian approach to interreligious prayer and tolerance drawing on recent discussions of other religions as vehicles of salvation The final section of the book represents the first major systematic theological study of interfaith prayer
