A Meaning-Based Approach to Art Therapy Elizabeth Hlavek, 2022-09-22. A Meaning-Based Approach to Art Therapy contextualizes the phenomena of Holocaust artwork for the field of art therapy and uses this canon of artwork to support the inclusion of logotherapy into art therapy theory and practice. The author expounds on a study in which she interviewed surviving Holocaust artists about how they were able to create their artworks while in Nazi captivity. Divided into three parts, the book follows the chronological order of her inquiry. It first presents theory, then research, and ends with implications for the practice of art therapy. The research chapters set out the process and results of the author's phenomenological inquiry. They address how art making during the Holocaust allowed captive artists to bear witness, leave a legacy, and retain their humanity. In the final part, the author reveals how art therapists can use concepts from her study to support the progress of their clients. She advocates for the application of logotherapy, an existential philosophy that emphasizes finding meaning to facilitate healing and personal growth. Practicing art therapists and students of art therapy will find this book to be an excellent resource on logotherapy, an updated perspective on existentialism, and a contemporary examination of phenomenology.

The Uses of Writing in Psychotherapy Patricia Kelley, 1990. The Uses of Writing in Psychotherapy explores the various ways in which writing can be used to increase the effectiveness, efficiency, and accountability of psychotherapy. Although writing has been used by therapists in many ways over the years, and the benefits of writing are mentioned in the professional and popular literature, this is the first volume in over 20 years that compares the curative powers of writing across theoretical approaches and with various populations. Therapists and scholars from various specialties discuss their views on writing in psychotherapy. The term writing covers a wide range of activities including expressive writing, checklists and charts, letters and art work as well as writings by therapists and clients in session and between sessions. There are informative chapters on using writing with special populations: the deaf, refugee families, the elderly and incest victims. Aimed at practicing social workers and other psychotherapists seeking new ideas for increasing the effectiveness of their practices, this interesting volume is also helpful for therapists in training and as an adjunct text for graduate courses in social work, counseling and therapy.

Art Therapy Theories Susan Hogan, 2015-12-22. Art therapists work with a range of distinct philosophical and theoretical underpinnings but as yet there has been no single book to offer an overview of these theories. Art Therapy Theories provides an introductory, non-partisan overview of art therapy theories, outlining the following therapy approaches: Cognitive Behavioural Art Therapy, Solution Focused Brief Therapy, Psychoanalytical/Freudian Art Therapy, Analytical/Jungian Art Therapy, Gestalt Art Therapy, Person Centred or Rogerian Art Therapy, Mindfulness Art Therapy, Integrative Art Therapy, the Group/Interactive Model, Feminist Art Therapy, Art Therapy as Social Action, Art Therapy as a Research Tool. Each chapter provides a non-judgemental yet analytical synopsis of each approach. No detailed knowledge is necessary to understand the different approaches as the book explains them in clear and concise English. Difficult terms and concepts are explained as they arise and a glossary of terms is also provided. Art Therapy Theories is aimed at trainee art therapists who need to demonstrate that they have a grasp of theory as well as a sense of how the theory can translate into practice. It will also appeal to seasoned therapists, counsellors and to a wide range of professionals in the mental health field.

Psychosocial Oncology and Palliative Care in Hong Kong Richard Fielding, Cecilia Lai-wan Chan, 1999-11-01. As the evidence base for clinical practice in the management of life-threatening diseases and care at the end of life increases, it is apparent that psychosocial factors play a most profound role influencing outcomes at every level, from quality of life and satisfaction with clinical services through to duration of survival and mortality. This book documents some but by no means all of the developments that have occurred in the past decade in the area of psychosocial oncology and palliative care in Hong Kong.

Contributions describing interventions by practitioners involved in service development in nursing social work and clinical psychology are complemented by chapters describing academic research and theoretical perspectives The unique cultural mix of Hong Kong is given rich emphasis in the adaptations made by practitioners and academics to the interventions and theoretical issues outlined As both a documentation of the efforts of some of those who helped psychosocial oncology and palliative care evolve in Hong Kong and as a reflection of the need to more critically evaluate the impact of intervention efforts in health care this volume provides a valuable resource Nurses social workers psychologists and doctors involved in delivering or planning cancer treatment or palliative care will find this book useful This book challenges many attitudes prevalent in Hong Kong and will we hope begin to break some of the taboos that continue to generate unnecessary suffering among the people cared for by our health care systems The valuable experience documented in these pages can help others build the next generation of services to those with life threatening illness and those at the end of life
