Machine Art, 1934 Jennifer Jane Marshall, 2019-01-23 In 1934 New York s Museum of Modern Art staged a major exhibition of ball bearings airplane propellers pots and pans cocktail tumblers petri dishes protractors and other machine parts and products The exhibition titled Machine Art explored these ordinary objects as works of modern art teaching museumgoers about the nature of beauty and value in the era of mass production Telling the story of this extraordinarily popular but controversial show Jennifer Jane Marshall examines its history and the relationship between the museum s director Alfred H Barr Jr and its curator Philip Johnson who oversaw it She situates the show within the tumultuous climate of the interwar period and the Great Depression considering how these unadorned objects served as a response to timely debates over photography abstract art the end of the American gold standard and John Dewey s insight that how a person experiences things depends on the context in which they are encountered An engaging investigation of interwar American modernism Machine Art 1934 reveals how even simple things can serve as a defense against uncertainty

Creativity and Innovation Among Science and Art Christine Charyton, 2015-01-22 This edited book will address creativity and innovation among the two cultures of science and art Disciplines within science and art include medicine neurology music therapy art therapy physics chemistry engineering music improvisation education and aesthetics This book will be the first of its kind to appeal to a broad audience of students scholars scientists professionals practitioners physicians psychologists counsellors and social workers musicians artists educators and administrators In order to understand creativity and innovation across fields the approach is multidisciplinary While there is overlap across disciplines unique domain specific traits exist in each field and are also discussed in addition to similarities This book engages the reader with the comparison of similarities and differences through dialog across disciplines Authors of each chapter address creativity and innovation from their own distinct perspective Each chapter is transdisciplinary in approach These perspectives entail a representation of their field through research teaching service and or practice Benjamin and Adorno on Art and Art Criticism Thijs Lijster,2025-10-01 This book brings together two of the most important figures of twentieth century criticism Walter Benjamin and Theodor Adorno to consider a topic that was central to their thinking the place of and reason for art in society and culture Thijs Lijster takes us through points of agreement and disagreement between the two on such key topics as the relationship between art and historical experience between avant garde art and mass culture and between the intellectual and the public He also addresses the continuing relevance of Benjamin and Adorno to ongoing debates in contemporary aesthetics such as the end of art the historical meaning of art and the role of the critic American Magazine of Art ,1938

This is Not Just a Painting Bernard Lahire,2019-04-15 In 2008 the Musée des Beaux Arts de Lyon acquired a painting called The Flight into Egypt which was attributed to the French artist Nicolas Poussin Thought to have been painted in 1657 the painting had gone missing for more than three centuries Several versions were rediscovered in the 1980s and one was passed from hand to hand from a family who had no idea of its value to gallery owners and eventually to the museum A painting that had been sold as a decorative object in 1986 for around 12 000 euros was acquired two decades later by the Musée des Beaux Arts de Lyon for 17 million euros What does this remarkable story tell us about the nature of art and the way that it is valued How is it that what seemed to be just an ordinary canvas could be transformed into a masterpiece that a decorative object could become a national treasure This is a story permeated by social magic the social alchemy that transforms lead into gold the ordinary into the extraordinary the profane into the sacred Focusing on this extraordinary case Bernard Lahire lays bare the beliefs and social processes that underpin the creation of a masterpiece Like a detective piecing together the clues in an unsolved mystery he carefully reconstructs the steps that led from the same material object being treated as a copy of insignificant value to being endowed with the status of a highly prized painting commanding a record breaking price He thereby shows that a painting is never just a painting and is always more than a piece of stretched canvass to which brush strokes of paint have been applied this object and the value we attach to it is also the product of a complex array of social processes with its distinctive institutions and experts that lies behind it And through the history of this painting Lahire uncovers some of the fundamental structures of our social world For the social magic that can transform a painting from a simple copy into a masterpiece is similar to the social magic that is present throughout our societies in economics and politics as much as art and religion a magic that results from the spell cast by power on those who tacitly recognize its authority By following the trail of a single work of art Lahire interrogates the foundations on which our perceptions of value and our belief in institutions rest and exposes the forms of domination which lie hidden behind our admiration of works of art Rethinking Theories and Practices of Imaging Timothy H. Engström,Evan Selinger,2009-10-15

This is the first volume of its kind to analyze the impact that theories and practices of imaging have had on a variety of fields. It draws on an impressive range of philosophical approaches from analytic to pragmatic to phenomenological, concluding that imaging is developing a social and cultural impact comparable to language. Pluralistic Approaches to Art Criticism

Douglas Emerson Blandy, Kristin G. Congdon, 1991. Contributors to this anthology analyze the contemporary academic methods for critiquing art and suggest new ways that might further our understandings of art created by myriad individuals and groups. The essays give readers further insight into a diverse range of artistic creators often overlooked in art world studies. Catalog of the Library of the Whitney Museum of American Art, New York, New York: A-K Whitney

Museum of American Art. Library, 1979. Art Criticism Since 1900 Malcolm Gee, 1993
