Concepts Of Chinese Science And Traditional Healing Arts:

Concepts of Chinese Science and Traditional Healing Arts Peng Yoke Ho, F. Peter Lisowski, 1993 This brief discourse is an introduction to the historical development of medicine in China whose influence on Korea Japan and Southeast Asia was profound and even reached far west into the Islamic world The authors wish to make the interested reader aware of China's rich contribution to the world growth of the medical sciences Too often the view has been taken that the history of medicine began with the discoveries of the Greeks and those ancient nations from whom they learnt The authors want to redress this view and acquaint readers with a glimpse of the concepts and history of Chinese medicine and hope that they will feel encouraged to delve deeper Jucker, 2013-03-07 Volume 47 of Progress in Drug Research contains eight reviews and the various indexes which facilitate its use and establish the connection with the previous volumes. The articles in this volume deal with inotropic steroids with chemokines and their involvement in a wide range of inflammatory diseases with the subclassification and nomenclature of α_1 and α_2 adrenoceptors with Chinese traditional medicine with drug targets in the molecular pathogenesis of asthma with cytokines and their therapeutic application in immunosuppression and immunostimulation with alter native medicine and with the potential use of calcium blockers in psychiatry. These reviews and the quotations of original articles provide the reader with valuable information on several new developments in the world wide search for new and better medicines. In 1959 when the Editor started this series of monographs it was his intention to help disseminate information on the vast and fast growing domain of drug research. Already at that time it was not possible to follow the major individual publications in this field and the reader was thereby provided with a tool to keep abreast of the latest developments and trends. This goal remained unchanged over the last 37 years and I believe that the reviews in PDR are useful to the non specialist who can obtain an overview of a particular field of drug research in a relatively short time.

Coming Alive Louis Rogers, 2000-09 Just as the universe provides light and heat from the sun in order for life to survive and flourish on our planet the universe also provides the basic energy out of which everything has come into existence and from which our further development can proceed. We have always had the tools for transformation within our grasp and the fuel the energy that feeds the process is as open to us as the air we breathe. All things that come into existence are formed from this energy which of itself cannot be seen but which can be accessed entered into and physically felt. In its various forms it provides the very substance out of which the material universe has come into being. It is in fact everything that ever was everything that is everything that will ever be. In one for it is the body you inhabit in another the thoughts that come bidden and unbidden into your mind. It is the substance of life the energy of the universe the life force. This energy itself is the connection for which we seek.
