Concepts Of God In Africa:

Concepts of God in Africa John S. Mbiti, 1970 This study of the idea of God in 300 African tribes is the fruit of extensive research by a distinguished African theologian Professor Mbiti has successfully translated a mass of anthropological information into theological terms a task for which he is thoroughly equipped and in doing it has combined lucid writing with vivid imagery to create a book that will be read with enjoyment by many The author shows that behind many simple expressions of belief for example the Zulu saying of a thunderstorm the King is playing the Kikuyu praying to their Father to give them goats sheep and children the Bambuti picturing God with a long beard there often lies a profound faith in God as father and creator or in God working as spirit A moving and explicit description of God as a spirit comes from a traditional hymn of the Pygmies Certain African tribes have inherited myths telling of the Creation and Fall in terms akin to those of the Book of Genesis Others are familiar with the idea of a God both immanent and transcendent and of worship as an activity filling the whole life It is one thing to admire the way in which Africans have enriched Christianity with their own cultural and spiritual heritage It is quite another to be able to explore now with Dr Mbiti as guide the sources of that wealth and to discover as he has done how much there is of the universal in each tribal theology Publisher Concepts of God in Africa

John Samuel Mbiti, 1977 Concepts of God in Africa John S. Mbiti, 2012 Traditional Concepts of God in Africa S. O. Onyeidu, 1998 African Religions & Philosophy John S. Mbiti, 1990 African Religions and Philosophy is a systematic study of the attitudes of mind and belief that have evolved in the many societies of Africa In this second edition Dr Mbiti has updated his material to include the involvement of women in religion and the potential unity to be found in what was once thought to be a mass of quite separate religions Mbiti adds a new dimension to the understanding of the history thinking and life throughout the African continent Religion is approached from an African point of view but is as accessible to readers who belong to non African societies as it is to those who have grown up in African nations Since its first publication this book has become acknowledged as the standard work in the field of study and it is essential reading for anyone concerned with African religion history philosophy anthropology or general African studies The Doctrine of God in African Christian

Thought James Henry Owino Kombo, 2007-05-30 The Christian faith knows and worships one God who is revealed in the Son and in the Holy Spirit This is the meaning of the doctrine of the Trinity in Christian thought Although Christian orthodoxy defines the doctrine of the Trinity the intellectual tools used to capture it significantly vary At different times and in different places Western Christianity has for instance used neo Platonism German Idealism and the conceptual tools of the second century Greeks Taking elements from the known African intellectual framework this book argues that for African Christians the respective pre Christian African understanding of God and the Ntu metaphysics in particular function as conceptual gates for an attempt towards articulating the Trinity for African Christian audiences The Color of God Major J. Jones, 1987

Mbiti,1975      God in Africa Malcolm J. McVeigh,1974 Combines clarity and simplicity of style with intuitive and scholarly depth bringing the Christian and African concepts of God into focus      Critiques of Christianity in African Literature Jesse Ndwiga Kanyua Mugambi,J. N. Kanyua Mugambi,1992      African Traditional Religion in Biblical Perspective Richard J. Gehman,2005      Apologetics in Africa Kevin Muriithi Ndereba,2024-02-01 Divided into four major sections this textbook provides an in depth exploration of the biblical philosophical cultural and practical concerns facing African Christians as they proclaim and defend the gospel in Africa Written by a diverse group of pastors and scholars it provides a much needed interdisciplinary and contextualized approach to apologetics It also seeks to bridge the gap between academic research and ministry practice touching on such topics as hermeneutics biblical criticism church history the nature of evil religious inclusivism Muslim Christian engagement eldership rites domestic violence cults and the digital age Biblically robust contextually relevant ministry oriented and accessible this is a remarkable resource for enriching the life and ministry of Christians in Africa and beyond      The Traditional African Concept of God and the Christian Concept of God Peter Chiehiura Uzor,2004 This book is motivated by the positive view of the non Christian religions expressed by the Fathers of the Vatican Council II cf NA 2a a revolutionary view considered from the official teaching of the tradition of the Church up till then and much more in such a central issue as the belief in God This book aims at initiating a healthy interaction between the Christian understanding of God and the understanding of God in the traditional religion of the Igbo people of West Africa In approaching this task this special study pursues some major aims In the first place it engages itself in the clarification of some basic issues Are the religious experiences which are phenomenologically found in all religions including the Igbo religion only mere human fabrications or do they originate from a revelation of God Secondly this publication working with the innovative analysis of the theophoral personal names provides some profound factual information about the concrete contents of the Igbo religion on God Thirdly the author tries to find out whether there could be a basic agreement between the understanding of God in Igbo religion and the biblical revelation In this work the fundamental agreement is found in the conviction that God in traditional Igbo religion Chukwu and the God of the Bible is the God of life The purpose of this book therefore is to bring back the question of God to the centre of existential Christian life it is to make the theme of God the motivation and criterion for the whole Christian life and spirituality both individually and communally The theme of the God of life introduces God into life and connects the problems and questions of men and women of today to the theme of God

Mapping Systematic Theology in Africa Ernst M Conradie,Charl E Fredericks,2004-08-01 The emergence of an indigenous African theology especially since the 1960s is well documented A wealth of literature has been published in the context of African theology especially over the last two or three decades This indexed bibliography contains a number of publications in and for the African context specifically relevant to the fields of systematic theology and ethics      The Oxford Encyclopedia of African Thought Abiola Irele,2010 From St Augustine and early Ethiopian philosophers to the anti colonialist movements of Pan Africanism and Negritude this encyclopedia offers a comprehensive view of African thought covering the intellectual tradition both on the continent in its entirety and throughout the African Diaspora in the Americas and in Europe. The term African thought has been interpreted in the broadest sense to embrace all those forms of discourse philosophy political thought religion literature important social movements that contribute to the formulation of a distinctive vision of the world determined by or derived from the African experience. The Encyclopedia is a large scale work of 350 entries covering major topics involved in the development of African Thought including historical figures and important social movements producing a collection that is an essential resource for teaching an invaluable companion to independent research and a solid guide for further study.

Ka Osi So Onye: African Philosophy in the Postmodern Era Jonathan O. Chimakonam, Edwin E. Etieyibo, 2018-05-15. This collection is about composing thought at the level of modernism and decomposing it at the postmodern level where many cocks might crow with African philosophy as a focal point. It has two parts: part one is titled The Journey of Reason in African Philosophy and part two is titled African Philosophy and Postmodern Thinking. There are seven chapters in both parts. Five of the essays are reprinted here as important selections while nine are completely new essays commissioned for this book. As their titles suggest, in part one African philosophy is unfolded in the manifestation of reason as embedded in modern thought while in part two it draws the effect of reason as implicated in the postmodern orientation. While part one strikes at what V Y Mudimbe calls the colonising structure or the Greco European logo phallo euro centricism in thought, part two bashes the excesses of modernism and partly valorises postmodernism. In some chapters modernism is presented as an intellectual version of communalism characterised by the cliché our people say: 'Our thinking is that the voice of reason is not the voice of the people but the voice of an individual.' The idea of this book is to open new vistas for the discipline of African philosophy. African philosophy is thus presented as a disagreement discourse. Without rivalry of thoughts Africa will settle for far less. This gives postmodernism an important place perhaps deservedly more important than history of philosophy allocates to it. It is that philosophical moment that says philosophers must cease speaking like gods in their hegemonic cultural shrines and begin to converse across borders with one another. In this conversation the goal for African philosophers must not be to find final answers but to sustain the conversation which alone can extend human reason to its furthest reaches.

The Bible in Africa Gerald West, Musa Dube, 2021-10-01. Although the arrival of the Bible in Africa has often been a tale of terror, the Bible has become an African book. This volume explores the many ways in which Africans have made the Bible their own. The essays in this book offer a glimpse of the rich resources that constitute Africa's engagement with the Bible. Among the topics are the historical development of biblical interpretation in Africa, the relationship between African biblical scholarship and scholarship in the West, African resources for reading the Bible, the history and role of vernacular translation in particular African contexts, the ambiguity of the Bible in Africa, the power of the Bible as text and symbol, and the intersections between class, race, gender, and culture in African biblical interpretation The book also contains an extensive bibliography of African biblical scholarship In fact it is one of the most comprehensive collections of African biblical scholarship available in print This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details African Origins of Monotheism Gwinyai H. Muzorewa,2014-10-29 African Origins of Monotheism recasts an African knowledge of God in a new and original way It aims to recapture concepts of God as originally reflected upon by pristine African religious thinkers Muzorewa is seeking after the traditional African understandings of the Divine which trace their origins back before the rise of Judaism Christianity and Islam Monotheism he maintains is the ancient view of God ubiquitous across the continent of Africa indeed monotheism comes out of Africa The book challenges the way that the idea of God has been manipulated by Eurocentric agendas by colonizers enslavers and empire builders all of whom were using God talk to achieve their own personal ends In African thinking the God concept is guided by a sense of the presence of the all pervasive and omnipresent God which has instilled in the people a sense of respect for life at all costs Thus respect is not based on a commandment or on fear but on a propensity for affinity

Re-cognizing W.E.B. Du Bois in the Twenty-first Century Mary Keller,Chester J. Fontenot,2007 Abstract Doing Conceptual History in Africa Axel Fleisch,Rhiannon Stephens,2018-02-21 Employing an innovative methodological toolkit Doing Conceptual History in Africa provides a refreshingly broad and interdisciplinary approach to African historical studies The studies assembled here focus on the complex role of language in Africa s historical development with a particular emphasis on pragmatics and semantics From precolonial dynamics of wealth and poverty to the conceptual foundations of nationalist movements each contribution strikes a balance between the local and the global engaging with a distinctively African intellectual tradition while analyzing the regional and global contexts in which categories like work marriage and land take shape
