The Arts Management Handbook: New Directions for Students and Practitioners Meg Brindle, Constance DeVereaux, 2015-05-18 Whether the art form is theater, dance, music, festival, or the visual arts and galleries, the arts manager is the liaison between the artists and their audience. Bringing together the insights of educators and practitioners, this groundbreaker links the fields of management and organizational management with the ongoing evolution in arts management education. It especially focuses on the new directions in arts management as education and practice merge. It uses case studies as both a pedagogical tool and an integrating device. Separate sections cover Performing and Visual Arts Management, Arts Management Education and Careers, and Arts Management Government, Nonprofits, and Evaluation. The book also includes a chapter on grants and raising money in the arts.

The Preacher as Liturgical Artist Trygve David Johnson, 2014-01-24 Trygve Johnson invites us to consider a new metaphor of identity: The Preacher as Liturgical Artist. This identity draws on a theology of communion and the doctrine of the vicarious humanity of Christ to relocate the preacher's identity in the creative and ongoing ministry of Jesus Christ. Johnson argues the metaphorical association of the preacher and artist, understood within the artistic ministry of Jesus Christ, frees the full range of human capacities, including the imagination, to bear upon the arts of Christian proclamation. The Preacher as Liturgical Artist connects preachers to the person and work of Jesus Christ, whose own double ministry took the raw materials of the human condition and offered them back to the Father in a redemptive and imaginative fashion through the Holy Spirit. It is in the large creative ministry of Jesus Christ that preachers find their creativity freed to proclaim the gospel bodily within the context of the liturgical work of God's people.

Suitable Heresies Graham Rabey, 2009 The theory suggests that there is a structural similarity between certain basic brain forms and certain basic mind forms, and that the former provide a credible explanation for the latter. It does not suggest that the causative link has been proved; thereby, what is claimed is that in the jungle of brain/mind research, where fundamental physical evidence for speculation is often in short supply, the theory provides a scientifically and philosophically arguable clearing, and thus a hypothesis worthy of investigation by anyone interested in the mysteries of human thought. One implication of the theory amounts to a central heresy, namely, that on the accumulating evidence, our traditional and much cherished one-truth thinking conventions will need to be replaced by two-truth thinking conventions. Another implication of the theory is that it now seems entirely possible that the emergence and nature of philosophy itself have been crucially dependent on our long human struggle to extract single responses from thinking equipment that appears necessarily, i.e., anatomically, double and circular, the double cycles being mutually inverted.
