Condemned to Die Robert Johnson,1981 The Death Penalty as Cruel Treatment and Torture William Schabas,1996 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1890 edition Excerpt said Mr Fogg Well your honor replied the pilot I can risk neither my men nor myself nor yourself in so long a voyage on a boat of scarcely twenty tons at this time of the year Besides we would not arrive in time for it is sixteen hundred and fifty miles from Hong Kong to Yokohama Only sixteen hundred said Mr Fogg It is the same thing Fix took a good long breath But added the pilot there might perhaps be a means to arrange it otherwise Fix did not breathe any more How asked Phileas Fogg By going to Nagasaki the southern extremity of Japan eleven hundred miles or only to Shanghai eight hundred miles from Hong Kong In this last journey we would not be at any distance from the Chinese coast which would be a great advantage all the more so that the currents run to the north Pilot replied Phileas Fogg I must take the American mail steamer at Yokohama and not at Shanghai or Nagasaki Why not replied the pilot The San Francisco steamer does not start from Yokohama She stops there and at Nagasaki but her port of departure is Shanghai You are certain of what you are saying Certain And when does the steamer leave Shanghai On the 11th at seven o'clock in the evening We have then four days before us Four days that is ninety six hours and with an average of eight knots an hour if we have good luck if the wind keeps to the southeast if the sea is calm we can make the eight hundred miles which separate us from Shanghai And you can leave an hour time enough to buy my provisions and hoist sail It is a bargain you are the master of the boat Yes John Bunsby master of the Tankadere Do you wish some earnest money If it does not inconvenience The Penalty is Death Marlin Shipman,2002 In 1872 Susan Eberhart was convicted of murder for helping her lover to kill his wife The Atlanta Constitution ran a story about her hanging in Georgia that covered slightly more than four full columns of text In an editorial sermon about her the Constitution said that Miss Eberhart not only committed murder but also committed adultery and violated the sanctity of marriage An 1890 article in the Elko Independent said of Elizabeth Potts who was hanged for murder To her we look for everything that is gentle and kind and tender and we can scarcely conceive her capable of committing the highest crime known to the law Indeed at the time this attitude was also applied to women in general By 1998 the press's and society's attitudes had changed dramatically A columnist from Texas wrote that convicted murderess Karla Faye Tucker should not be spared just because she was a woman The author went on to say that women could be just as violent and aggressive as men the idea that women are defenseless and need men's protection is probably the last vestige of institutionalized sexism that needs to be rubbed out An Evil Day in Georgia Robert Neil Smith,2015-04-15 Follows a homicide case committed in Georgia in 1927 from the crime to the executions of those convicted of the crime almost a year later Along the way the narrative highlights a number of issues impacting the death penalty process many of which are still relevant in the modern era of capital punishment in the United States Moreover the case in question illustrates a range of themes prevalent in post Progressive Georgia and brings them together to create a broader narrative Thus issues of race class and gender emerge from what was supposed to be a neutral process demonstrates that capital punishment cannot be administered in an untainted fashion but its finality demands that it must be From Athenaeum UGA website The Death Penalty Roger Hood,Carolyn Hoyle,2008 This new edition of a classic study assesses the global status of capital punishment As in previous editions this work draws on Roger Hood s experiences as consultant to the United Nations for the Secretary General s five yearly surveys of capital punishment as well as the latest literature from non governmental organizations and academic experts This edition examines significant developments around the world including the Chinese plan for the People s Supreme Court to review all death sentences and the abolition in the USA of the death penalty for offenders who committed murder while under the age of 18 Recent legal challenges to lethal injection as a form of execution are also examined This edition also includes an additional chapter on the role and influence of victims families and victim interest movements This volume shows how despite a number of set backs the movement to abolish the death penalty has continued to gather pace that international organizations and human rights treaties continue to put pressure on retentionist countries that further developments have been made in securing protection for those facing the death penalty in retentionist counties and that despite such advances in some parts of the world the range of crimes subject to the death penalty remains wide and the number of executions considerable This work engages with the latest debates on the realities of capital punishment with claims that the death penalty is a unique deterrent to murder and other serious crimes and contains expanded coverage of arguments about the role of public opinion in the debate on capital punishment

The Rich Get Richer and the Poor Get Prison Jeffrey Reiman,Paul Leighton,2016-11-10 For nearly 40 years this classic text has taken the issue of economic inequality seriously and asked Why are our prisons filled with the poor Why aren t the tools of the criminal justice system being used to protect Americans from predatory business practices and to punish well off people who cause widespread harm The Rich Get Richer shows readers that much that goes on in the criminal justice system violates citizens sense of basic fairness It presents extensive evidence from mainstream data that the criminal justice system does not function in the way it says it does nor in the way that readers believe it should The authors develop a theoretical perspective from which readers might understand these failures and evaluate them morally and they to do it in a short and relatively inexpensive text written in plain language New to this edition Presents recent data comparing the harms due to criminal activity with the harms of dangerous but not criminal corporate actions Presents new data on recent crime rate declines which are paired with data on how public safety is not prioritized by the U S government Updates statistics on crime victimization wealth and discrimination plus coverage of the increasing role of criminal justice fines and fees in generating revenue for government Updates on the costs to society of white collar crime Updates and deepened analysis of why fundamental reforms are not undertaken Streamlined and condensed prose for greater clarity Death is Different

Hugo Adam Bedau,1987 Memoirs of missionary priests Richard Challoner,1874 And other Catholics of both sexes that have suffered death in England on religious accounts from the year 1577 to 1684 The 325: Canada's Criminal Code (w/ Other Acts) - a Case Compilation , A case compilation of the 325 most cited CC Extradition Act and Charter cases that I compiled to facilitate a one file download Assumes a person doesn't want to take the time to immerse themselves in case stream and nuances of the topic in CANLII org where I obtained the cases and did the digesting of same myself to put it all together for you Rich Get Richer and the Poor Get Prison, The (Subscription) Jeffrey Reiman,Paul Leighton,2015-07-14 Illustrates the issue of economic inequality within the American justice system The best selling text The Rich Get Richer and the Poor Get Prison contends that the criminal justice system is biased against the poor from start to finish The authors argue that even before the process of arrest trial and sentencing the system is biased against the poor in what it chooses to treat as crime The authors show that numerous acts of the well off such as their refusal to make workplaces safe refusal to curtail deadly pollution promotion of unnecessary surgery and prescriptions for unnecessary drugs cause as much harm as the acts of the poor that are treated as crimes However the dangerous acts of the well off are almost never treated as crimes and when they are they are almost never treated as severely as the crimes of the poor Not only does the criminal justice system fail to protect against the harmful acts of well off people it also fails to remedy the causes of crime such as poverty This results in a large population of poor criminals in our prisons and in our media The authors contend that the idea of crime as a work of the poor serves the interests of the rich and powerful while conveying a misleading notion that the real threat to Americans comes from the bottom of society rather than the top Learning Goals Upon completing this book readers will be able to Examine the criminal justice system through the lens of the poor Understand that much of what goes on in the criminal justice system violates one's own sense of fairness Morally evaluate the criminal justice system's failures Identify the type of legislature that is biased against the poor Memoirs of Missionary Priests and Other Catholics of Both Sexes, that Have Suffered Death in England on Religious Accounts from the Year 1577 to 1684 Richard Challoner,1803

Facing the Death Penalty Michael Radelet,1989 These essays show us the human and inhuman realities of capital punishment through the eyes of the condemned and those who work with them By focusing on those awaiting death they present the awful truth behind the statistics in concrete personal terms William J Bowers author of Legal Homicide Between 1930 and 1967 there were 3 859 executions carried out under state and civil authority in the United States Since the ten year moratorium on capital punishment ended in 1977 more than one hundred prisoners have been executed There are more than two thousand men and women now living on death row awaiting their executions Facing the Death Penalty offers an in depth examination of what life under a sentence of death is like for condemned inmates and their families how and why various professionals assist them in their struggle for life and what these personal experiences with capital punishment tell us about the wisdom of this penal policy The contributors include historians attorneys sociologists anthropologists criminologists a minister a philosopher and three prisoners One of the prisoner contributors is Willie Jasper Darden Jr whose case and recent execution after fourteen years on death row drew international attention The inter disciplinary perspectives offered in this book will not solve the death penalty debate but they offer important and unique insights on the full effects of American capital punishment provisions While the book does not set out to generate sympathy for those convicted of horrible crimes taken together the essays build a case for abolition of the death penalty This work stands with the best of what s been written It represents the best of those who have seen the worst Colman McCarthy The Washington Post Book World The Works of the Late Rev.
