Alone In The House:

Alone in the House of My Heart Kari Gunter-Seymour, 2022-09-27 Deeply rooted in respect and compassion for Appalachia and its people these poems are both paeans to and dirges for past and present family farmlands factories and coal Kari Gunter Seymour's second full length collection resounds with candid lyrical poems about Appalachia's social and geographical afflictions and affirmations History culture and community shape the physical and personal landscapes of Gunter Seymour's native southeastern Ohio soil scarred by Big Coal and fracking while food insecurity and Big Pharma leave their marks on the region's people A musicality of language swaddles each poem in hope and a determination to endure Alone in the House of My Heart offers what only art can a series of thought provoking images that evoke such a clear sense of place that it's familiar to anyone regardless of where they call home

Alone in the House Edmund Plante, 1991 Joanne is thrilled to be having a party while her parents are away but when strangers crash the party and a mysterious presence lingers in the house after everyone has gone home her excitement quickly turns to terror

Are You In The House Alone? Amanda Reyes, 2017-04-05 Beginning in the 1960s through its heyday in the 1970s and beyond the telefilm remains an important cultural artefact masquerading as disposable entertainment Made specifically for the small screen within the tight constraints of broadcasting standards what these humble movies lacked in budget and star appeal they made up for in other ways Often they served as an introduction to genre films particularly horror mirroring their theatrical counterparts with a focus on sinister cults women in prison haunted houses and even animals in revolt They were also a place to address serious contemporary issues drugs prostitution sexual violence and justice albeit in a cosy domestic environment Production of telefilms continues to this day but their significance within the history of mass media remains under discussed Are You in the House Alone seeks to address this imbalance in a series of reviews and essays by fans and critics alike It looks at many of the films the networks and names behind them and also specific genres everything from Stephen King adaptations to superheroes to true life dramas So kickback and crack open the TV guide once more for the event that is the Movie of the Week

Marvin Redpost: Alone in His Teacher's House Louis Sachar, 2010-08-02 While Mrs North Marvin's teacher is on holiday she asks him to look after Waldo her dog Suddenly Marvin has become the luckiest boy in school He'll get to sniff about Mrs North's house look in her wardrobe check out her bathroom and rummage in her fridge Well that's what Stuart and Nick his best friends would like to do But Marvin takes things a little more seriously After all he gets paid 3 a day and he will get a bonus on top if everything goes smoothly What could possibly go wrong Just how long can Marvin hold on to his luck Louis Sachar tells this tale with a refreshing and bold frankness and again the characters are vividly portrayed in this the fourth of the series

Crowded House's Together Alone Barnaby Smith, 2025-05-15 Intertextual passionate and personal throughout Crowded House's Together Alone is a key addition to the surprisingly limited range of scholarship on one of Australasia's most successful and adored bands Fusing pop music with place and landscape Crowded House's Together Alone

1993 was unprecedented in its Australasian context and in the process of making this album the group's sound transformed profoundly Crowded House's Together Alone examines why Neil Finn took the daring decision to record amid the wilds of Karekare Beach West Auckland considers how British producer Youth impacted the band's dynamics and places the album within a wider artistic context expanding beyond pop The book also recounts author Barnaby Smith's visit to Karekare on the trail of Together Alone's atmospheric melancholy a psychogeographic adventure exploring what it means to visit a landscape under the spell of the music it has inspired A song by song analysis further explores the fragile alchemy that produced the most poetic statement in the Crowded House catalogue The Wrong that was Alone Frederick William Robinson, 1891
