Viso,2020 Las sociedades humanas han concebido su relación con el espacio físico en el que habitaban en términos territoriales Este concepto dota a la noción de territorio de una serie de significados sociales y culturales convirtiéndolas en un instrumento de articulación de las complejas y cambiantes relaciones entre grupos sociales y medio natural Generalmente la territorialidad se examina desde el prisma de los estados modernos como zonas perfectamente delimitadas tanto desde un punto de vista topográfico como desde una perspectiva del significado político Sin embargo se trata de una visión parcial que no toma en consideración la existencia de otras formas de territorialidad existentes en sociedades preindustriales La Alta Edad Media un periodo que cubrió los siglos VI al XI aproximadamente fue un auténtico laboratorio de territorialidad Los modelos romanos fuertemente condicionados por el poder imperial se diluyeron y surgieron nuevas y muy diversas formas de articulación del territorio Las sociedades locales se convirtieron en protagonistas activas al crear patrones territoriales que sirvieron de escenario para implementar las relaciones con la autoridad central al tiempo que se fueron construyendo los espacios episcopales y se crearon lugares centrales de nuevo tipo Esta compleja relación entre lo local y lo englobante se aborda en este volumen a través de un conjunto de estudios que cubren la Península Ibérica Inglaterra Irlanda e Italia La construcción de la territorialidad en la Alta Edad Media es una obra deliberadamente orientada hacia una historiografía de escala europea que supere las miradas exclusivamente nacionales      Arqueología de las sociedades locales en la Alta Edad Media Juan Antonio Quirós Castillo,Andrew Reynolds,2023-06-01 This volume brings together a large number of specialized studies and provides an interpretation of the site of San Julián de Aizoa Zaldondo Araia lava in terms of socio-political practices that define the main characteristics of early medieval local societies in the northwest of the Iberian Peninsula

Text and Textuality in Early Medieval Iberia Graham Barrett, 2023-06-20

Text and Textuality in Early Medieval Iberia is a study of the functions and conceptions of writing and reading documentation and archives and the role of literate authorities in the Christian kingdoms of the northern Iberian Peninsula between the Muslim conquest of 711 and the fall of the Islamic caliphate at Córdoba in 1031. Based on the first complete survey of the over 4 000 surviving Latin charters from the period it is an essay in the archaeology and biography of text: part one concerns materiality tracing the lifecycle of charters from initiation and composition to preservation and reuse while part two addresses connectivity delineating a network of texts through painstaking identification of more than 2 000 citations of other charters, secular and canon law, the Bible, liturgy and monastic rules. Few may have been able to read or write yet the extent of textuality was broad and deep in the authority conferred upon text and the arrangements made to use it. Via charter and scribe society and social arrangements came increasingly to be influenced by norms originating from a network of texts. By profiling the intersection and interaction of text with society and culture Graham Barrett reconstructs textuality: how the authority of the written and the structures to access it framed and constrained actions and cultural norms and proposes a new model of early medieval reading. As they cited other texts, charters circulated fragments of those texts; we must rethink the relationship of sources and audiences to reflect fragmentary transmission in a textuality of imperfect knowledge.

Records and Processes of Dispute Settlement in Early Medieval Societies, 2023-11-20

How can dispute records shed light on the study of dispute settlement processes and their social and political underpinnings? This volume addresses this question by investigating the interplay between record making, disputing process and the social and political contexts of conflicts. The authors make use of exceptionally rich charter materials from the Iberian Peninsula, Italy and Scandinavia including different types of texts directly and indirectly related to conflicts in order to contribute to a comparative survey of early medieval dispute records and to a better understanding of the interplay between judicial and other less formal modes of conflict resolution. Contributors are Isabel Alfonso, Jos M Andrade, Fran ois Bougard, Warren C Brown, Wendy Davies, Julio Escalona, Kim Esmark, Adam J Kosto, Juan Jos Larrea, Andr Evangelista, Marques Josep M Salrach, Igor Santos Salazar and Francesca Tinti.

INTERPRETACIÓN DE LOS SUEÑOS Silvia C. Lapeña, 2008-09-30

El potencial simbólico de los sueños ha interesado a personas de todas las épocas y culturas. Los seres humanos tienen en común con todos sus congéneres las dos cosas: la certeza de que su existencia es limitada y la capacidad de soñar. Contar lo que vemos cuando dormimos, convertirlo en relato, puede ayudarnos a recopilar una importante cantidad de información que nuestro cerebro sólo nos da mientras descansa. Detenerse a analizar los propios sueños e intentar

How Medieval Europe was Ruled Christian Raffensperger,2023-09-06 The vast majority of studies on rulership in medieval Europe focus on one kingdom one type of rule or one type of ruler This volume attempts to break that mold and demonstrate the breadth of medieval Europe and the various kinds of rulership within it How Medieval Europe was Ruled aims to demonstrate the multiplicity of types of rulers and polities that existed in medieval Europe The contributors discuss not just kings or queens but countesses dukes and town leadership We see that rulers worked collaboratively with one another both across political boundaries and within their own borders in ways that are not evident in most current studies of kingship inhibited by too narrow a focus The volume also covers the breadth of medieval Europe from Scandinavia in the north to the Italian peninsula in the south Iberia and the Anglo Normans in the west to Rus Byzantium and the Khazars in the east This book is geared towards a wide audience and thus provides a broad base of understanding via a clear explanation of concepts of rule in each of the areas that is covered The book can be utilized in the classroom to enhance the presentation of a medieval Europe survey or to discuss rulership more specifically for a region or all of Europe Beyond the classroom the book is accessible to all scholars who are interested in continuing to learn and expand their horizons

Bishops under Threat Sabine Panzram,Pablo Poveda Arias,2023-03-20 The late antique and the early medieval periods witnessed the flourishing of bishops in the West as the main articulators of social life This influential position exposed them to several threats both political and religious Researchers have generally addressed violence rebellions or conflicts to study the dynamics related to secular powers during these periods They haven t paid similar attention however to those analogous contexts that had bishops as protagonists This book proposes an approach to bishops as threatened subjects in the late antique and early medieval West In particular the volume pursues three main goals Firstly it aims to identify the different types of threats that bishops had to deal with Then it sets out to frame these situations of adversity in their own contexts Finally it will address the episcopal strategies deployed to deal with such contexts of adversity In sum we aim to underline the impact that these contexts had as a dynamiting factor of episcopal action Thus the episcopal threats may become a useful approach to study the bishops relationships with other agents of power the motivations behind their actions and last but not least for understanding the episcopal rising power

Windows on Justice in Northern Iberia, 800-1000 Wendy Davies, 2016-03-31 Although it has a rich historiography and from the late ninth century is rich in textual evidence northern Iberia has barely featured in the great debates of early medieval European history of recent generations Lying beyond the Frankish world in a peninsula more than half controlled by Muslims Spanish and Portuguese experience has seemed irrelevant to the Carolingian Empire and the political fragmentation or realignment that followed it But Spain and Portugal shared the late Roman heritage which influenced much of western Europe in the early middle ages and by the tenth century records and practice in the Christian north still shared features with parts farther east What is interesting in the wider European context is that some of the so called characteristics of the Carolingian world the public court collective judgment are as characteristic of the Iberian world The suggestion that they disappeared in the Frankish world to be replaced by private mechanisms has played a major role in debates about the changing nature of power in the central middle ages what happened in judicial courts has been central to the grand narratives of Duby and successive historians for they are a powerful lens into the very real issues of politics and power Looking at the practice of judicial courts in Europe west of Frankia allows us to think again about the nature of the public identifying all the records of that practice allows us to adjust the balance between monastic and lay activity What these show is that peasants like other lay people used the courts to seek redress and gain advantages Records were not entirely framed nor practice entirely dominated by ecclesiastical interests

Gardens in Northern Iberia in the Early Middle Ages Wendy Davies, 2024-11-21 Using archaeological archaeobotanical and written evidence this book explores what gardens meant in northern Spain and northern Portugal in the early middle ages a question asked here for the first time Dealing with a vast area of the Iberian peninsula that lay beyond Muslim al Andalus with great geographical diversity and wide variation in climate this books spans the sixth to tenth centuries showing that gardens might lie beside houses or scattered among arable fields or grouped together in garden zones. Gardens are difficult to recognize archaeologically but excavation suggests that many were terraces as it also suggests that indicators of intensive use through fertilization or irrigation or characteristic weed species may be more useful for identifying garden activity than looking for a distinctive shape. The strongest indications of garden produce are that fruit was always important and so were legumes and some gardens especially those owned by monasteries may have grown herbs. The most striking trend across the tenth century is that peasants sold gardens to monasteries although there are regional differences. Catalonia having a more diverse land market. Peasants sold in order to get food and monasteries bought partly to provide garden produce including herbs for expanding communities but partly to use and increase garden space for textile plants flax hemp and dye plants for commercial reasons especially urban supply. Gardens were vital for the supply of clothes. By scrutinising the logistics of small and medium scale ownership the relations of owners with large scale land holders especially institutions and the ins and outs of those economic and social interactions this wide ranging book adds a new dimension to the environmental history of western Europe in addition to contributing to an understanding of the social economic and cultural history of the period more generally.

Local Churches, Monasteries, and Bishops in León Between the Ninth and Eleventh Centuries Mariel Pérez, 2025-10-01. This volume contributes to a deeper understanding of the different forms of ecclesiastical articulation in early medieval Spain. While traditional studies have focused on higher instances of ecclesiastical power this work offers a bottom up perspective centred on the local churches and the bonds they established with monasteries and bishops. This approach engages in a reflection on the nature of the diocese in the Early Middle Ages as well as furthering our knowledge of early medieval local societies and their social dynamics.
