Altered Loves:

Altered Loves Terri Apter, 1996-06-06 Are mothers jealous of their developing daughters Is an early mother child bond severed during adolescence and never formed again What does adolescence feel like to a girl Drawing on detailed interviews with mothers and daughters from Terri Apter's research in Great Britain and America and from recent psychological studies of family interaction Altered Loves is a frank moving and insightful examination of this crucial time in a woman's life Apter shows that contrary to the classical view of adolescence as a stage in which daughters reject their mothers adolescent daughters often remain strongly attached to them The strife that characterizes this period is actually the result of trying to renegotiate a valued relationship Beautifully written Altered Loves explodes conventional myths and theories about mother daughter relationships and offers new and valuable insights that will help mothers remember and daughters understand the delicate painful and complex process of becoming a woman Altered Loves Terri Eve Apter, 1990 Daughtering and

Mothering KMG Schreurs, L. Woerton, J. van Mens-Verhulst, 2003-09-02 This book provides analyses of many aspects of mother daughter relationships starting from the premise that daughters and mothers both take an active part in shaping their relationship It discusses contextual issues examining women's roles in therapy management and education Adult Personality Development Lawrence S. Wrightsman, 1994-03-15 This stimulating book and its companion volume Adult Personality Development Theories and Concepts reflect an expansion of the coverage of Wrightsman's initial book Personality Development in Adulthood The luxury of greater length has permitted an exploration of new topics including the use of a wider variety of sources including scholarly articles and books biographies and case studies Increased attention is devoted to creativity in adulthood to learning and memory to marriage stability and other topics The book provides a focus for a Psychology of Adulthood course that encourages students to look at the evolving nature of their own lives Particular attention is given to developing an extensive set of references over 700 in this volume as an aid to scholars Publisher description Revising Herself : Women's Identity from College to Midlife Ruthellen Josselson Professor of Psychology Towson State University, 1996-11-07 In 1972 Ruthellen Josselson was a young psychologist fascinated by the riddle of how a woman creates an identity and chooses one path over another in life particularly in the face of the nascent feminist movement which challenged as never before the traditional role models of earlier generations Selecting at random thirty young women in their last year of college Josselson undertook a ground breaking study that would follow these women's personal odysseys over the next twenty two years from graduation to midlife What she learned about the ways women reinvent themselves in an ever changing world is the subject of Revising Herself a myth shattering look at both a unique generation of American women on the front lines of wrenching social change and at the conflicts and compromises facing women today With stunning candor and hard won insight the ordinary and anonymous women in Josselson's study reveal how much more complex and interesting real women's lives are than the one dimensional stereotypes often portrayed in the media Dismissing a traditional stage theory of development as overly simplistic Josselson identifies four trajectories that women take from adolescence to adulthood Guardians are the good girls high achieving and committed to fulfilling their family's expectations but rigid in outlook and resistant to change Pathmakers are not afraid of risk or commitment striving to balance their own needs with others The often idealistic Searchers are overwhelmed by choice and unable to make commitments while Drifters live only for the moment avoiding choice and an exploration of identity Reflecting the degree to which women take risks make choices and form commitments these paths form a foundation for adulthood but they also lead to surprises at midlife Guardians seem strikingly able to cut loose from earlier traditional patterns while many Drifters have found themselves sometimes in quite traditional ways And coming of age just as the feminist movement gathered momentum the women in Josselson's study were the first to confront many contemporary issues not faced by their mothers or their mothers' mothers How does an Irish Catholic contemplate an abortion How does a woman whose parents believe education is wasted on a daughter find the will to apply to medical school In examining these questions and others Josselson shows that the forging of a woman's identity whatever her path is ongoing a balancing of the need for self assertion against the equally compelling need for relationships Women create their identities along the seams of both competence and connection and continually revise what they have made Allowing women to define themselves in their own terms Revising Herself holds up a provocative mirror in which readers can reflect upon their own life choices Whether a Guardian Pathmaker Searcher or Drifter readers will recognize themselves in these women's experiences and gain new insight into how we construct our identities over a lifetime

You Don't Really Know Me Terri Apter, 2015-05-27 Understand what your teenage daughter really means and learn to use your arguments to strengthen your bond with her Mothers and teenage daughters argue more than any other child parent pair on average every two and a half days These quarrels Terri Apter shows are attempts to negotiate changes in a relationship that is valued by both mothers and daughters A daughter often feels her mother doesn't know or understand her and by fighting hopes to force her mother into a new awareness of who she really is how she has changed and what she is now capable of doing and understanding But mothers often misinterpret their daughter's outbursts as signs of rejection and they may pull back feeling hurt and confused Through case studies and conversations between mothers and daughters Apter shows mothers how to interpret the meanings behind a daughter's angry words and how to emerge from arguments with a new closeness

Serving African American Children Sondra Jackson, Sheryl Brissett-Chapman, Serving African American Children was initiated to present an African American perspective on child welfare issues affecting African American children The chapters in this volume challenge the child welfare community to ensure that all African American children receive protection nurturing and an improved quality of life to create and sustain mutual communication and support through program development to ensure that African American consultants are involved in the evaluation of agencies where African American populations represent a significant proportion of the service population and to increase African American leadership through education and training opportunities in preparation for executive level positions Major chapters and contributors to Serving African American Children include Family Preservation and Support Services A Missed Opportunity for Kinship Care by Julia Danzy and Sondra M Jackson Achieving Same Race Adoptive Placements for African American Children by Ruth G McRoy Zena Oglesby and Helen Grape African American Families and HIV AIDS Caring for Surviving Children by Alma J Carten and Ilene Fennoy A Rite of Passage Approach Designed to Preserve the Families of Substance Abusing African American Women by Vanesta L Poitier Makini Niliwaambieni and Cyprian Lamar Rowe and An Afrocentric Program for African American Males in the Juvenile Justice System by Aminifu R Harvey and Antoinette A Coleman The chapters reflect a variety of policy research and practice issues clinical techniques and treatment models and new perspectives in child welfare The theme that runs throughout each chapter is the grave concern about the overrepresentation of African American children and families in the child welfare system and about the limited if not missing influence of the African American perspective on policy and practice Serving African American Children is a book of vital importance and should be read by all social workers sociologists African American studies specialists and professionals in the field of child welfare

The King's Highway, and Other Poems Frederick George Lee, 1866 Like Mother, Like Daughter? Armstrong, Jill, 2019-03-06 Women are encouraged to believe that they can occupy top jobs in society by the example of other women thriving in their careers Who better to be a role model for career success than your mother Paradoxically this book shows that having a mother as a role model even for graduates of top universities does not predict daughters progressing in their own careers It finds that mothers with careers whilst highly influential in their daughters choice of career path rarely mentor their daughters as they progress This is partly explained by quiet ambition the tendency of women to be modest about their achievements Bigger issues are the twin pressures from contemporary motherhood and workplace culture that ironically lead career women's daughters to believe that being a good mother means working part time This stalls career progress Based on a large cross generational qualitative sample this book offers a timely and original perspective on the debate about gender equality in leadership positions Adaptive Origins Peter LaFrenière, 2011-01-07 In this text students are invited to rethink psychology by grounding it in the natural sciences with the understanding that evolutionary and developmental processes work together with culture to solve problems of human adaptation These processes are cast as interdependent Development cannot be understood except in the light of evolutionary theory and the best proof of evolution is the fact of development For students of evolutionary psychology all the central topics such as evolved mental modules for theory of mind or language require an understanding of the developmental processes that lead to their expression Genes as important as they are are never the whole story The role of biological factors is explored in chapters outlining evolution development genetics human origins hormones and the brain Then the integrative value of this evolutionary developmental vision in understanding key topics in psychology is illustrated by applying it to traditional area of inquiry including infancy and attachment emotions and their expression social relations with peers cognitive and language development sex differences courtship and mating violence and aggression and cooperation and competition Education, Gender And Anxiety Jenny Shaw,2003-12-16 This text explores the scope for applying psychoanalytical ideas to gender inequalities that are still inherent in the educational system It covers areas including gender differences in subject choice and polarisation in reading writing and drawing and suggests areas for future research Family Of Origin Therapy And Cultural Diversity H. Russell Searight,2014-01-14 This text explores family of origin treatment which looks at patterns and rules in a family which affect interactions within that family These patterns are then unconsciously utilized throughout a person s life in work and family settings Examining and understanding these family rules allows an emphasis on cultural diversity The family is often the basis for ethnic cultural and religious norms Examining these norms can help the individuals and their families deal with norms and variations from these norms when confronting issues such as marriage and intimacy sexual orientation and religious belief Children's Childhoods Berry Mayall,2002-11 First published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Blood Stories Janet Lee,Jennifer Sasser-Coen,2015-12-22 Blood Stories focuses on menarche as a central aspect of body politics in contemporary US society emphasizing that women are integrated into the social and sexual order through the body Using oral and written narratives of 104 diverse women the authors address the central question of how menarche as a bodily event signifying womanhood takes on cultural significance in a society that devalues women Exploring issues of contamination and concealment and the sexualization of women s bodies that occurs at menarche the authors emphasize how the politics of gender are negotiated on through women s bodies

Lives Together/Worlds Apart Suzanna Danuta Walters,2023-11-15 In the 1940s film Now Voyager Bette Davis plays a daughter struggling against her mother s stifling repression Nearly fifty years later in the Hollywood saga Postcards from the Edge Shirley MacLaine as a neglectful and bossy mother inflicts untold psychological pain on her daughter played by Meryl Streep These dramas of conflict and the ambivalent struggle for separation have been central to popular images of mothers and daughters in the last half century in the U S Walters boldly challenges these dichotomies and proposes an innovative and multilayered understanding of the cultural construction of the mother daughter relationship In a discussion of popular media ranging from themes of maternal martyrdom to maternal malevolence Walters shows that since World War II mainstream culture has generally represented the mother daughter relationship as one of never ending conflict and thus promoted an ideology of separation as necessary to the daughter s emancipation and maturity This ideological move is placed in a social context of the anti woman backlash of the early post war period and the renewed anti feminism of the Reagan and Bush years Walters uses exceptions to mainstream imagery films such as A Tree Grows in Brooklyn television shows like Maude novels like The Joy Luck Club to offer evidence of alternative traditions and paradigms Timely and vividly argued Lives Together Worlds Apart makes a brilliant contribution to discussions of popular culture and feminism In the 1940s film Now Voyager

The Top Books of the Year Altered Loves The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Altered Loves : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Altered Loves : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Altered Loves : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
