Alternative Lives:

Alternative Lives of Jesus Roland H. Worth, Jr., 2010-06-28 There is a body of religious literature most of which was written centuries after the New Testament that attempts to provide supplemental or alternative accounts of the life of Jesus Christ The most exhaustive surviving alternative versions to the New Testament come from orthodox circles and are often creative imaginings that try to fill holes in the canonical gospel accounts of Jesus life This work investigates the origins and nature of noncanonical retellings in detail both orthodox and heretical as well as Roman and traditionalist Jewish ones Extensive summaries of the text as well as substantial verbatim extracts of key incidents and assertions are provided to give the reader a feel for the character and intents of the various sources A concise introduction to a much neglected area of Bible related study that should be of potential use to students of Biblical literature comparative religion and early medieval thought

Preference and Information Dan Egonsson, 2007 Standard preferentialist theories allege that a person's preferences and their satisfaction are the correct measure of well being In this book Egonsson presents a critical analysis of the full information account of the good which claims that only the satisfaction of rational and fully informed preferences has value for a person

The Everyday Lives of Gay Men in Hainan James Cummings, 2022-03-15 This book explores the everyday lives of gay men in Hainan an island province of the People's Republic of China Taking an ethnographic and phenomenological approach it asks how these men construct and experience ways of sexual being as gay homosexual tongzhi and or in the scene and what these mean for the ways of living they see as possible within a socio cultural political and material context characterised by pervasive heteronormativity It explores what it means for gay men in Hainan to come into the scene how internet and mobile technologies figure in their everyday processes of sexual categorisation and how these men negotiate orientations and disorientations towards the future in relation to dominant heterosexual life scripts of marriage and reproduction This book offers vital insights into the production and restriction of non heterosexual lives in diverse settings while addressing universal questions of how certain ways of living are enabled and curtailed in living together with others through powerful conditions of uncertainty and precarity This book will be of interest to scholars in LGBTQ studies particularly those with a focus on same sex intimacies and identities in China

The Art of Life and Death Andrew Irving, 2017-09-15 The Art of Life and Death explores how the world appears to people who have an acute perspective on it those who are close to death Based on extensive ethnographic research Andrew Irving brings to life the lived experiences imaginative lifeworlds and existential concerns of persons confronting their own mortality and non being Encompassing twenty years of working alongside persons living with HIV AIDS in New York Irving documents the radical but often unspoken and unvoiced transformations in perception knowledge and understanding that people experience in the face of death By bringing an experience near ethnographic focus to the streams of inner dialogue imagination and aesthetic expression that are central to the experience of illness and everyday life this monograph offers a theoretical ethnographic and methodological contribution to the anthropology of time finitude and the human condition With relevance well beyond the disciplinary boundaries of anthropology this book ultimately highlights the challenge of capturing the inner experience of human suffering and hope that affect us all of the trauma of the threat of death and the surprise of continued life The art of life and death is unlike anything I have ever read in its combination of theoretical ambition and methodological innovation The book is the fruit of Irving s close collaboration with a remarkable group of men and women diagnosed with AIDS at a time when there was little hope of surviving the disease With the help of their words and crucially their art Irving illuminates the complex inner life world created by the trauma of threatened death and the surprise of continued life Inner experience and the challenge of capturing it lie at the heart of this book Danilyn Rutherford author of Laughing at Leviathan The art of life and death is a monumental anthropological achievement Fusing long term fieldwork deeply sensitive observation and a refined sense the phenomenology of our deep existential fears of illness of death and the emotional quandaries of having survived a confrontation with mortality Andrew Irving demonstrates how imaginative ethnography can reveal to us the deep contours of human being The art of life and death is filled with gripping narratives not only of pain confusion but also of courage and resilience It is a theoretically informed text that will long remain open to the world Paul Stoller author of Yaya s story The art of life and death is a brilliantly engaging piece of work that invites us to rethink life itself and introduces new ways of carrying out anthropological research Through a compelling interweaving of ethnography and theory Irving takes us close to lives that have been lived under conditions of existential uncertainty and recovery This book goes beyond conventional anthropology to offer a thoroughly inspiring account from which we learn not only about what it means to live near death but how art and the senses are implicated in life It will endure as an outstanding example of how do anthropology at its best Sarah Pink coauthor of Uncertainty and possibility In this imaginatively conceived book Andrew Irving asks compelling and daring questions on how to think of such categories as experience inner life or subjectivity in the face of imminent death He follows up with a very careful and caring ethnography of how art and life flow into each other Irving achieves perfect pitch in his writing A splendid achievement Veena Das author of Affliction Of the utmost importance a very worthwhile introduction to any medical anthropologist because it includes detailed ethnographic descriptions a variety of ethnographic methods and a range of key anthropological themes including a focus on embodied experiences social injustice and how individuals deal with death The narrative style of the book makes it easy to read and relate to This is a great feat given the complex and troubling themes discussed which lead one to question their very perception of life itself Journal of the Anthropological Society of Oxford Of interest to anyone looking to explore people s dynamic perceptive and reflective outlook on the world whether looking to the future contemplating death or simply being alive No curious anthropology student or for that matter person would be left un inspired or non transformed by this text and I implore as wide a readership as possible Anthropology Aging An exceptional achievement that gets under your skin from beginning to end Outstanding interweaving of theoretical critique and aspiration collaborative ethnography and methodological experimentation and innovation Inspiring essential reading for anyone interested in new ethnographic methods to more deeply access the complex inner dimensions of human experience American Ethnologist An excellent thought provoking book Brilliantly succeeding in drawing both a conceptual and empirical portrait of the patterns in which HIV as a socio historically traceable illness tends to articulate the life death dialectical relation on the discovery threshold of embodied mortality Groundbreaking Mortality This beautifully written and constructed book weaves together sophisticated social theory philosophy art work and vivid biographical narratives to offer insights into how HIV AIDS patients have learned to live a meaningful existence in the pre and post antiretroviral eras while negotiating a terminal illness Basing his book on 20 years of work with adults living with HIV AIDS in New York visual anthropologist Irving has carried out a compelling anthropological study of the complex inner world of those who struggle cope fight and ultimately come to terms with their own impending deaths The author draws on philosophical writings and social theories to contextualize his results but is at his best when allowing his subjects to speak for themselves The evocative words of subjects like artist Albert Velasco provide fascinating insights into the ways that dying persons with HIV AIDS grapple with the mundane like keeping medical appointments as well as the profound reckoning with their own mortality and purpose An engaging read that will enrich upper level and graduate collections on death and dying ethnographic methods and HIV AIDS Highly recommended Choice Transnational Migration, Media and Identity of Asian Women Youna Kim,2011

Shared Margins Samuli Schielke, Mukhtar Saad Shehata, 2021-07-05 Shared Margins tells of writers writing and literary milieus in Alexandria Egypt s second city It de centres cosmopolitan avant gardes and secular revolutionary aesthetics that have been intensively documented and studied since 2011 Instead it offers a fieldwork based account of various milieus and styles and their common grounds and lines of division Structured in two parts Shared Margins gives an account of literature as a social practice embedded in milieus that at once enable and limit literary imagination and of a life worldly experience of plurality in absence of pluralism that marks literary engagements with the intimate and social realities of Alexandria after 2011 Literary writing this book argues has marginality as an at once enabling and limiting condition It provides shared spaces of imaginary excess that may go beyond the taken for granted of a societal milieu and yet are never unlimited Literary imagination is part and parcel of such social conflicts and transformations its role being neither one of resistance against power nor of guidance towards norms but rather one of open ended complicity Changing Hearts Changing Communities Karl Brettig, 2023-08-16

We live in a world of changing hearts and changing communities Spiralling family violence and child abuse and neglect often related to intergenerational trauma are severely impacting many communities On an international level threats from nuclear war climate change and artificial general intelligence in the hands of autocratic dictators present disturbing challenges to our future If we want to see change in families communities and nations it needs to begin in the motivational centre of our being The scourge of insatiable approval seeking alienation from the Creator intergenerational trauma and the debilitating effects of a broken heart and spirit simmers within us How can we experience change We need to identify what needs to change in what is motivating us and discover how we can be empowered to change deeply entrenched habits As well as a change in the thought patterns of our minds we need to experience a pervasive pivot in our attitudes This publication draws from arguably the most significant change movement in history exploring how we can discover the power to change and contribute toward transforming broken communities in an uncertain world of accelerating change
