Perez, 2017 There is a need for major change in our educational system and in particular the design of schools Our existing school model was defined in the mid to late 1800s as a response to the Industrial Revolution and does not reflect the needs of the next generation of 21st century students One of the key elements of change in schools is the shift from confined classrooms towards alternative learning environments spaces that are designed for a specific learning type or activity This thesis focuses on secondary education and examines three schools identified as having innovative school designs While all three schools are professionally recognized as innovative institutes by the American Institute of Architects AIA Committee on Architectural Education CAE their local AIA chapter and or by the Association for Learning Environments James D MacConnell Award they vary in curriculum program requirements size and site context The research of these schools uses a qualitative mixed method approach to measure the effectiveness of alternative learning environments in secondary schools It is conducted through a combination of an inventory and analysis of each school's program and spaces as well as through a questionnaire sent to the faculty staff and administration of each school to assess the use and qualities of the alternative learning environments in their schools. The objective of this research is to identify the positive and negative impacts of the alternative learning environments on the school's organization, curriculum, educators, and students.

The book identifies key innovations, including community school partnerships, technology-supported learning, and the potential for engaging learning opportunities during an expanded school day. Among the topics covered: Engagement as a primary framework for understanding educational and motivational outcomes; Measuring the malleability, complexity, multidimensionality, and sources of engagement; The relationship between engagement and achievement; Supporting and challenging the instructor's role in promoting engagement; Engagement within and beyond core academic subjects; Technological innovations on the engagement horizon. Optimal Learning Environments to Promote Student Engagement is an essential resource for researchers, professionals, and graduate students in child and school psychology, social work, educational psychology, positive psychology, family studies, and teaching/teacher education.
