keeping with the agreement that once Ernest is twenty eight he can receive it

Postcolonial Theory and Autobiography David Huddart, 2008-04-18 Cultural theory has often been criticized for covert Eurocentric and universalist tendencies Its concepts and ideas are implicitly applicable to everyone ironing over any individuality or cultural difference Postcolonial theory has challenged these limitations of cultural theory and Postcolonial Theory and Autobiography addresses the central challenge posed by its autobiographical turn Despite the fact that autobiography is frequently dismissed for its Western masculine bias David Huddart argues for its continued relevance as a central explanatory category in understanding postcolonial theory and its relation to subjectivity Focusing on the influence of post structuralist theory on postcolonial theory and vice versa this study suggests that autobiography constitutes a general philosophical resistance to universal concepts and theories Offering a fresh perspective on familiar critical figures like Edward W Said and Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak by putting them in the context of readings of the work of Jacques Derrida Gilles Deleuze and Alain Badiou this book relates the theory of autobiography to expressions of new universalisms that together with postcolonial theory rethink and extend norms of experience investigation and knowledge

Learning to be a Person in Society Peter Jarvis, 2009 How exactly do we learn to be a person through living In this book Peter Jarvis demonstrates the ways in which we become social human beings It will appeal to a wide variety of audiences involved in the study of learning and development

Mark Twain's Autobiography Twain, Mark, 2015-06-05 Autobiography of Mark Twain or Mark Twain s Autobiography refers to a lengthy set of reminiscences dictated for the most part in the last few years of American author Mark Twain s life and left in typescript and manuscript at his death The Autobiography comprises a rambling collection of anecdotes and ruminations rather than a conventional autobiography

Interpreting the Self Diane Bjorklund, 2000-04-15 In this ambitious study Diane Bjorklund explores the historical nature of self narrative Examining over 100 American autobiographers published in the last two centuries she discusses not only well known autobiographies such as Mark Twain and Andrew Carnegie but also many obscure ones such as a traveling book peddler a minstrel a hotel proprietress an itinerant preacher a West Point cadet and a hoopskirt wire manufacturer Bjorklund draws on the colorful stories of these autobiographers to show how their historical epoch shapes their understandings of self A refreshingly welcome approach to this intriguing topic Bjorklund s extensive and systematic approach to her source material is impressive and enriches our understanding of this essential subject Virginia Quarterly Review Bjorklund studies both famous and obscure writers and her clear prose style and copious quotations provide insight into the many aspects of the changing American self Library Journal

Autobiography and the Psychological Study of Religious Lives , 2008-01-01 This volume positions itself on the cutting edge of two fields in psychology that enjoy rapidly increasing attention both the study of human lives and some core domains of such lives as religion and spirituality are high on the agenda of current research and teaching Biographies and autobiographies are being approached in new ways and have become central to the study of human lives as an object of research and a preferred method for obtaining unique data about subjective human experiences Ever since the beginning of the psychology of religion autobiographies have also been pointed out as an important source of information about psychic processes involved in religiosity In this volume a number of leading theoreticians and researchers from Europe and the USA try to bring them back to this field by drawing on new insights and latest developments in psychological theory

The Limits of Autobiography Leigh Gilmore, 2023-07-15 In The Limits of Autobiography Leigh Gilmore analyzes texts that depict trauma by combining elements of autobiography fiction biography history and theory in ways that challenge the constraints of autobiography Astute and compelling readings of works by Michel Foucault Louis Althusser Dorothy Allison Mikal Gilmore Jamaica Kincaid and Jeanette Winterson explore how each poses the questions How have I lived and How will I live in relation to the social and psychic forms within which trauma emerges First published in 2001 this new edition of one of the foundational texts in trauma studies includes a new preface by the author that assesses the gravitational pull between life writing and trauma in the twenty first century a tension that continues to produce innovative and artful means of confronting kinship violence and self representation

Centenarians' Autobiographies Mita Banerjee, 2023-12-18 Situated at the intersection between medical humanities aging studies autobiographical studies disability studies and ethic studies this book explores the fascination of centenarians autobiographies for humanites research It can be argued that the growing presence of centenarians autobiographies on book markets across the globe may be rooted in the public's desire for positive images of aging in contrast to the image of inevitable decay

The Body in Autobiography and Autobiographical Novels Menotti Lerro, 2018-10-12 This volume explores a web of complex relationships between body and mind discussing the efforts of individuals from a wide variety of backgrounds to define to achieve or to reject the normal and in some cases to put something else in its place After considering the problems arising from other people's perceptions of non standard bodies the book turns to gender is it written upon the body established at birth determined only by physical traits and distinguished by material things such as clothes or is it written within the body defined through the subject's own feelings It considers what happens when males consider themselves female and females consider themselves male It concludes with the analysis of four books by different authors with different sexual orientations Two of these volumes might be considered genuine autobiographies while the other two are novels which include numerous autobiographical features that reflect the authors own thoughts

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

The Lieutenant and Commander; Being Autobiographical Sketches of His Own Career, from Fragments of Voyages and Travels by B. H. Basil HALL (R.N.),1862 Memoir of Rev. Gordon Hall ... One of the First Missionaries of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, at Bombay Horatio BARDWELL,1834 A Pedagogist's Memoir Grant Rodwell,2025-10-07

Opportunities to write our memoirs are many and varied To meet emerging demands the memoir genre continually is evolving and it is possible for the memoirist to shape the memoirs with varying themes time and settings to be brought to bear on school education at a senior level and for a range of teacher development programs Thus the developing importance of an accompanying exegesis For better or for worse childhoods shape adult relationships and attachment styles profoundly shaping who we are as teachers teaching styles and generally the things we consider important and not so important The shape of our childhood and adolescence has a profound impact on how relationships are formed in adulthood It can affect our ability to trust be vulnerable and create productive bonds both at school and college and professionally and also our general levels of motivation Through the aforementioned theme and subthemes my memoirs here reveal how childhood struggle has shaped my approach to teaching and my academic career from an unskilled labourer from the country working class in the timber industry deprived of a high school education and recruited into the workforce at 15 years of age to a senior academic in one of Australia's G8 universities holding five PhDs With strong historical backgrounding a special appeal of this book is its drive to place childhood and adolescent events contained in the memoirs in a wider historical context looking to transnational movements such as discussions on anachronisms and eugenics In so doing the exegesis a fresh and exciting innovation is in harmony with the memoirs The memoir is so refashioned as a pedagogical tool

Memoir of the Rev. Alexandre Waugh, with Selections from His Epistolary Correspondence James Hay,1839 Memoir of the Life of Laurence Oliphant and of Alice Oliphant, His Wife Oliphant,1891 Autobiographical Writings Mark Twain,2012-05-29

An intimate look at Mark Twain that only he himself could offer edited by highly respected Twain scholar R Kent Rasmussen A must have for all lovers of Mark Twain this selection of his autobiographical writings opens a rare window onto the writer's life particularly his early years Born on November 30 1835 in Florida Missouri Samuel Langhorne Clemens first used the pseudonym Mark Twain while a journalist in Nevada in 1863 When his first major book The Innocents Abroad appeared six years later he began what would become one of the most celebrated and influential careers in American letters Autobiographical Writings will help readers know the author intimately and appreciate why a century after his death he remains so vital and appealing For more than sixty five years Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English speaking world With more than 1 500 titles Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators Autobiography Janet Varner Gunn,2017-02-17 Autobiography Gunn argues must be reunderstood as a cultural act of reading the self not as a private act of writing the self Moreover the self that is read both by the autobiographer and the reader of autobiography is the displayed self not the hidden self the self that appears in the world and can be experienced and thereby realized by others Drawing on narrative theory phenomenology and hermeneutics Gunn locates the literary features of autobiography in the larger anthropological context of what she calls the autobiographical situation An elegantly constructed interdisciplinary analysis this book renders the hybrid genre of autobiography freshly problematic Autobiography as Literature Remy O. Oriaku,1998
