Memoirs is a true story about one person's journey into becoming a law enforcement officer in northern Maine. It's funny, sad, serious, and real. Along the journey, author David Wilson experiences life and the unique people around him. He discovers that we're not all born to be cops and in fact, for Wilson, it wasn't his first career choice at all. The tales Wilson tells will show that whether the call for service was routinely mundane or life-threatening, there's a story in there somewhere with unique human characters answering the calls for service. The book is a true account, at times humorous and at times candidly serious, of one person's personal journey. What you'll discover by reading this book is that we're all different, we're all the same, we're all human, and that police officers, rural or urban, are real people.
