Laboring in the Shadow of Empire Celeste Vaughan Curington, 2024-09-13 Laboring in the Shadow of Empire Race Gender and Care Work in Portugal examines the everyday lives of an African descendant care service workforce that labors in an ostensibly anti racial Europe and against the backdrop of the Portuguese colonial empire While much of the literature on global care work has focused on Asian and Latine migrant care workers there is comparatively less research that explicitly examines African care workers and their migration histories to Europe Sociologist Celeste Vaughan Curington focuses on

Portugal a European setting with comparatively liberal policies around family settlement and naturalization for migrants In this setting rapid urbanization in the late twentieth century along with a national push to reconcile work and family has shaped the growth of paid home care and cleaning service industries Many researchers focus on informal work settings where immigrant rights are restricted and many workers are undocumented or without permanent residence status Curington instead examines workers who have accessed citizenship or permanent residence status and also explores African women s experiences laboring in care and service industries in the formal market revealing how deeply colonial and intersectional logics of a racialized and international division of reproductive labor in Portugal render these women hyper invisible and hyper visible as appropriate workers in Lisbon

Mencken,2025-03-02 In Prejudices Fifth Series H L Mencken delivers a provocative collection of essays that dissect the social and cultural mores of American society in the early 20th century Mencken s characteristic wit and acerbic style permeate these pieces where he ranges from critiques of contemporary literature and politics to incisive observations on the human condition This collection reflects his role as a social commentator and is marked by a blend of humor and cynicism effectively capturing the zeitgeist of an America caught between tradition and modernity while challenging prevailing norms with his signature iconoclasm H L Mencken often referred to as the Sage of Baltimore was a prominent journalist essayist and literary critic whose work frequently scrutinized American life His disdain for mediocrity and conventionality was influenced by his own encounters with the burgeoning cultural landscape of post World War I America Mencken s unique perspective cultivated through his
