Soulmates Juliana Geran Pilon, 2011-12-31 In Soulmates Resurrecting Eve Juliana Geran Pilon argues for a return to an egalitarian view of men and women found in the original Genesis narrative as reflected through Judaism Christianity and Islam In each of these Abrahamic traditions it was understood that man and woman were created to be soulmates in God s image equal despite their different functions within society Pilon writes that this original message has gradually been distorted with disastrous effect Any hope for an ennobling human community begins by resurrecting Eve as an equal partner to Adam The work examines the Biblical creation narrative comparing it to Greek and other ancient mythologies Pilon explains how the disturbing association of woman with sin and death led to Eve s demise as Adam s equal The final section of the work deals with the Goddess myth love and marriage in early religious narratives and modern man s search for his soul no less than for a soulmate The book at its core is a meditation on the relationship between men and women but also among human beings The resurrection of Eve is indispensable to attaining a true appreciation of love and faith Pilon uses religious texts expert commentary and various works of fiction poetry and psychology to make her argument come alive The work is strengthened by the writing style alternately poetic and humorous and a clear and illuminating progression of ideas Its emphasis on reconciliation and understanding and its post feminist outlook will find a receptive audience Any Body There? Craig Michael Mueller,2017-07-21 Any body there we may wonder as we watch people engage with their smart phones while being oblivious to what is going on around them Anybody there is the question facing the church as it wrestles with declining religious affiliation Craig Mueller considers this contemporary context and offers a response based in an incarnational spirituality accentuating the body and finding expression in corporate multisensory liturgy Mueller creatively weaves together topics from our digital lives with personal and congregational stories and theological liturgical and spiritual reflections Concepts such as virtuality the analog 24 7 connectivity access design and GPS are juxtaposed with themes of embodiment mortality sabbath mystery beauty and vocation Drawing on his experience as a pastor to millennials his studies in liturgical theology and his work on the effects of technology on daily life Mueller proposes that corporate worship is an antidote to the distraction fragmentation and spiritual hunger in society today As humans continue to merge with machines participation in the Sunday liturgy reminds us of what it means to be human a deeper connection to our bodies and the earth and a clear sense of purpose and mission for our everyday lives Medieval Mysteries Karen Ralls,2014-03-01 Journey into twelve of the world s favorite medieval mysteries and cross the threshold into the world of the High Middle Ages From Chaucer s Canterbury Tales to Umberto Eco s Name of the Rose to Dan Brown s bestselling The Da Vinci Code the medieval period continues to intrigue inspire entertain and fascinate many today For the general reader and specialist alike medieval expert former Rosslyn Chapel museum exhibition curator and bestselling author Dr Karen Ralls guides the reader through the key historical facts legends and lore affiliated places and major symbolism of each of these 12 popular medieval enigmas providing a lively introductory portal which includes some of the lesser known sidelined or unacknowledged aspects of each of these enduring topics The story of each subject comes alive as never before providing a solid introduction for all readers as well as further suggested resources for teachers and researchers Also included are photographs a recommended reading section maps a list of the key major sites associated with each topic and a full Bibliography Topics covered include King Arthur Merlin and GlastonburyThe Grail Quest Mary MagdaleneThe real meaning of Black MadonnasThe Knights Templar the Cathers and Rosslyn ChapelMedieval Guides and TroubadoursHeresy and Heretics Let this book serve as your personal pilgrimage back to the High Middle Ages a time of potent symbolism occult knowledge and spiritual quests Writing Matters Andrea A. Lunsford,2011-08-15 Anyone who laments the demise of print text would find a sympathetic listener in Andrea A Lunsford Anyone who bemoans the lack of respect for blogs graphic novels and other new media would find her no less understanding Lunsford is at home in both camps because she sees beyond writing s ever changing forms to the constancy of its power to make space for human agency or to radically limit such agency Lunsford is a celebrated scholar of rhetoric and composition and many undergraduates taking courses in those subjects have used her textbooks Here she helps us see that writing is not just a mode of communication persuasion and expression but a web of meanings and practices that shape our lives Lunsford tells how she gained a new respect for our digital culture s three v s vocal visual verbal while helping design and teach a course in multimedia writing On the importance of having a linguistically pluralistic society Lunsford draws links between such varied topics as the English Only movement language extinction Ebonics and the text messaging shorthand l33t Lunsford has seen how words writing and language enforce unfair power relationships in the academy Most classroom settings she writes are authority based and stress individualism ranking hierarchy and therefore we have belatedly come to understand exclusion Concerned about the paucity still of tenured women and minority faculty she urges schools to revisit admission and retention practices These are tough and divisive problems Lunsford acknowledges Yet if we can see that writing has the power to help prolong or solve them that writing matters then we have a common ground

Sex, Time, and Power Leonard Shlain, 2004-08-03 As in the bestselling The Alphabet Versus the Goddess Leonard Shlain's provocative new book promises to change the way readers view themselves and where they came from Sex Time and Power offers a tantalizing answer to an age old question Why did big brained Homo sapiens suddenly emerge some 150 000 years ago The key according to Shlain is female sexuality Drawing on an awesome breadth of research he shows how long ago the narrowness of the newly bipedal human female's pelvis and the increasing size of infants heads precipitated a crisis for the species Natural selection allowed for the adaptation of the human female to this environmental stress by reconfiguring her hormonal cycles entraining them with the periodicity of the moon The results however did much more than ensure our existence they imbued women with the concept of time and gave them control over sex a power that males sought to reclaim And the possibility of achieving immortality through heirs drove men to construct patriarchal cultures that went on to dominate so much of human history From the nature of courtship to the evolution of language Shlain's brilliant and wide ranging exploration stimulates new thinking about very old matters

Altering Nature B. A. Lustig, B.A. Brody, Gerald P. McKenny, 2008-07-15 B Andrew Lustig Baruch A Brody and Gerald P McKenny Nearly every week the general public is treated to an announcement of another actual or potential breakthrough in biotechnology Headlines trumpet advances in assisted reproduction current or prospective experiments in cloning and developments in regenerative medicine stem cell technologies and tissue engineering Scientific and popular accounts explore the perils and the possibilities of enhancing human capacities by computer based biomolecular or mechanical means through advances in artificial intelligence genetics and nanotechnology Reports abound concerning ever more sophisticated genetic techniques being introduced into agriculture and animal husbandry as well as efforts to enhance and protect biodiversity Given the pace of such developments many insightful commentators have proclaimed the 21st century as the biotechnology century. Despite a significant literature on the morality of these particular advances in biotechnology, deeper ethical analysis has often been lacking. Our preliminary review of that literature suggested that current discussions of normative issues in biotechnology have suffered from two major deficiencies. First, the discussions have been too often piecemeal in character, limited to after-the-fact analyses of particular issues that provoked the debate and unconnected to larger concepts and themes. Second, a crucial missing element of those discussions has been the failure to reflect explicitly on the diverse disciplinary conceptions of nature and the natural that shape moral judgments about the legitimacy of specific forms of research and their applications.

Concepts Paul Dehn Carleton, 2004. Concepts is a search for theism's roots, coined prototheism, a science of religion. Its notion is: Belief in God is a misconception of the Life Urge emerging from deep in human nature. Concepts traces Life's trajectory from Earth's origin to consciousness to today's runaway material culture.

Still Listening Norvene Vest, 2000-11-01. Interest in the practice of spiritual direction has grown in recent years. With the increased number of people seeking direction have come a number of new issues confronting spiritual directors. This volume of essays by seasoned spiritual directors from a variety of faith traditions addresses issues of concern to directors today, such as direction with abused persons, the poor, church dropouts, and gays and lesbians. Other essays look at spiritual direction in new contexts, such as the congregational setting, the corporate arena, spiritual direction and generational issues, and direction at the turn of the century. The final section of the book addresses some specific circumstances: working with the addicted, with those who are dying, using art in spiritual direction, and direction and social justice. Contributors include Joseph D. Driskill, Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, CA; Juan Reed, Chicago, IL; Rich Rossiter, Oak Park, IL; Sandra Lommason Davis, CA; Howard Rice, Santa Rosa, CA; Tom Cashman, Federal Way, WA; Steven Charleston, Episcopal Divinity School, Barry Woodbridge, Rancho Cucamonga, CA; Margaret Guenther, Washington, D.C.; Betsy Caprio Hedburg, Culver City, CA; and Kenneth Leech, London. The Better Way To Win Linda Seger, Th.D., 2011-01-20. The Better Way to Win is about the movement from linear, competitive thinking to a new way of thinking which Seger calls Web thinking, based on the dual images of the spider web and the World Wide Web. In this provocative book, Seger shows that Web thinking is not only more humane but also more effective and more likely to bring lasting success. The metaphor that shapes our thinking is being transformed by the technologies we use and by the growing power of women in the world. Linda Seger shows us how to build upon this fundamental shift to create more richly satisfying and connected lives. Sally Helgesen, author of The Web of Inclusion. This book is a small gem. If this were required reading for managers and taught in MBA, the world would become a better place. Web Thinking is a key business philosophy and lifestyle paradigm for twenty-first century information societies. Hazel Henderson, author of Beyond Globalization.
