Alt Dis Alternative Discourses Academy:

ALT DIS Christopher L. Schroeder, Helen Fox, Patricia Bizzell, 2002 Patricia Bizzell has argued that teachers of composition if they are going to prepare students for success in other classrooms and other contexts cannot afford to ignore alternative forms of discourse that are appearing now in the academy This edited collection of original essays both discusses and at times exemplifies extraordinary examples of just such alternatives discourses that embody new and different forms of intellectual work Together their writings pose and answer some intriguing questions about the use of nonstandard discourse to illustrate unconventional forms of intellectual work role of nonstandard discourse in scholarship from disciplines across the curriculum theoretical complexities of discourses defined as alternative hybrid mixed or constructed relationships among communities discourses and linguistic standards new conditions in composition classrooms made up of more students of English as a foreign language and students using non standard dialects teacher student relationships within the context of alternative forms of intellectual work Using unconventional structures and formats while acknowledging new modes and methods this provocative volume argues eloquently for inclusion of a broader range of expression in academic writing

Rhetorical Agendas Patricia Bizzell, 2006-04-21 This volume represents current theory and research in rhetoric across disciplines and is of interest to scholars and students in rhetoric studies in speech communication English and related disciplines

Rethinking English in Schools Viv Ellis, Carol Fox, Brian Street, 2007-11-20 Why should young people study a subject called English This question lies at the heart of this fascinating monograph which brings together the diverse perspectives of many leading thinkers about English and literacy education This meticulously researched and well written collection takes as its starting point the importance of the history of the subject in the formation of its constitution and its boundaries First and foremost it proposes that questions of aims and values have informed these choices Equally it suggests that returning to these educational questions helps us to understand curriculum and pedagogy in complex ways that a simple focus on content and methods neglects Curriculum and pedagogy bring learners teachers institutions and the wider society into the debate

Lives, Letters, and Quilts Vanessa Kraemer Sohan, 2019-12-10 How writers activists and artists without power resist dominant social cultural and political structures through the deployment of unconventional means and materials In Lives Letters and Quilts Women and Everyday Rhetorics of Resistance Vanessa Kraemer Sohan applies a translingual and transmodal framework informed by feminist rhetorical practice to three distinct case studies that demonstrate women using unique and effective rhetorical strategies in political religious and artistic contexts These case studies highlight a diverse set of actors uniquely situated by their race gender class or religion but who are nevertheless connected by their capacity to envision and recontextualize the seemingly ordinary means and materials available to them in order to effectively persuade others The Great Depression provides the backdrop for the first case study a movement whereby thousands of elderly citizens proselytized and fundraised for a monthly pension plan dreamt up by a California doctor in the hopes of lifting themselves out of poverty Sohan investigates how the Townsend Plan s elderly supporters the Townsendites worked within and across language genre mode and media to enable them for the first time to be recognized by others and themselves as a viable political constituency Next Sohan recounts the story of Quaker minister Eliza P Kirkbride Gurney who met President Abraham Lincoln in 1862 Their subsequent epistolary exchanges concerning conscientious objectors made such an impression on him that one of her letters was rumored to be in his pocket the night of his assassination Their exchanges and Gurney s own accounts of her transnational ministry in her memoir provide useful examples of how throughout history women rhetors have adopted and transformed typically underappreciated forms of rhetoric such as the epideictic for their particular purposes The final example focuses on the Gee s Bend quiltmakers a group of African American women living in rural Alabama who repurpose discarded work clothes and other cast off fabrics into the extraordinary quilts for which they are known By drawing on the means and materials at hand to create celebrated works of art in conditions of extreme poverty these women show how marginalized artisans can operate both within and outside the bounds of established aesthetic traditions and communicate the particulars of their experience across cultural and economic divides

Experimental Writing in Composition Patricia Suzanne Sullivan, 2012-12-15 From the outset experimental writing has been viewed as a means to afford a more creative space for students to express individuality underrepresented social realities and criticisms of dominant socio political discourses and their institutions Yet the recent trend toward multimedia texts has left many composition instructors with little basis from which to assess these new forms and to formulate pedagogies In this original study Patricia Suzanne Sullivan provides a critical history of experimental writing theory and its aesthetic foundations and demonstrates their application to current multimodal writing Sullivan unpacks the work of major scholars in composition and rhetoric and their theories on aesthetics particularly avant gardism She also relates the dialectics that shape these aesthetics and sheds new light on both the positive and negative aspects of experimental writing and its attempts to redefine the writing disciplines Additionally she shows how current debates over the value of multimedia texts echo earlier arguments that pitted experimental writing against traditional models Sullivan further articulates the ways that multimedia is and isn t changing composition pedagogies and provides insights into resolving these tensions

Oenbring, 2019-08-13 Creole Composition is a collection featuring essays by scholars and teachers researchers working with students in from the Anglophone Caribbean Arising from a need to define what writing instruction in the Caribbean means Creole Composition expands the existing body of research literature about the teaching of writing at the postsecondary level in the Caribbean region To this end it speaks to critical disciplinary conversations of rhetoric and composition and academic literacies while addressing specific issues with teaching academic writing to Anglophone Caribbean students It features chapters addressing language approaches to teaching assessing writing administration and research in postsecondary education as well as professionalization of writing instructors in the region Some chapters reflect traditional Caribbean attitudes to postsecondary writing instruction other chapters seek to reform these traditional practices Some chapters interventions emerge from discussions in writing studies while other chapters reflect their authors primary training in other fields such as applied linguistics education and literary studies Additionally the chapters use a variety of styles and methods ranging from highly personal reflective essays to theoretical pieces and empirical studies following IMRaD format Creole Composition the first of its kind in the region provides much needed knowledge to the community of teacher researchers in the Anglophone Caribbean and elsewhere in the fields of rhetoric and composition writing studies and academic literacies In suggesting frameworks around which to build and further institutionalize and professionalize writing studies in the region the collection advances the broader field of writing studies beyond national boundaries Contributors include Tyrone Ali Annife Campbell Tresecka Campbell Dawes Valerie Combie Jacob Dyer Spiegel Brianne Jaquette Carmeneta Jones Clover Jones McKenzie Beverley Josephs Christine E Kozikowski Vivette Milson Whyte Kendra L Mitchell Raymond Oenbring Heather M Robinson Daidrah Smith and Michelle Stewart McKoy Latest Trends in ELF Research Alasdair

Archibald, Alessia Cogo, Jennifer Jenkins, 2011-08-08 English as a Lingua Franca or ELF for short is currently one of the most dynamic topics in the fields of applied and socio linguistics and English Language Teaching It has been a thriving field of research for the last twenty years with a growing number of books and journals dedicated to the subject The field has also seen the foundation of an annual international ELF conference series which started in 2008 and attracts growing numbers year on year This book has developed out of contributions to the Second International ELF conference held in Southampton UK in 2009 The papers in this volume provide new insights into ELF by presenting and exploring the implications of some of the latest findings of empirical research in key ELF research areas including business and academic ELF intercultural communication language attitudes and ideologies code switching and accommodation These papers will have a broad appeal among applied and socio linguists both academics and under post graduate students as well as ELT practitioners around the world They will also be of interest to language planners because of the potential of the research to inform English language policies and practices

American Indian Rhetorics of Survivance Ernest L. Stromberg, 2006-07-30 American Indian Rhetorics of Survivance presents an original critical and theoretical analysis of American Indian rhetorical practices in both canonical and previously overlooked texts autobiographies memoirs prophecies and oral storytelling traditions Ernest Stromberg assembles essays from a range of academic disciplines that investigate the rhetorical strategies of Native American orators writers activists leaders and intellectuals The contributors consider rhetoric in broad terms ranging from Aristotle's definition of rhetoric as the faculty of discovering in the particular case what are the available means of persuasion to the ways in which Native Americans assimilated and revised Western rhetorical concepts and language to form their own discourse with European and American colonists They relate the power and use of rhetoric in treaty negotiations written accounts of historic conflicts and events and ongoing relations between American Indian governments and the United States This is a groundbreaking collection for readers interested in Native American issues and the study of language In presenting an examination of past and present Native American rhetoric it emphasizes the need for an improved understanding of multicultural perspectives

Teaching Multiwriting Robert L. Davis, Mark F. Shadle, 2007-04-23 This innovative volume proposes a reinvention of composition and rhetoric training with multiwriting an alternative open approach to composing that spans genres media disciplines and cultures

Literacy as Translingual Practice A. Suresh Canagarajah, 2013 The term translingual highlights the reality that people always shuttle across languages communicate in hybrid languages and thus enjoy multilingual competence In the context of migration transnational economic and cultural relations digital communication and globalism increasing contact is taking place between languages and communities In these contact zones new genres of writing and new textual conventions are emerging that go beyond traditional dichotomies that treat languages as separated from each other and texts and writers as determined by one language or the other Pushing forward a translingual orientation to writing one that is in tune with the new literacies and communicative practices flowing into writing classrooms and demanding new pedagogies and policies this volume is structured around five concerns refining the theoretical premises learning from community practices debating the role of code meshed products identifying new research directions and developing sound pedagogical applications These themes are explored by leading scholars from L1 and L2 composition rhetoric and applied linguistics education theory and classroom practice and diverse ethnic rhetorics Timely and much needed Literacy as Translingual Practice is essential reading for students researchers and practitioners across these fields

The Ethics of Playing, Researching, and Teaching Games in the Writing Classroom Richard Colby, Matthew S.S. Johnson, Rebekah Shultz Colby, 2021-01-27 This book explores ethos and games while analyzing the ethical dimensions of playing researching and teaching games Contributors primarily from rhetoric and writing studies connect instances of ethos and ethical practice with writing pedagogy game studies video games gaming communities

gameworlds and the gaming industry The collection's eighteen chapters investigate game based writing classrooms gamification game design player agency and writing and gaming scholarship in order to illuminate how ethos is reputed interpreted and remembered in virtual gamespaces and in the gaming industry Ethos is constructed invented and created in and for games but inevitably spills out into other domains affecting agency ideology and the cultures that surround game developers players and scholars Building a Community, Having a Home Jennifer Sano-Franchini, Terese Guinsatao Monberg, 2017-02-18 Documents how Asian American teacher scholars have emerged within and contributed to a number of areas in rhetoric and composition as well as the National Council of Teachers of English and the Conference on College Composition and Communication in diverse and substantial ways from the 1960s to contemporary times

Teaching Writing With Latino/A Students Cristina Kirklighter, Diana Cardenas, Susan Wolff Murphy, 2007-08-09 Engages the complexities of teaching Latino students at Hispanic Serving Institutions Ethnography Unbound Stephen Gilbert Brown, Sidney I. Dobrin, 2012-02-01 These provocative new essays redefine the goals methods and assumptions of qualitative and ethnographic research in composition studies making evident not only the crucial importance of ethnographic research but also its resilience As Ethnography Unbound makes evident critical ethnographers are retheorizing their methodologies in ways that both redefine ethnographic practices and values and at the same time have begun to liberate ethnographic practices from the often disabling stronghold of postmodern critique Showing how ethnography works through dialogic processes and moves toward political ends this collection opens the doors to rethinking ethnographic research in composition studies A Linguistically Inclusive Approach to Grading Writing Hannah A. Franz, 2024 A Linguistically Inclusive Approach to Grading Writing A Practical Guide provides concrete tools for college writing instructors to improve their grading and feedback practices to benefit all student writers A linguistically inclusive grading approach honors Black linguistic justice facilitates students use of feedback and guides students to make rhetorical linguistic choices The existing literature addresses inclusive writing assessment from a programmatic and class policy level e.g. Inoue 2015 Perryman Clark 2012 Meanwhile this book provides models of actual comments on student writing to help instructors develop the necessary skills to incorporate inclusive assessment and feedback into their everyday practice The book details how to respond to organization word choice grammar and mechanics rooted in African American English and other language varieties A linguistically inclusive approach to grading writing will benefit instructors across contexts including instructors who teach online teach high achieving students or use contract grading The book's example comments and practices can also be implemented by instructors constrained by mandated grade weighting or rubrics that preclude adopting more extensive changes A linguistically inclusive grading approach is grounded in theory and research across education composition and sociolinguistics Mapping Queer Space(s) of Praxis and Pedagogy Elizabeth McNeil, James E. Wermers, Joshua O. Lunn, 2017-11-14 This book explores intersections of theory and practice to engage queer theory and education as it happens

both in and beyond the university Furthering work on queer pedagogy this volume brings together educators and activists who explore how we see write read experience and especially teach through the fluid space of queerness The editors and contributors are interested in how queer identified and influenced people create ideas works classrooms and other spaces that vivify relational and eco systems thinking thus challenging accepted hierarchies binaries and hegemonies that have long dominated pedagogy and praxis
