Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes claimed that historian Benson J Lossing did more than any other man to make history interesting and popular Lossing wrote his comprehensive three volume history of the Civil War at a time when the facts were still fresh Originally published in 1867 Volume Two covers the period immediately following the Battle of Bull Run in the summer of 1861 to the summer of 1863 and the fall of Vicksburg To research this volume the author traveled several thousand miles to visit principal battlefields of the war Lossing accompanies his narratives of marches battles and sieges with maps and plans includes biographical sketches of the prominent people from both sides of the conflict and illustrates his history with hundreds of drawings and engravings by the author and others Alton Cheryl Eichar Jett, 2009 The river bend near the confluence of three great rivers the Mississippi Missouri and Illinois was founded by Rufus Easton between 1814 and 1818 for land development and a ferry service between Illinois and St Louis Named for one of Easton s sons Alton developed into a bustling river town In 1837 Alton s economy was hurt by financial panic and its reputation blotted by the murder of abolitionist newspaper publisher Elijah Lovejoy But by the 1850s Alton had caught railroad fever which along with plentiful natural resources fueled its growth as a manufacturing city Fortunes were made and by the 20th century Alton boasted fine churches schools and millionaires mansions On the other end of the social scale lived the workers in their neighborhoods The river the railroad and the diverse people they brought to the river bend shaped Alton s history and culture Pictorial History of the Civil War in the United States of America Benson John Lossing, 1874 Pictorial History of the Civil War in the United States of America: Reorganizing the Army of the Potomac to the capture of Vicksburg Benson John Lossing, 1868 Pictorial History of the Civil War in the United States of America, Etc Benson John Lossing, 1868 Pictorial History of the War for the Union Ann Sophia Stephens, 1866 A Pictorial Description of the United States Robert Sears, 1854 Pictorial History of the Great Rebellion William O. Blake, 1863 Catalogue of the Library of Shurtleff College of Upper Alton, Ills Shurtleff College. Library, 1885 The Pageant of America, a Pictorial History of the United States , 1928 Historic Movie Theatres in Illinois, 1883-1960 Konrad Schiecke, 2015-06-08 This history and catalog of the movie theaters of Illinois follows their evolution from the early opera houses to the storefront nickelodeons to the awe inspiring movie palaces to the post World War II theaters and the advent of the multiplex Each theater has its own story and together these stories make up a fascinating history of cinema viewing in Illinois This richly illustrated book the first dealing exclusively with Illinois theatres contains nearly 3 000 descriptions of historic movie houses

Fight Like a Tiger Victoria L. Harrison, 2018-10-22 Focusing on the life of ambitious former slave Conway Barbour Victoria L Harrison argues that the idea of a black middle class traced its origins to the free black population of the mid nineteenth century and developed alongside the idea of a white middle class Although slavery and racism meant that the definition of middle class was not identical for white people and free people of color they shared similar desires for advancement Born a slave in western Virginia about 1815 Barbour was a free man by the late 1840s His adventurous life took him through Lexington and Louisville Kentucky Cleveland Ohio Alton Illinois and Little Rock and Lake Village Arkansas In search of upward mobility he worked as a steamboat steward tried his hand at several commercial ventures and entered politics He sought but was denied a Civil War military appointment that would have provided financial stability Blessed with intelligence competence and energy Barbour was quick to identify opportunities as they appeared in personal relationships he was simultaneously married to two women business and politics Despite an unconventional life Barbour found in each place he lived that he was one of many free black people who fought to better themselves alongside their white countrymen Harrison's argument about black class formation reframes the customary narrative of downtrodden free African Americans in the mid nineteenth century and engages current discussions of black inclusion the concept of otherness and the breaking down of societal barriers Demonstrating that careful research can reveal the stories of people who have been invisible to history Fight Like a Tiger complicates our understanding of the intersection of race and class in the Civil War era
