Unburied Memories: The Politics of Bodies of Sacred Defense Martyrs in Iran Pedram Khosronejad,2013-09-13 Today almost a generation has passed since the Iran Iraq war and the memory of it is set to diminish with each passing generation The following questions emerge Can we say that the gradual disappearance of war s memory means that increasingly Iranians will see the Iran Iraq war solely as an historical event How can we defend or reject this idea Today with which elements and values should we look at the Iran Iraq war memorials and ceremonies To what extent will war museums and materials culture be influenced by these new values In the period during and immediately after the Iran Iraq war 1980 88 national bereavement and commemoration of martyrs was neither apparent in common state policy nor a social need Even at the turn of the 21st century anyone walking through Iranian cities many of which had been the main scene of the bloody massacre and direct targets of the Iraqi Republican Guard will have found traces of the terrible almost unimaginable human losses However today s Iranians can see modern war memorials and monuments in many parts of the urban and rural landscape Yet at the same time the changing landscape has separated Iranians from such remnants of the violence It can be argued that many people in their wish to look forward to a more hopeful future do not wish to be reminded of this period in Iranian history This book was originally published as a special issue of Visual Anthropology
