Cameroon Forest Sector Development In A Difficult Political Economy:

Cameroon Boniface Essama-Nssah, James Jerome Gockowski, 2000-01-01 This country case study part of the Operations Evaluation Department OED A Review of the 1991 World Bank Forest Strategy and Its Implementation evaluates World Bank operations in Cameroon for their consistency with the strategy The strategic aspects of those operations are judged here on their relevance effectiveness efficiency institutional development and sustainability The fundamental objective of the forest policy reform in Cameroon was to establish a transparent equitable and sustainable management system for forest resources The outcome of the reform process was limited for four reasons First the government of Cameroon lacked genuine commitment and the capacity to carry out the reform Second key actors in the reform process particularly foreign logging companies and the parliament chose to oppose it Third partners such as the World Bank failed to devise an implementation strategy compatible with the underlying dynamics of political and socioeconomic changes in Cameroon Finally while Cameroon's forest policy is well codified in documents it is poorly implemented Although the reforms have led to increased tax revenues and increased the share of GDP attributable to the forest sector the structural underpinnings of the sector have been little affected Government agencies in the sector continue to be weak The international logging companies that dominate the sector continue to have a free hand in the development and use of the forest resources of Cameroon Local communities were left out of the reform process despite the declared objective to include them in forest resource management Overall the interventions of the Bank inside and outside the forest sector in Cameroon were relevant to its strategic objectives but they were neither efficacious nor efficient Because of weak institutional development the achievements are unlikely to be sustained The Bank should focus its future reform efforts in Cameroon on the collection and dissemination of relevant and reliable information working with a larger set of stakeholders and using more Cameroonian expertise to gain local perspective and build capacity The success of such an approach hinges on government commitment and the cooperation of other donor countries including those with timber interests in Cameroon Forest Sector

Département de l'évaluation rétrospective des opérations, 1999 Developing a Sustainable Economy in Cameroon Aloysius Ajab Amin, 2008 Developing a Sustainable Economy in Cameroon is an ambitious effort as the authors try to set a blue print for Cameroon's economy In the 1980s facing economic crisis and as dictated by the structural adjustment programme Cameroon sharply cut public investment expenditures before later cutting government consumption which were followed by privatisation liquidation of public companies and reduction in the size of the public sector All these measures are believed to have had devastating effects on the economy Given the performance of the economy so far the authors suggest that much more effort with a strong commitment of the main stakeholders is required to guarantee sustainable economic development in Cameroon Truly very few countries in Africa possess such enormous human and natural resources as Cameroon does This volume brings out the challenges Cameroon faces in its quest for development as well as for designing appropriate strategies for addressing those development challenges

The Next Ascent Ridley Nelson, 2002-01-01 The Aga Khan Rural Support Program AKRSP in northern Pakistan has become a model for rural development programmes throughout the country and worldwide This is the fourth independent evaluation of the AKRSP by the World Bank which seeks to assess how the programme can best meet present and future challenges and development needs The assessment covers the period since the programme's initiation in 1982 as well as the period since the last evaluation in 1995 It concentrates on four programme components community organisations infrastructure development natural resource management and microfinance

The World Bank Forest Strategy, 2000-01-01 This report assesses progress since the World Bank first issued its comprehensive Forest Strategy in 1991 It finds that the effectiveness of the strategy has been modest and the sustainability of its impact is uncertain The Report identifies seven factors that would make the World Bank forest strategy more pertinent to current circumstances as well as strengthening its ability to achieve its strategic objectives in the forest sector It recommends that the World Bank use its global reach to address mechanisms for mobilisation of concessional international resources outside its normal lending activities It also advises the World Bank to be proactive in establishing partnerships with all relevant stakeholders governments the private sector and civil society to meet both its country and global roles The focus on primary tropical moist forests should be broadened to include all types of natural forests of national and global value The report suggests that illegal logging needs to be reduced through the promotion of improved governance and enforcement Other recommendations are to give consideration to forest issues in all relevant sector activity and macroeconomic work address the employment needs of all poor people while continuing to protect the rights of indigenous people and to realign the World Bank resources with their objectives in the forest sector

Democratic Decentralisation through a Natural Resource Lens Jesse C. Ribot, Anne M. Larson, 2013-09-13 This volume queries the state and effect of the global decentralization movement through the study of natural resource decentralizations in Africa Asia and Latin America The case studies presented here use a comparative framework to characterize the degree to which natural resource decentralizations can be said to be taking place and where possible to measure their social and environmental consequences In general the cases show that threats to national level interests are producing resistance that is fettering the struggle for reform

Promoting Environmental Sustainability in Development Andrés Liebenthal, 2002-01-01 OED's evaluation has been timed to inform the preparation of the new Environment Strategy Paper The evaluation is based on the synthesis of self evaluation assessments case studies of selected countries background reviews of selected areas surveys and interviews of Bank staff and consultations with stakeholders in four regions An Advisory Panel reviewed drafts and served as a sounding board for the recommendations A concluding Workshop on the Bank's Environment Strategy and OED's Environment Review provided an opportunity for participants to comment on the Review findings and on the draft Environment Strategy and to discuss next steps in implementation In addition to OED's Review we are pleased to share with you the report of OED's Advisory Panel and the Facilitator's Summary of the concluding workshop India, the Challenges of Development Gianni Zanini, 2001-01-01 This Country Assistance Evaluation CAE reviews the development effectiveness of World Bank assistance to India during the 1990s It builds on evaluations of sector assistance programs projects and nonlending services to make these assessments This report uses the standard evaluation categories of outcome sustainability and institutional development 2000 Annual Review of Development Effectiveness William Battaille, 2001-01-01 This Annual Review of Development Effectiveness ARDE builds on previous reviews i e the 1998 review released in a hostile environment of financial crisis concluded that improvements in project performance cannot be enough that improvements at a higher plane of program and country performance should also be present and the 1999 review inscribed within the Comprehensive Development Framework dilemmas and challenges identified practices for dealing with those challenges namely to be based on country commitments to poverty reduction and sustainable growth The ARDE 2000 finds that progress was solid on a broad front but that further progress is likely Portfolio performance is likely to exceed the Strategic Compact target of seventy five percent satisfactory outcomes and sustainability and institutional development ratings reflect improvements Though progress is commendable this review examines four tensions the Bank faces learning to reconcile client and corporate priorities adapting global prescriptions to local conditions balancing country performance and poverty incidence in allocating its resources and achieving efficiency selectivity seeking to implement a holistic vision of development Bank strategies should acknowledge client needs judicious adaptation to institutional social and political fronts should be pursued and an approach to poor performing countries should be addressed The CGIAR at 31, 2004 The Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research CGIAR was established in 1971 to support the Rockefeller and Ford Foundations in funding four international agricultural research centres in Colombia Mexico Nigeria and the Philippines As the first global programme to receive grants from the World Bank's net income the CGIAR now consists of 16 autonomous international centres with a membership of 62 countries including 24 developing and transition economies This report evaluates the work of CGIAR and makes several recommendations to address the future challenges it faces in promoting agricultural research Improving the Lives of the Poor by Investing in Cities Roy Gilbert, 2003 Cities are home to 525 million poor people throughout the world This study assesses the performance of 99 World Bank urban development operations completed since 1993 focusing on how these interventions have improved the living conditions of the urban poor Findings include that the projects improved livability conditions significantly including access to better basic water sewerage and solid waste disposal However there is a need for more systematic monitoring and evaluation of the poverty alleviation results of such urban development assistance

Evaluating a Decade of World Bank Gender Policy, 1990-99, 2005-01-01 Annotation As part of the Bank's poverty reduction mandate the Bank's 1994 Operational Policy on Gender Dimensions of Development aimed to reduce gender disparity and increase the participation of women in the economic development of their countries This evaluation examines the relevance and results of this policy Economies in Transition Alice Galenson,2004-01-01 The Latin American Development Forum promotes debate and disseminates knowledge and analysis on economic and social development issues in Latin America and the Caribbean The Institutional Sponsors of this series are the World Bank United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean ECLAC and Inter American Development Bank IADB The transition economies of the Europe and Central Asia Region faced unprecedented political economic and social change after the break up of the Soviet Union With assistance from the World Bank and other donors many countries quickly accomplished a number of reforms but progress in others has been slower Much has been achieved the private share of GDP in the transition countries is nearly 70 percent and 8 countries have joined the EU but much remains to be completed Sustaining Forests World Bank,2004-05-01 The World Bank's Forests Strategy adopted in October 2002 charts a path for the Bank's proactive engagement in the sector to help attain the goal of poverty reduction without jeopardizing the environmental values intrinsic to sustainability This strategy replaces the Bank's 1991 Forestry Strategy and was developed on the basis of the findings of an independent review of the 1991 strategy and a two year consultative process with development partners and stakeholders around the world The revised strategy Sustaining Forests is built on three guiding pillars harnessing the potential of forests to reduce poverty integrating forests into sustainable economic development and protecting global forest values Recognizing the key role forests play in contributing to the livelihoods of people living in extreme poverty government and local ownership of forest policies and interventions are emphasized along with the development of appropriate institutions to ensure good governance and the mainstreaming of forests into national development planning The strategy also aims to support ecologically socially and economically sound management of production forests by ensuring good management practices through application of safeguard procedures and independent monitoring and certification Implementation of the strategy will center on building and strengthening partnerships with the private sector non governmental organizations and other donor agencies to promote better forest conservation and management at country and global levels The Drive to Partnership John R. Eriksson,2001-01-01 Results based conceptual frameworks Stakeholder views and related findings Country context and measuring aid coordination quality Information Infrastructure Alain Barbu,Rafael Dominguez,William H. Melody,2001-01-01 This publication follows up on the 1993 review of the Bank's experience in telecommunications it assesses how their assistance from has influenced the development of information infrastructure in developing countries It finds that the recommendations from 1993 have generally been heeded with the adoption of a new private sector led agenda and increasing the share of IFC in total Bank Group funding commitments However the ability to play a global policy leadership role has been hampered by a benign neglect of the sector at both the strategic and country management level IDA's Partnership for Poverty Reduction Catherine Gwin,2002-01-01 During its

40 year history the International Development Association IDA has worked to improve global welfare by allocating resources to growth and poverty reduction programs In 1990 a new framework for IDA s poverty reduction efforts was created which resulted in significant structural change to its programs The focus of the programs became one of labor intensive growth and expanded access to social services and safety nets to improve incomes levels among the poor Additionally the IDA agenda was expanded to include gender the environment and governance as facets of the poverty reduction framework This report evaluates IDA s performance from 1994 through 2000 against the three specific replenishment commitments of the period While finding the performance level only partially satisfactory the review suggests ways to improve the effectiveness of IDA programs replenishment process and its ability to match corporate and country priorities

Global Public Policies and Programs Christopher D. Gerrard,Marco A. Ferroni,Ashoka Mody,2001-01-01 This book is based on a global public policies and programs workshop held in July 2000 The papers examine conceptual issues along with the practical implementation problems of global public policies and programs Some of the topics covered in this book are global financial instability the implications of intellectual property rights protection for developing countries and the promotion of international agricultural research

Poverty Reduction in the 1990s Alison Evans,2000-01-01 The World Development Report 1990 Poverty provided the foundation for the World Bank strategy to help achieve global poverty reduction This report is a contribution to the strategy review process It examines the implementation of the 1990 strategy maps changes against assessment of Bank performance at both the country and the project level and assesses the relevance of key elements of the 1990 strategy in light of new data and shifts in the development assistance environment The report concludes that the 1990 strategy remains relevant but needs to be combined with a more comprehensive approach Lessons from experience confirm the importance of a holistic approach to reach the poor more effectively This includes a focus on local level institutions and building on existing institutional frameworks wherever possible and on working across sectors for maximum impact The 1990 strategy and the operational guidelines based on it have failed to generate a clear emphasis on measuring and monitoring results A critical test of the Bank s evolving poverty strategy will be the design of a credible framework for measuring the results of the Bank s country assistance and helping to build local capacity for monitoring the impact of poverty reduction programmes The report is in English with the foreword and the executive summary given in English Spanish and French

Implementing REDD+ in Africa Ademola Oluborode Jegede,2023-12-07 This book presents a cohesive collection of contributions representing an African scholarly voice on some of the most burning and emerging topics and experiences regarding the implementation of REDD in Africa from a human rights perspective It addresses the international human rights obligations of states and non state actors in the context of REDD implementation in Africa how current practices in various African states reinforce or affect human rights standards and critical issues concerning the rights of vulnerable groups such as women Indigenous populations and forest dwellers in the implementation of REDD in Africa Further it investigates potential gaps in the existing laws and how they can be addressed from a comparative point of view The book also sheds light on the roles that different actors can play in fostering change and identifies best practices in the implementation of REDD in Africa The book offers a rich intellectual resource for various actors in the environmental science climate and environmental law fields who are often confronted with the challenge of how to manage the delicate balance of forests as a development resource forests as a climate change mitigation resource and forests as a catalyst for the rights of vulnerable populations The book responds to the imbalance and gaps in REDD scholarship Addressing such lacuna in an edited volume of this nature is essential to the present and future work of practitioners academics and other actors with a sustained interest in REDD in Africa
