Legal Writing from the Top Down: Better Writing for Lawyers (2nd Ed.) Timothy Perrin, 2010-04-28 Legal Writing from the Top Down is the renamed and thoroughly revised second edition of Timothy Perrin's best selling Better Writing for Lawyers The original book published by the Law Society of Upper Canada Ontario in 1990 was required reading for every new lawyer in that province It has been licensed for use in courses as far afield as Singapore Hong Kong and Australia This new edition incorporates new research on how to write effectively and new tools you can use to become a better more persuasive lawyer Canadian Reference Sources Mary E. Bond, Martine M. Caron, 1996 This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sources that describe Canadian people institutions organizations publications art literature languages and history It lists books of a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities These large divisions are then broken down by subject genre type of document and province or territory Titles of national provincial territorial or regional interest are included in every subject area when available The contents of the book are indexed four ways by name title French subject and English subject And to facilitate browsing the major reference books those dealing with more than one subject or a large geographical region are also cross referenced Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada's official languages Entries for unilingual works include citation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content arrangements and indexing of works the availability of non print formats previous editions and title changes and related works Canadian Reference Sources will be an invaluable reference tool for future scholars and researchers

Geological Survey of Canada, Open File 3600 , English Around the World Jenny Cheshire, 1991-04-26 The social development of English as a world language emerges from a comprehensive account of our current knowledge of it as well as the gaps in understanding which future research can remedy Weaving a Canadian Allegory Loretta Czernis, 2009-12-01 Loretta Czernis applies her sociological training in document analysis to study one government prescription for what ails Canadians The Report of the Task Force on Canadian Unity rewrote Canada by reinventing patriotism essentially inviting Canadians to imagine a new Canada The Report itself is the product of what she calls the federal writing machine which exists to continually rewrite and thus reinvent Canada Czernis contextual reading of the Report occurs on two levels reading technically she examines the Report's anonymous writing style that asks readers to imitate its own conclusions be patriotic buy a flag shop at home Gestural reading invites reading as performance Canadians are invited to participate in reshaping Canada by reading Canada allegorically as a social body capable of changing its form What a document may intend is not always the same as what is read into it Mistakes can and do occur in the reading Czernis suggests that these mistakes constitute a significant form of resistance to the anonymous writing machine Weaving a Canadian Allegory will be of special interest to Canadianists sociologists and to those involved in cultural political and textual studies Focus on Canada Sandra Clarke, 1993-11-04 Although varieties of North American English have come in for a good deal of linguistic scrutiny in recent years the vast majority of published works have dealt with American rather than Canadian English This volume constitutes a welcome addition to our linguistic knowledge of English speaking Canada While the focus of the volume is primarily synchronic several of the dozen papers it contains offer a diachronic perspective on Canadian English Topics range from general issues in Canadian lexicography and orthography to sociolinguistic studies of varieties of English spoken in all major geographical areas of the country Atlantic Canada Ontario Quebec and the West A theme common to many of the articles is the relationship of Canadian English to American varieties to the south
