Creative Communication and Discussion Activities Yvette Nelson,1991 Speech Communication Activities, K-12
Ellen M. Ritter,1979 Co-Creative Communication in George Herbert and John Donne Sara Rogalski,2025-03-17
This study examines the co creative relationship between speakers hearers and God in poetry and prose by George Herbert and John Donne Through analyses of communicative situations communicative interactions and reflections on communication models of communication are established that underlie the texts selected In particular the activity of hearing is shown to be considered essential to the constitution of a meaningful utterance In this way a key function of communication becomes apparent it can yield a range of creative products from the conversation itself to a literary artefact and its extratextual effects This study thus offers a new reading of the texts of George Herbert and John Donne and provides a clear perspective on how early modern religious texts regarded communication and co creativity as connected concepts Cross-Cultural Design
