Taxonomy of the birds of the world

fotolulu, 2018-10-30 How do you come up with the idea to list all the birds in the world including the subspecies and to give all birds English names? There is a reason for it, my favorite saying whose author is unknown. Everyone said that's not possible, then there was one who did not know that and just did it. I am an animal photographer and probably a little bit crazy. I've built a complete animal database for mammals and birds over the last decade. This facilitates my work in determining and archiving images and assigning keywords, especially among the many subspecies. With this book, I would like to give all birding friends and ornithologists a complete overview in English. For this, I have given unique English names to all subspecies. The naming should not meet any scientific requirements. The names are based on translations from the Latin name, geographical distribution areas, and the names of the discoverers. The entries consist of the scientific name, the English name, the distribution areas, and the author. I wish you a lot of fun with this book, but especially while watching the fascinating birdlife. fotolulu

The Malay Archipelago, the Land of the Orang-utan and the Bird of Paradise

Alfred Russel Wallace, 1877 Wildlife Ecotourism in Indonesia Jatna Supriatna, 2025-07-01 Wildlife tourism has long been a significant and popular sector. It widespread a substantial contribution to biodiversity conservation. First, it generates direct income from tourists through entrance fees, taxes, and other sources. Second, it provides alternative income for communities surrounding tourism areas. Third, it offers a basis for environmental activists to advocate for the preservation of Indonesia's biodiversity. Fourth, it supports both central and regional governments in developing sustainable and continuous areas. Fifth, it creates economically based activities in conservation regions for the private sector involved in biodiversity conservation. Thus, nature tourism is often regarded as sustainable development that effectively balances environmental, social, and economic aspects.

Faunal and Floral Migration and Evolution in SE Asia-Australasia

Ian Metcalfe, Jeremy M.B. Smith, Mike Morwood, Iain Davidson, 2001-06-01 This multidisciplinary book focuses on the relationships and interactions between palaeobiogeography, biogeography, dispersal, vicariance, migrations, and evolution of organisms in the SE Asia Australasian region. The book investigates biogeographic links between SE Asia and Australasia which go back more than 500 million years. It also focuses on the links between geological evolution and biological migrations and evolution in the region. It was in the SE Asian region that Alfred Russell Wallace established his biogeographic line, now known as Wallace's Line, which was the beginning of biogeography. Wallace also independently developed his theory of evolution based on his work in this area. The book brings together for the first time geologists, palaeontologists, zoologists, botanists, entomologists, evolutionary biologists, and archaeologists in the one volume to relate the region's geological past to its present biological peculiarities.

The book is organized into six sections Section 1 Paleobiogeographic Background provides overviews of the geological and tectonic evolution of SE Asia Australasia and changing patterns of land and sea for the last 540 million years Section 2 Palaeozoic and Mesozoic Geology and Biogeography discusses Palaeozoic and Mesozoic biogeography of conodonts brachiopods plants dinosaurs and radiolarians and the recognition of ancient biogeographic boundaries or Wallace Lines in the region Section 3 Wallace s Line focuses on the biogeographic boundary established by Wallace including the history of its establishment its significance to biogeography in general and its applicability in the context of modern biogeography Section 4 Plant biogeography and evolution includes discussion on primitive angiosperms the diaspora of the southern rushes and environmental climatic and evolutionary implications of plants and palynomorphs in the region The biogeography and migration of insects butterflies birds rodents and other non primate mammals is discussed in section 5 Non Primates The final section 6 Primates focuses on the biogeographic radiation migration and evolution of primates and includes papers on the occurrence and migration of early hominids and the requirements for human colonization of Australia The Malay Archipelago the Land of the Orang-utan, and the Bird of Paradise by Alfred Russel Wallace ,1869 Birds on Fragmented Islands Sebastianus van Balen,1999
