Database Computing for Scholarly Research Sandra R. Schloen, Miller C. Prosser, 2023-12-23 This book discusses in detail a series of examples drawn from scholarly projects that use the OCHRE database platform Online Cultural and Historical Research Environment These case studies illustrate the wide range of data that can be managed with this platform and the wide variety of problems solved by OCHRE's item based graph data model The unique features and design principles of the OCHRE platform are explained and justified helping readers to imagine how the system could be used for their own data Data generated by studies in the humanities and social sciences is often semi structured fragmented highly variable and subject to many interpretations making it difficult to represent adequately in a conventional database The authors examine commonly used methods of data management in the humanities and offer a compelling argument for a different approach that takes advantage of powerful computational techniques for organizing scholarly information This book is a challenge to scholars in the humanities and social sciences asking them to expect more from technology as they pursue their research goals Written jointly by a software engineer and a research scholar each with many years of experience in applying database methods to diverse kinds of scholarly data it shows how scholars can make the most of their existing data while going beyond the limitations of commonly used software tools to represent their objects of study in a more accurate nuanced and flexible way

Authority Control in Organizing and Accessing Information Barbara Tillett, Arlene G. Taylor, 2012-12-06 International authority control will soon be a reality. Examine the projects that are moving the information science professions in that direction today. In Authority Control in Organizing and Accessing Information: Definition and International Experience, international experts examine the state of the art and explore new theoretical perspectives. This essential resource, which has its origins in the International Conference on Authority Control, Italy 2003, addresses standards, exchange formats, and metadata, with sections on authority control for names, works, and subjects. Twenty fascinating case examples show how authority control is practiced at institutions in various nations around the world. Authority Control in Organizing and Accessing Information provides an essential definition of authority control and then begins its sharply focused examinations of essential aspects of authority control with a section entitled State of the Art and New Theoretical Perspectives. Here you will find chapters focusing on the current state of the art, with suggestions for future developments, the importance and current lack of teaching authority control as part of a library information science curriculum, the guidelines and methodology used in the creation of Italy's SBN Authority File, Next Standards Exchange Formats and Metadata, covers Italy's Bibliografia Nazionale Italiana UNIMARC database, which was created using authority control principles, the past and present activities of the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA) and an examination of IFLA's Working Group on Functional Requirements and Numbering of Authority Records, FRANAR metadata standards as a means for accomplishing authority control in digital libraries, traditional international library standards for bibliographic and authority control, the evolution and current status of authority control tools for art and material culture information, the UNIMARC authorities format, what it is and how to work with it. Authority Control for Names and Works brings you useful current information on changes and new features in the new edition of the International Standard Archival Authority Record Corporate Bodies, Persons, Families, Encoded Archival Context (EAC) and its role in enhancing access to and understanding of records and how it enables repositories to share creator description, the LEAF model for collection harvesting, linking and providing access to existing local national name authority data, national bibliographic control in China, Japan, and Korea, plus suggestions for future cooperation between bibliographic agencies in East Asia, authority control of printers, publishers, and booksellers, how to create up-to-date corporate name authority records, authority control and the lack of it for works. Authority Control for Subjects updates you on subject gateways, with a look at the differences between the Program for Cooperative Cataloging's (PCC) SACO program and browsable online subject gateways, MACS, a virtual authority file that crosses language barriers to provide multilingual access, OCLC's FAST project, which strives to retain the rich vocabulary of LCSH while making the schema easier to understand, control, apply, and use the efforts of Italy's National Central Library toward semantic authority control, the interrelationship of subject

Understanding Natural Language Erik Cambria, 2024-10-22 About half a century ago AI pioneers like Marvin Minsky embarked on the ambitious project of emulating how the human mind encodes and decodes meaning While today we have a better understanding of the brain thanks to neuroscience we are still far from unlocking the secrets of the mind especially when it comes to language the prime example of human intelligence Understanding natural language understanding i e understanding how the mind encodes and decodes meaning through language is a significant milestone in our journey towards creating machines that genuinely comprehend human language Large language models LLMs such as GPT 4 have astounded us with their ability to generate coherent contextually relevant text seemingly bridging the gap between human and machine communication Yet despite their impressive capabilities these models operate on statistical patterns rather than true comprehension This textbook delves into the nuanced differences between these two paradigms and explores the future of AI as we strive to achieve true natural language understanding NLU LLMs excel at identifying and replicating patterns within vast datasets producing responses that appear intelligent and meaningful They can generate text that mimics human writing styles provide summaries of complex documents and even engage in extended dialogues with users However their limitations become evident when they encounter tasks that require deeper understanding reasoning and contextual knowledge An NLU system that deconstructs meaning leveraging linguistics and semiotics on top of statistical analysis represents a more profound level of language comprehension It involves understanding context in a manner similar to human cognition discerning subtle meanings implications and nuances that current LLMs might miss or misinterpret NLU grasps the semantics behind words and sentences comprehending synonyms metaphors idioms and abstract concepts with precision This textbook explores the current state of LLMs their capabilities and limitations and contrasts them with the aspirational goals of NLU The author delves into the technical foundations required for achieving true NLU including advanced knowledge representation hybrid AI systems and neurosymbolic integration while also examining the ethical implications and societal impacts of developing AI systems that genuinely understand human language Containing exercises a final assignment and a comprehensive quiz the textbook is meant as a reference for courses on information retrieval AI NLP data analytics data mining and more

Affective Dialogue Systems Elisabeth Andre, Laila Dybkjaer, Wolfgang Minker, Paul Heisterkamp, 2004-06-08 Human conversational partners are able at least to a certain extent to detect the speaker s or listener s emotional state and may attempt to respond to it accordingly When instead one of the interlocutors is a computer a number of questions arise such as the following To what extent are dialogue systems able to simulate such behaviors Can we learn the mechanisms of emotional behaviors from observing and analyzing the behavior of human speakers How can emotions be automatically recognized from a user s mimics gestures and speech What possibilities does a dialogue system have to express emotions itself And very importantly would emotional system behavior be desirable at all Given the state of ongoing research into incorporating emotions in dialogue systems we found it timely to organize a Tutorial and Research Workshop on Affective Dialogue Systems ADS2004 at Kloster Irsee in Germany during June 14-16 2004 After two successful ISCA Tutorial and Research Workshops on Multimodal Dialogue Systems at the same location in 1999 and 2002 we felt that a workshop focusing on the role of affect in dialogue would be a valuable continuation of the workshop series Due to its interdisciplinary nature the workshop attracted submissions from researchers with very different backgrounds and from many different research areas working on for example dialogue processing speech recognition speech synthesis embodied conversational agents computer graphics animation user modelling tutoring systems cognitive systems and human computer interaction
